Miriam L. Hulett M.Ed Co-Author Reads to Children

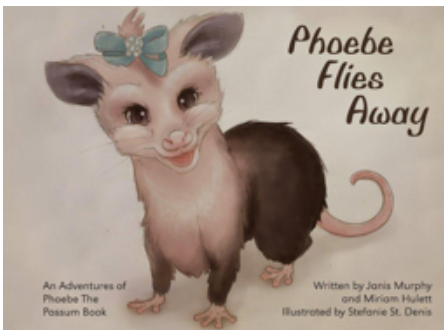

This is a delightful, educational story for young children based on the true experiences of Phoebe the 'possum. Phoebe was raised and cared for by co-author Janis Murphy while she was a docent at the Central Florida Zoo. In addition to information about 'possums, this story teaches about relationships, acceptance, and family. It also helps young children recognize and deal with their emotions.

Miriam is an animal lover and adopted a golden cocker from a no kill dog sanctuary near her home. Miriam is an early childhood specialist, retired school teacher with many in elementary and adjunct Child Development Professor. She lives on the farm where she grew up in central Michigan at 12227 Keefer Hwy, Sunfield, Michigan with her husband, John and their dog, Goldie.

Co-author Janis Murphy has been an animal rescuer her entire life. She lives with her husband Jim, 14 cats and 3 dogs in southern Florida. Janis shared the story of Phoebe with Miriam during her vacation trip in the winter of 2016. After much conversation and many emails, Miriam agreed to co-author the book, and write the story geared to young children aged 2-8.
