"We wish you a wonderful holiday season and we deeply appreciate your support towards the fine arts and The Rachel Molly Markoff Foundation for pediatric cancer research." Gary and Eliane Markoff

BioMed Realty's Collaborative Team Building Workshop

"Everyone who participated in Audrey's mosaic workshop had an excellent time. The event not only served to strengthen our team, but it also supported pediatric cancer research through Art in Giving. While I'm looking forward to seeing the finished product, the mosaic certainly isn't the only beautiful thing that will come out of the event." Isabel Acuna, Director of Development.

"It was an honor to facilitate so many people that work together from different teams and different companies collaborating on a different type of creative project. Watching the conversation and networking among these groups that rarely see each other face to face made me feel like part of the team too! It was evident they are all passionate about their work and now they all share this additional Creative bonding experience that will represent years of planning and hard work on such a significant piece of architecture. Something they can look back on fondly for a long time and recall the power of working together." Audrey Markoff Dunn

"We are honored to host Art in Giving at Cliff House Maine this year as part of our global celebration of art programming. Both Eliane and Gary curated a gallery consisting of spectacular artwork from highly talented artists. The mission of Art in Giving touches all hearts and emulates what being the best for the world represents." Nancy White- Managing Director at Cliff House.

Adriana G. Prat

"I create while reflecting on the brutality of the man-made environmental disruption, using reclaimed materials for a more sustainable art practice. My non-representational work often evokes maps, geographies, adapting under the endless pressure of exploitation and climate change: Imagined topographies that act as reminders of what we need to save."

Silvina Mizrahi

"My work is rooted in the belief that art connects, heals, and celebrates our differences. I thrive on experimenting with diverse media and techniques to authentically express each project's essence."

As artists, we create imaginary sanctuaries—embarking on transformative inner journeys that let us momentarily escape reality, only to return revitalized."
