

CENTER FOR ONLINE EVANGELISM

INTERNS NEEDED

WHAT IS THE CENTER FOR ONLINE EVANGELISM?

The Center for Online Evangelism (COE) operates as a full-service digital marketing agency for Seventh-day Adventist churches, schools and ministries. This also allows the Center to exist as a think-tank, providing our denomination with the latest information, best practices and training for those that work in the online mission field through their local church or school websites. COE headquarters is in Grants Pass, Oregon but our workers and volunteers work from various locations in the United States and around the world.

WHAT DO WE DO?

Since we use an online platform, our work is continuously evolving. We not only create websites for Adventist schools, church, conferences, and businesses, but we develop and implement strategies for them to boost their online presence. We are also dedicated to creating online resources for persons interested in becoming online missionaries. Our blog serves as an information station for digital workers to improve their marketing techniques and learn best practices.

HOW WILL THIS WORK?

Interns can work based on the number of hours that they need. Our company is online which allows interns to work from their location. Hours are flexible and can be arranged around classes and assignments. Our professionals are able to work alongside them as mentors and help them hone skills. COE also owns and operates a commercial digital marketing agency which will allow interns to gain experience with a wider variety of projects.

WHY COE?

Almost half of the world's population is online. Because of this, companies are becoming increasingly more digital and are giving priority to workers who have experience in the digital field. With COE, students will have the opportunity to put their skills to the test and have projects to add to their portfolio when they enter the job market. When searching for a job, experience is highly valued – a COE Internship provides students with experience that they need to give them a step above the rest. At this moment, we only have unpaid internship positions available.
