Disrupt Diabetes.
A patient-led, multi-stakeholder design challenge

Pitch Presentations
May 20, 2018
3:30 - 5:30pm
Li Ka Shing Center

Our pitch session is open to everyone!

Why DD?
To create the most disruptive diabetes solutions, patients must be in the driver's seat, steering conversations towards the community's most pressing needs.

However, they can't do this alone. Disrupt Diabetes brings patients, designers, physicians, students to the same table, harnessing the expertise and experiences of each stakeholder to create meaningful progress in diabetes innovation.

What?
Disrupt Diabetes is a 3-month long initiative created to bring the best and brightest together to solve problems that patients identify as most compelling. It culminates in a day-long design sprint on May 20th at the Stanford School of Medicine.

Visit disruptdiabetes2018.com for more information.

Have questions? Contact us at disruptdiabetes@gmail.com.