

Since You Went Away

Dark clouds in a dark sky
Is all that I can see
This melancholy feeling
Has got the best of me

Ever since you went away
The sun don't shine no more
There's a cruel wind at my door
And the world is cold

Lately I've been living
With a shadow on my heart
The day has lost it's glory
The night has lost it's spark

Ever since you went away
The sun don't shine no more
There's a cruel wind at my door
And the world is cold

With the waking of the dawn
My foolish heart forgets you're gone
And I reach out for you
But all that's there is pain
And I'm alone again

Ever since you went away
The sun don't shine no more
There's a cruel wind at my door
And the world is cold

I go out in the evening
Where there's people, where there's life
I tell my troubles to a stranger
But nothing seems to make it right

Ever since you went away
The sun don't shine no more
There's a cruel wind at my door
And the world is cold
