

Better Day

I know you're hurting now
And your hurt has cut you deep
But from the ruins of defeat
They'll be a better day

I know it's hard to see
Beyond the sadness that you feel
But change comes like a rolling wheel
And they'll be a better day

Though your heart is breaking
And tears are in your eyes
Somewhere hope is waking
You will find your way
And the morning sun will rise

So don't try so hard
Give yourself a little time
I know for sure you're gonna find
They'll be a better day

We all walk the line
We all bare the burden of regret
But don't ever let your heart forgets
They'll be a better day

May forgiving angels
Mend your broken wings
Free you from the shadows
Fly you from the dark
To a dawn where the skylark sings

Yes the tide will turn
And you'll rebuild those shattered dreams
It's not as hopeless as it seems
They'll be a better day