Double-Degree Program: Waseda Students to Earlham College

Overview
3 or 4 semesters at Waseda, 4 semesters at Earlham, 2 or 3 semesters at Waseda (10 semesters)
Completion of the entire 5-year, double-degree program required to receive an Earlham degree
Credits at Earlham college: 64 semester hours (4 semesters on campus)

Possible Majors
- English Literature
- International Studies
- Physics
- Peace and Global Studies

- Applicants must complete 3 or 4 semesters at Waseda prior to enrollment at Earlham
- TOEFL minimum: 580 paper/92 IBT/237CBT
- Waseda GPA: 3.0 minimum

Application Process
Application and selection at Waseda
   Deadline and procedures to be determined by Waseda, usually December

Application and selection at Earlham
   Application Materials Due February 1
      Common Application (College Board)
      International Students Certification of Finances (College Board)
      TOEFL
      Waseda University Transcripts
      Letters of recommendation (2)
      Find out if you are Admitted by: April 1
      Pay your Enrollment Deposit by: May 1

- Tuition and Fees (based on current year’s fees, so approximate for future years)
- Tuition: USD 22750 (50% of tuition already waived by Earlham)
- Additional Charges: Room, board, mandatory fees
- Administrative Fee: USD 1500

Curriculum
Waseda students must complete courses in general education and in their major area of study. The lists below are guidelines; the exact requirements will be determined in discussions between the student and the faculty advisor. Additional information about courses, general education, and major requirements is available on the Earlham website.

General Education Courses
   At Waseda (prior to enrollment at Earlham)
      • First-year seminar course emphasizing reading and writing in English
   At Earlham (common courses to all majors listed below)
      • Writing Intensive (3 credits)
• Domestic Diversity (3 or 4 credits)
• Divisional Requirements: Students are expected to complete six credits in each academic division of the College (Humanities, Natural Sciences, Social Sciences, Visual and Performing Arts)
  • Wellness (4 courses)

Majors and Courses

Note: In the lists below, one Earlham course equals 3 to 5 semester hours of credit.

English Literature Major

At Waseda prior to enrollment at Earlham
  • U.S., British, or post-colonial literature in original English (2 courses)
  • History: U.S. or European (1 course)

At Earlham (32 credits)
  • Foundations of Literary Study/ENG 302 (1 course)
  • Five other English courses 300-level or above; at least one from each:
  • Peace and Justice (ENG 350, 351, 353, 358, 364, 463)
  • Theoretical Approaches (ENG 369, 370, 371, 372)
  • Genre (ENG 378, 379, 380, 382, 383, 384, 386, 387)
  • Research Seminar in English Literature/ENG 401 (1 course)
  • Senior Capstone Experience/ENG 488 (1 course)

International Studies Major

At Waseda prior to enrollment at Earlham (or equivalent)
  • Macroeconomics (1 course)
  • Microeconomics (1 course)
  • Introduction to Political Science (1 course)
  • Statistics (1 course)

At Earlham (28 to 32 credits)
  • Introduction to Politics/Diplomacy/International Studies (1 course)
  • Sociolinguistics or Philosophy of Language (1 course)
  • Upper-level research methodology in history and political science (2 courses)
  • Economics, Politics, and History (4 courses; one of each plus a fourth)
  • Senior Capstone Experience: Research Seminar (1 course)

Peace & Global Studies Major

At Waseda prior to enrollment at Earlham
  • Macroeconomics (1 course)
  • Intro to Political Science (1 course)

At Earlham (7 courses total; 21-26 credits)
  • Intro to Diplomacy (PAGS 270) (1 course)
  • Global Dynamics & World Peace (PAGS 240) (1 course)

• Three, 300-level courses, below are current examples of current options (3 courses):
  a) Theories of International Relations (PAGS 371);
  b) International Law (PAGS 372 or 373);
  c) Postcolonial Theory (PAGS 330);
  d) Conflict Resolution (PAGS 343);
  e) Latin American History to 1825 (PAGS 353);
Physics Major

At Waseda prior to enrollment at Earlham
- Calculus (2 courses)
- Differential Equations or Multivariate Calculus (1 course)
- Calculus-based Introductory Physics (1 course)

At Earlham (22-23 credits)
- Differential Equations or Multivariate Calculus (1 course) (whichever one was not taken before)
- Physics (5 courses)
- Senior Seminar and Senior Capstone Experience (2 courses)

Co-curricular Opportunities
Sports, fine arts, community service, outdoor education, May Term, and other opportunities

Additional Considerations

1. Waseda students will not be able to participate in any of Earlham’s semester-long study-abroad programs during their 4 semesters, although they would be eligible to enroll in May Term and other programs offered during spring, summer, and semester breaks when classes are not in session. Some of these programs such as May Term require additional tuition and fees; others such as outdoor education and service learning programs are made available to students at minimal cost.

2. Earlham is not able to provide employment or housing options between academic years--from early May through mid-August.

3. Waseda students should begin their 4 semesters at Earlham in the Fall Semester in order to take advantage of various new-student orientation programs.

4. Waseda double-degree students must remain in good academic standing as defined by Earlham College and make progress toward completion of their program in 4 semesters in order to continue to receive their 50% tuition scholarship. (表記の授業料 USD23294 は、50% tuition scholarship によって減額された金額です）

5. The Earlham College diploma would be issued after the student completes all requirements for the Waseda and Earlham degrees, although Waseda students will be able to participate in Earlham graduation ceremonies at the end of their 4 semesters.