

F-STOP

Thomas Roma, Untitled For three years, Thomas Roma, a resident of Windsor Terrace and professor of art and director of photography at Columbia University, rode the elevated trains that terminate in Coney Island, photographing riders. These images will be published next winter in a book titled Higher Ground.