“It is so important for us to recognize and honor those who lost their lives, and those who served, during and after the tragic events of September 11,” Veterans Outreach Center Executive Director and U.S. Army Veteran Laura Stradley said. “With more than 2,000 lives lost the day of the attack, it is our duty to ensure that everyone who was touched by this event never be forgotten. Not just our military men and women, but the first responders—the police officers, EMTs, firefighters, and everyone else who ran toward danger to help others get to safety.”
