Subscribe to our newsletter to stay informed of new membership and updates.

We're excited to announce the opening of our new membership program, aimed at driving people to your galleries and online stores. This is time sensitive, so let's work together to make the most of it.

We want to set up a dedicated newsletter to sell your own original merchandise. Please let us know if you're interested.

We look forward to welcoming the best of the holiday season with you! Expect live entertainment, yuletide treats and libations, and Father Christmas! Sunday afternoons in December. There are holiday activities for all ages, including the one-and-only "Christmas Eve." Enjoy the aroma of roasted chestnuts filling the air, along with the cries of street vendors hawking their wares and lamp-lit streets filled with Christmas treasures. It's the perfect setting for festive cheer.

Get your tickets for the intimate Stone Hall show! Doors open at 6:00 p.m. and the show begins at 7:00 p.m. in the beautiful and cozy and intimate Stone Hall. Enjoy our full bar and cozy up with someone you love while listening to Cassidy Joy's powerful vocals.

Cassidy Joy will be joined by Brent Leever on the piano and Kellie Garmire on vocals. Enjoy an intimate show with a full bar and cozy atmosphere.

Artemis Arthur, a Nevada City vocalist, has released a pop-soul memoir. She dances through the streets of historic Nevada City, cinema video, and the streets. Artemis's lyrics appear as windows into past experiences, much like a mini interior. Comforting words from a song about breaking up. Because in Artemis Arthur's world, love will never be alone, alone. Love won't leave you alone.

GVNC Culture Connection asked Artemis about the inspiration behind the album. "I experienced homelessness between 2012–2016, " says Artemis. It literally became a continuous shot. Low budget, low stress. It was done in two-and-half hours.

"I ended up having children during that experience. It was hell. " Artemis continues. "I decided I needed to do something for myself. "

For arts organizations and businesses, re-opening amidst the pandemic can feel like a dream. But it's important to take the time to plan and remember that your community is waiting.

"I experienced homelessness between 2012–2016, " says Artemis. It literally became a continuous shot. Low budget, low stress. It was done in two-and-half hours.

"I ended up having children during that experience. It was hell. " Artemis continues. "I decided I needed to do something for myself. "

"I experienced homelessness between 2012–2016, " says Artemis. It literally became a continuous shot. Low budget, low stress. It was done in two-and-half hours.

"I ended up having children during that experience. It was hell. " Artemis continues. "I decided I needed to do something for myself. "

The exhibition runs from December 10, 2021 to June 2022 and features the work of nineteen artists from around the country. Visitors will see a visual representation of how, why and what will grown into an immersive, multimedia exhibit featuring nineteen artists from across the country. Visitors will see a visual representation of how, why and what will grown into an immersive, multimedia exhibit featuring nineteen artists from across the country. Visitors will see a visual representation of how, why and what will grown into an immersive, multimedia exhibit featuring nineteen artists from across the country. Visitors will see a visual representation of how, why and what will grown into an immersive, multimedia exhibit featuring nineteen artists from across the country.

Huge fabric tree trunks dominate the ceiling-scape at the Truckee Community Recreation Center, 10981 Truckee Way, Truckee, CA 96161. The Center for the Arts, 314 W. Main St., Grass Valley, CA 95945.