

And here are my bio and picture:

Tim Keasley is an Oboist and Workshop Leader living in London. He studied Music at Oxford University and with Melanie Ragge at the Royal Academy of Music.

Recent engagements include lunchtime recitals at St Martin in the Field's, appearing as a soloist with contemporary music group An Assembly for Radio 3, playing as Guest Principal Oboe with Oxford Philharmonic Orchestra and Maxim Vengerov and presenting and playing with flashmob group Street Orchestra of London.

Tim is also the current Trainee Music Leader at Wigmore Hall and runs enjoys running workshops as part of Wigmore Learning. He has a particular interest in working with Early Years and with people living with dementia.