This week in Pre-K

We had another great week in Pre-K. Each class is doing a great job at following our rules and routines. We are still having a little trouble with everyone helping at cleanup time, but each day we are getting better. Starting next week, I will begin marking behavior calendars.

This week we learned about the color yellow and the letter C. We made caterpillars with our names and corn at our small group time. We also enjoyed listening to several Clifford The Big Red Dog books.

Next week, we will learn about the color pink and the letter Gg for Grandparent's day. This Sunday, September 10th is National Grandparent's day. We will read books about grandparents. Friday, September 15th, we are asking all our Pre-K friends to wear pink for the day or at least something that has pink on it.

Class Dojo

Mrs. DeLahr's class is now on ClassDojo. This is a great way to ask questions and to communicate. If you did not get your sign up information at Open House last night, it will be in your child's folder today. When you sign up please make sure you sign up for your child's class either A.M. or P.M.
