Young Man with a Plan

A program to help young men of color access college and career success

In Young Man with a Plan (YMWAP) young men from our schools, under the guidance of program directors and school-based mentors, meet weekly to build brotherhood, gain insight about their individual strengths and interests, commit to improving their academic performance, and support each other as they become more directed over the course of this program, which continues through their 12th grade. Eight school-based mentors in the program also participate in weekly group meetings, provide ongoing school-based support, and receive professional development.

90 young men from 8 Boston schools meet once weekly out of school time for:
- Individual and group mentoring
- Activities that build critical thinking, brotherhood and leadership
- Enrichment that includes recreation/fitness, cultural/arts, academic, and community service
- Men of Color Career Night
- A teambuilding weekend in NH
- Summer programming

We will monitor students’ attendance, grades and GPAs, progress on their Success Plans, and growth on socio-emotional measures.

New participants must:
- Be 10th grade male students in good standing
- Be students receptive to mentoring outside of school time
- Self-identify as young men of color
- Commit to attend weekly meetings, including summer programming
- Have parent/guardian permission

*The Boston Coalition is a cross-sector collaborative of the following schools: Boston Collegiate Charter School; Boston Community Leadership Academy; Boston Prep Charter School, Boston Green Academy; Burke High School; Codman Academy; New Mission High School; and TechBoston Academy.
