Announcement: Franklinton Wellness Walk

Join Mount Carmel Healthy Living Center to commemorate Franklinton's 225th anniversary with a historical walking tour of the neighborhood on Tuesday, October 18th at 9AM. Led by a representative from the Franklinton Historical Society, we will be visiting various sites in the neighborhood and learning about their significance for Franklinton today. We will start at the Healthy Living Center and walk for a total of about 1.5 miles. Please wear walking shoes and dress for the weather. In the event of inclement weather, we will delay walk by one week.

Registration is required. To register, please email healthylivingcenter@mchs.com or visit: <http://www.mountcarmelhealth.com/hlc>.

Announcement: Tales From The Crypt

Join the Green Lawn Abbey for Tales from the Crypt. Nettie Redman, ex-wife of Columbus Mausoleum Company founder E.E. Redman, will be joining this year, along with Alexander Gaal, Charles Foster Johnson, C.J. Penfield, Lewis Sells, and additional residents that are eager to tell you their tale. Jack-O-Lanterns will be greeting you on the steps while candles will be setting the mood inside. This is an adult program with outside stairs to the 2nd floor. Please dress warmly and light refreshments will be provided. Tickets are $20.00, and 100% of proceeds will be used for Abbey Restoration. Showtimes include Friday, October 28th at 7PM and 8:30PM; and Saturday, October 29th at 7:30PM.

Reserve your ticket online: <https://greenlawnabbey.org/event/tales-from-the-crypt/>.

Program Opportunity for Youth: The FRANK Project

The FRANK Project is a non-profit off-shoot of Franklinton Press, a screen-printing company in Franklinton. They run 10-week program, targeted to underserved Columbus youth, allows participants to gain business experience through the screen-printing process. They show the process from start to finish, teaching business and creative skills along the way through classes, workshops, and events. The ultimate program goal is for students to create their own brand with products available for sale to the public. The program provides a community incubator that supports and motivates entrepreneurial young adults in Columbus on their path to becoming creative powerhouses. They provide an opportunity, to those that may not have one otherwise, to become a professional artist, designer, creative, and/or business owner.

Interested in applying to the program, or learning more? Visit: <https://thefrankproject.org/>.

Program Opportunity: Your Employment Success (YES)

Registration is open for New Directions' YES Program. The course is October 11th - November 17th. YES (Your Employment Success) is designed by women for women. It is New Directions Career Center's signature career development program. The course offering is delivered in both a virtual and in-person classroom. The program is completely free.

- Participants are given support to identify their employment needs and develop a customized career plan that works for them.
- The holistic curriculum focuses on four components: 1) goal setting, 2) career exploration, 3) self-marketing, and 4) self-compassion.
- And it all takes place in a supportive, inclusive, and affirming small-group environment that cultivates belonging.
