About Tribeca Art+Culture Night

Tribeca Art+Culture Night is a downtown festival that celebrates the arts at large in Tribeca and takes place in 30 multiple and diverse spaces. It is free and open to the public. The event presents a program of events like a FESTIVAL, showcases venues/organizations like an OPEN ART FAIR, unlocks spaces to the public like an OPEN HOUSE, and offers curated guided-tours showcasing exhibitions like an ART WALK.

It is also an ART MARATHON. Attendees can choose their own adventure mixing exhibitions with workshops, talks, demonstrations and performances. In just 3 hours, from 6-9 PM, visitors join together to attend a curator-led tour, learn a new skill in a creative workshop, watch a live dance performance, and discover the unexpected in a contemporary gallery they may have never found otherwise. TAC Night is an adventurous playground showcasing artists, performers, curators, scientists, chefs, wellness experts, musician, designers, authors, thought leaders and makers.

Each festival runs quarterly and its content changes for every edition. The festival's upcoming dates in 2019-20 are: June 20 and November 14.

The TAC Festival, founded and curated by Jennifer Famery-Mariani, has featured over 1000 artists, 180 exhibitions, 90 art venues and 80 special events since its inception in 2016. The festival serves an average of 10,000 people a year with over 2500 attending each of the four editions.

Highlights of previous editions include a display of 150 works on paper by Andy Warhol from the period 1950-80's, most of which have never been shown in the United States (NYAA), a literary workshop "how to write a 10 min play" (Flea Theater), a neon making demonstration (Let There Be Neon), a one time performance of "Audience for one" by Jody Oberfelder (Franklin St.), a live painting performance by Muffinhead (Festival Hub), the reveal of the Bronx Museum's newly opened artist-in-residence space (AIM – Block Gallery), a poetry reading by Max Blagg (Duane Park), a collector's talk with art dealer Stefania Bortolami (Bortolami Gallery), an Afro-Dance workshop with Angel Kaba (Festival Hub), a knife sharpening workshop (Best Made), a paper cutting performance with artist Xin Song (Pearl River Gallery), a private tour of Daniel Buren's in situ installation (Bortolami), a perfume making workshop (Sue Phillips), an itinerant dance performance with BC+A (Alexander and Bonin), a puppeteer workshop (Flea Theater), a live classical performance with Jung Sun Kang x Sing for Hope Pianos (Tribeca Park), a theatrical performance of "Electric Awakening" by Dennis Yueh Yee Lee & the Living Theatre (Church St. School), a guided tour led by Art Frankly Founder Karline Moeller and Mana Contemporary's Curatorial Director Ysabel Pinyol, and so much more!

Diversity and exploration are the key words for our festival starting with the incredible variety of types of venues featured, through the different event formats available for the public to engage with art, to the range of content available during the festival.

Tribeca Art+Culture Night embodies the next generation of art engagement. It supports artists and art organizations, connects them with the public in intimate, experimental, and generative ways. The Festival strives to facilitate the access to Art and connects creatives beyond pre-established cultural categories. It aims to stimulate ideas, imagination, and innovation in the downtown communities.
