

Lauren Storey is a freelance French horn player and music facilitator for children and young people with special educational needs. She is an undergraduate of Birmingham Conservatoire (Now Royal Birmingham Conservatoire) and holds a PGCert in Music and Special Needs:

Sounds of Intent, from the University of Roehampton. Lauren has recently performed Schumann's Konzertstück for 4 horns with a few orchestras, including a performance at the Royal Birmingham Conservatoire back in February.

Lauren had many performance opportunities whilst studying, and often played in the Conservatoire Symphony Orchestra. She played 1st horn in Verdi's Requiem which was broadcasted on Radio 3. Lauren played in WNO Side by Side days and was accepted onto the CBSO Training Scheme in 2014 which involved attending rehearsals. She has been a member of the CBSO Youth Orchestra and Academy for 3 years. Repertoire on 4th horn includes Strauss Alpine Symphony, Rachmaninoff 2nd Symphony and Mahler 2nd Symphony. One of Lauren's favourite playing moments was alongside Louise Lansdown in a performance of Schubert's Octet in F major.

Lauren is very excited to be starting an internship at the music charity, Soundabout in April.
