

Born in Murcia (Spain) Francisco finished his Bachelors in Music Performance at the Royal Conservatoire of Granada under the tuition of Alejandro Marco. After that, he decided continue his education at the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland, recently completing his Masters in Music Performance (Mmus).

In Spain he was a member of youth orchestras such as the Youth Orchestra of Granada, and has performed with the Ciudad de Granada Orchestra through the youth academy project and the Orchestra of Murcia. In Scotland he has performed in projects with the BBC Scottish Symphony Orchestra and The Scottish Opera, and collaborated with the Aberdeen University Orchestra.

Francisco has a wealth of chamber music experience. He has been a member of the brass quintet "Soul Metals", performing regularly through the out of Spain, in cities like Granada and Almeria, and participated in the Granada Music Festival. He has won the David James Chamber Music Prize in 2016 as a member of "Escocia Brass" quintet, has performed with the Tuba Quartet from the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland, and is currently a member of Omphalos Duo.

He resides in Glasgow and is currently working as a freelance musician.