The COVID-19 pandemic has highlighted the need to bolster economic supports, access to affordable housing, and other fundamental necessities in low-income and minoritized communities. Cal-IHEA hopes to continue this dialogue by highlighting how these interventions can serve as primary and equity-focused primary preventative measures for family and community violence, while also protecting and supporting survivors of violence in California, especially in communities of color.

Kanwarpal Dhaliwal
Associate Director, RYSE
Panelist

John Finley
Policy Associate, CALCASA
Panelist

Anita Raj
Professor, UC San Diego
Panelist

Michael Lens
Professor, UCLA
Panelist

Erin Kerrison
Professor, UC Berkeley
Moderator

REGISTER HERE: HTTPS://TINYURL.COM/DVIPVBRIEFING