

PATRICIA MCCORKLE

Founder, McCorkle Casting

One of the preeminent casting companies in the United States, McCorkle Casting has handled hundreds of projects in film, television and theater. Founded by Patricia McCorkle, the company has earned a reputation for energy, creativity, and the keen ability to translate a director's vision into reality. Having cast everything from Hollywood big budget films to small regional theaters, McCorkle Casting has developed a vast talent network extending from working stage actors to A-listers. The company has also developed a name for bold and unexpected ideas and for the discovery of new talent. Several of McCorkle Casting's productions have garnered SAG, ACE, Tony, and Emmy awards/nominations. A few highlights of McCorkle Casting's track record include Linda Hunt's Oscar-winning role in The Year of Living Dangerously; the pool of undiscovered young actors - Ben Affleck, Matt Damon, Brendan Fraser, and Chris O'Donnell - selected for Stanley Jaffe's School Ties; and a long list of people who were "tagged" by McCorkle early in their careers, including Holly Hunter, Samuel L. Jackson, Skeet Ulrich, and Calista Flockhart. www.mccorklecasting.com
