Kelly Wahlquist

Why the Church Needs WINE: Women In the New Evangelization

Pope Francis proclaimed that women make an indispensable contribution to the Church and to society. In essence, he was saying the Church needs WINE: Women In the New Evangelization! So, what is this distinctive skill set that we women tend to possess that makes us indispensable? With wit and wisdom, Kelly Wahlquist will show how you can embrace your "feminine genius" and live your faith with renewed confidence, with conviction and hope.

Kitty Cleveland

Mirror Mirror: Seeing My Reflection As God Sees Me

Kitty sheds all her "outer garments" and lays her vulnerability before us all in a powerful and transformative testimony that reveals how she emerged after 40 years in the desert of dieting and body-loathing with joy and confidence. She will keep us laughing [so we don't cry] as she reveals her journey to know herself as the beloved daughter of our Father. You will never forget her message or her transparency.

Sarah Christmyer

Come to the Well

The Samaritan Woman in John 4 was drawn to Jesus by his love . . . and sent away on fire! What happened between the drawing and the sending made all the difference in her life, and it can make a difference in yours. Sarah Christmyer invites you to "Come to the Well" and learn from this woman's transformative encounter with the Lord.

Teresa Tomeo

From Secular Anchor to Media Evangelist: How I Found Myself By Losing Myself to Christ.

Syndicated Catholic talk show host and best-selling Catholic Author Teresa Tomeo, shares her amazing journey from the competitive, hard driving news business, into full-time Catholic evangelism. How did a successful secular journalist who thought she had found her calling discover her true mission in life by abandoning everything the world promised would bring happiness? Teresa has some surprising answers to that question as she takes you along a very rugged path filled with ups, downs, twists, turns, but never a dull moment as she made her way back to the Catholic Church.
