Dear Friends,

Quincy Asian Resources, Inc. (QARI) is proud to continue providing mission driven services and programs to the Asian and immigrant community in Quincy and the greater Boston area. During the past year, QARI increased its capacity to meet these social needs. Overall, our year has been defined by an evolution in quality and mobility of our outreach, all without compromising our integrity. In these moments of success, we are thankful for the support we receive from our colleagues, strategic partners, clients, volunteers, community members who have made these achievements possible.

In FY2019, we completed over 15,000 service transactions across the board, serving immigrant clients from Quincy and across Massachusetts through our Adult Education, Youth Development, Family & Community Services, and Workforce Enterprise programs. Additionally, our close partnerships with the City of Quincy and Quincy Public Schools have continued to provide pathways for many families and students to flourish. Recognizing the steady growth of immigrant needs in the North Quincy neighborhood, we responded by opening, with the support from South Shore Bank, our first street level community center that expands our family-oriented services and programs to new arrivals. Meanwhile, we have invested further resources into senior services, including outreach to elder populations living in Quincy Public Housing and field trips sponsored by Tufts Health Plan Foundation.

Workforce Enterprise has become an innovative force that redefines social services delivery. After its initial launch in partnership with the MBTA/MassDOT, QARI has ventured into workforce initiatives in various sectors, such as healthcare, higher education, health insurance, fashion, and manufacturing. Workforce Enterprise partners with socially-oriented organizations looking to expand their impact and services in the growing immigrant community. These strategic partnerships are defined by QARI's onsite provisions of immigrant skill training and integrated social services. This unique initiative has helped QARI secure substantial funding from the EGL Foundation, which generosity returns to our philanthropic venture fund that empowers Asian and immigrant populations in achieving upward mobility.

After this incredible year, QARI renews its commitment to our clients and community by providing the same, high-quality services and programs with increased efficiency and sustainability. We are excited for new changes on the horizon and are grateful for the support of the City of Quincy, QARI staff, volunteers, and Board of Directors, clients, and community sponsors. As we reflect on our history, we take pride in our shared vision of immigrants helping immigrants.

Our multilingual outreach services are a staple of our programming. They are designed to support immigrant families with culturally and linguistically competent services, connecting them with the information and resources that they need until they achieve self-sufficiency. Our team works very hard to provide individuals and their family members with various pathways to help them navigate all different issues and needs. For many newcomers to the area, QARI is one of their first stops. We help clients to understand and access such systems in healthcare, insurance, childcare, public school, finding jobs, tax assistance, food stamps, low-income housing, and many more. With deep ties to the local community, QARI is the “go-to” center for Asians and other immigrants. Known among the community by simply our street number, 1509, QARI has a reputation that leads clients to us: a friend says to a newly arrived friend, "Oh, go to 1509. They can help you with that!"

SPOTLIGHT

Client's Name: Akila

Akila works in a Japanese restaurant. Every time Akila comes to QARI, he will bring food from the restaurant to the staff. It is a way to show his appreciation. QARI’s Family & Community Services team has helped Akila by answering housing questions, translating letters, making phone calls, and getting college information for his son. Akila is always grateful to QARI services and the support we provide to him and his family.

“QARI’s Family & Community Services team is always there for me whenever I have any problems, no matter how long it takes.” — Akila

CARING FOR SENIORS

With the continued support from our funders, including the Boston Foundation and Tufts Health Plan Foundation, QARI continues providing various services and programs to ensure our seniors are being taken care of. We have weekly outreach services to seniors in public housing to answer their questions and provide support to their needs. The Family & Community Services team plans and organizes free quarterly field trips, Survival English, Chinese painting, and tai chi classes for hundreds of seniors to maintain an active and engaging lifestyle. We also help our clients access free cancer screening in partnership with South Shore Health, Dana Farber, Brigham & Women’s Hospital.

SCALING & MOBILIZING OUR SERVICES

Immigrants face many barriers including language, culture, transportation, housing, social economics, isolation, and healthcare for them to access various social and adult education services and programs. In order to scale and expand our outreach, we mobilize our services at different locations in partnership with our strategic partners, such as Quincy Public Schools, Quincy Housing Authority, Germantown Neighborhood Center, etc.

Immigrant Success Stories at QARI

Two active participants in QARI’s Adult Education classes, as well as F&CS activities, are Liying Wang and Liang Tian. Liang and Liying arrived in the U.S. from China in August of 2018 with mixed feelings. “We came to the United States with conflicting feelings—on the one hand, we were very happy to be reunited with our daughter. However, because we were older, had a limited English foundation, and had little knowledge of American society...we also had a sense of loneliness and fear. We did not feel confident about life in the United States.” Liang and Liying became involved in QARI classes shortly after their arrival in the U.S. Starting from level 0, a complete beginner English class, they have quickly progressed all the way through level 1. “Learning has helped us adapt to life problems, such as shopping in the store, taking the bus, and the subway.” When asked to describe QARI's dedicated teachers, Liying and Liang had the following to say: “QARI's teachers are very good. They are very compassionate and patient with the students, just like close friends, inspiring us to overcome difficulties and study hard.”

Liying and Liang are also active participants in QARI's F&CS activities. They have gained confidence and knowledge of the U.S. culture by attending free medical screenings, field trips to Boston, and more. “QARI is also the first social organization we contacted in the U.S...we met many new students and new friends at QARI. Most of them are from China, and there are also students from countries such as Vietnam and Brazil. We often party together, become friends, help each other, and gradually eliminate the strangeness of living in the U.S.”

When asked about their favorite QARI memory, Liying and Liang recounted the following. “When I first signed up for QARI, I saw some senior people who were very old and had no English ability and were having some problems in their lives. QARI's teachers and staff were full of enthusiasm and patience in helping them solve their problems. It makes me feel that there are no obstacles in our lives in a foreign country with QARI around. I really appreciate QARI, and want to thank QARI's teachers and staff, for your help and services. We learned the language through the QARI platform, improved our living ability, better understood the U.S. culture, and learned about the enthusiastic and happy American people, which enabled us to grow our confidence and strengthen our ability to live in the states. We love QARI, love the United States, and love QARI teachers.” We hope to see many students continue to flourish in the way that Liying and Liang have blossomed in the QARI community!

Youth Development

PROGRAMS

- Youth Mentoring Program
- Youth Leadership Program
- College Preparation Workshops
- Career Readiness Program
- Youth Community Volunteering Program
- Scholarship Program
Introduction

QARI’s youth programs are designed to provide opportunities for QARI’s Youth ServiceCorps volunteers and local youth in various nurturing pathways to develop their leadership and soft skills to be the next generation leaders. Throughout the last 9 years, thousands of youth have participated in our volunteer activities, leadership opportunities in our Boards and Reps, developmental workshops, and many much more. In order to continue with this mission, we have increased our program’s reach into the community. Here are some highlights from the programs this year.

Youth ServiceCorps (YSC)

There was 31 high school youth from North Quincy, Quincy, Braintree, Boston College, and other high schools serving as Youth Boards and Representatives. Our youth leaders strengthened QARI’s relationships with partners like ACDC and CYI through collaborative projects focusing on engaging the immigrant community. They successfully launched multiple projects and workshops that educated and served the needs of YSC youth. They organized over 15 volunteer events ranging from our August Moon Festival to the Greater Boston Food Bank for our YSC youth. A total of 309 Youth ServiceCorps volunteers from more than 5 Massachusetts high schools invested 11,160 hours from June of 2018 to May of 2019 in our community.

Youth Spotlight: Angel Kuang, Senior Braintree High School - Youth Representative Leader and U&I Mentoring Program

“The organization itself gives youth an outlet to develop and do good in the community. I think in a way, peers see what we’re doing as youth leaders, putting hours and hours in, and feel inspired.”

Angel was a 2018-2019 YSC Representative and U&I Mentor. She believes being a YSC leader helps connect their classmates with QARI and to join the YSC. She had opportunities to inspire youth to become leaders in the community because of her sacrifices. She is proud of her hard work in planning, training, and executing the necessary volunteering roles in the 2019 August Moon Festival. She hopes, as a YSC Board youth leader, implement new events and programs that will serve her high school peers. Angel hopes that the YSC will attract more youths who want to invest in the community.

QARI Youth Scholarship Award Dinner
The U&I Mentoring Program continued to refine and expand its content to meet the needs of the ELL immigrant youth in Central and Atlantic Middle Schools.

This fiscal year, U&I Mentoring program had its highest number of ELL middle school mentees participants. QARI successfully matched and placed 33 mentoring pairs. Both mentors and mentees gained developed their soft skills as their mentoring relationships matured over the school year. ELL middle school mentees gained self-confidence as they spoke in front of their peers, QPS faculty, and parents at the End of the Year Celebration. U&I mentors gained leadership skills, character building and learning the challenges immigrant youth face in a new environment.

Youth Spotlight: Victor Cao – Senior High Braintree High School – Transition Up and U&I Mentoring Program

“The Transition Up program is helpful because they can practice their English, learn about the working world, and be more outgoing.”

Victor Cao is a senior at Braintree High School. He participated as a U&I mentor and the Transition Up program. He recently transitioned out of Braintree High School's ELL program. He learned a lot about himself and gained experience in communicating with middle school youths and fellow mentors. Victor is now serving as a YSC youth leader representative in the Communications and Technology Branch.
Transition Up Program

The Youth Department successfully launched Transition Up, a new pilot program in partnership with Quincy Public Schools and MassHire. Its goal is to assist low-income ELL high school students gain workforce, academic, and soft skills and help them get placed into summer internships. All eligible participants entered into paid or non-paid summer internships as well as receiving CPR and First Aid certification. Students transitioned out of ELL classes and continued to work part-time at companies where they had the internship.

Looking Ahead

It is exciting to look forward to the new activities and changes happening in the Youth Development Department. We are focusing on integrating with the other departments, expanding our programs, and building new partnerships. One example is offering a once a month digital literacy class for adult ESOL students taught by YSC volunteers. Our youth will also be organizing civic engagement projects like pre-voter registration drives, 2020 Census activities, and encouraging Quincy homeowners to have free trees in their backyards.

Our U&I Mentoring Program is expanding to serve the ELL immigrant high school youth at Quincy High School as well as assisting Randolph High School to start their own version of the program. The department staff is strengthening our partnership with Eastern Nazarene College by collaborating and outreaching to the immigrant community.
