The Beginning

On my first day of eaching in Philadelphia, I was fired. The day started on a school bus in Philadelphia, at that time, for my first year. I decided to teach in the Urban School District of Philadelphia. I was teaching as a teaching assistant in a high school. Since I had no teaching experience, I decided to take a year off before I started teaching. I had never taught before, but I had a passion for education. I was lucky to be able to teach in Philadelphia, but it was not an easy decision. I had to compromise my passion for teaching with the pressures of the urban school system. I had to make difficult decisions, and I realized that I was not cut out for this kind of work. I decided to go back to school to get my teaching degree.

Lyricente Mawhinney
Return as a Professor
Coming Home as an Urban Teacher

Lyricente Mawhinney is an assistant professor at West Chester University. Her research is on urban education and how to provide meaningful learning experiences for both urban teachers and students.
The Urban Seminar: Providing the Way Back Home

For urban and all students.

Although I was provided this great opportunity to further my education...
Recruiting for the Urban Seminar

Janis V. Floyd

For Urban and All Students

(Atlantic Highlands, New Jersey)

The process of recruiting for the Urban Seminar is an essential component of our mission at the college and it also strengthens the unique educational opportunities we offer. The seminar is designed to attract students from diverse backgrounds, experiences, and languages.

Recruiting for the Urban Seminar

The Urban Seminar is an innovative program that provides students with the opportunity to gain real-world experience in urban settings. Our recruitment efforts are geared towards attracting students who are passionate about urban issues and who can benefit from the unique experiences offered by the program.

Our Stories in Philadelphia

We have a strong commitment to recruiting students from Philadelphia and the surrounding areas. Our recruitment efforts are focused on identifying students who are interested in urban issues and who can contribute to the vibrant community of the Urban Seminar.

We are dedicated to finding the right students to join our program. Our recruitment efforts are guided by our belief in the power of education to transform lives and create positive change in urban communities. We are committed to creating a diverse and inclusive community of learners who can work together to address the challenges facing our cities.

Our Stories in Philadelphia

We believe that education is a tool for social change and that it has the power to transform lives. Our recruitment efforts are focused on identifying students who share our commitment to making a difference in the world.

We are committed to recruiting students who can contribute to the diverse and dynamic community of learners in the Urban Seminar. We are dedicated to creating an inclusive and supportive environment where students can learn and grow together.

In summary, our recruitment efforts are guided by our commitment to creating a diverse and inclusive community of learners who can work together to address the challenges facing our cities. We are dedicated to finding the right students to join our program and we are excited about the opportunities for growth and learning that the Urban Seminar offers.

For Urban and All Students