1 STATEMENT OF INTEREST

2 Amici, led by the County of Santa Clara and the City of Columbus,¹ are local 3 and tribal governments from across the country—representing communities large and 4 small, rural and urban. Amici rely on the United States Postal Service (“USPS” or 5 “Postal Service”) as the operational backbone of many essential government 6 functions. Through the mail, amici administer elections, issue notices of violations of 7 local ordinances, send pension checks, deliver medication, and provide diagnostic 8 medical testing results—many of which are time-sensitive, time-bound, or otherwise 9 require immediate attention.

10 Amici’s dependence on reliable Postal Service mail delivery has taken on even 11 greater significance over the past six months due to the outbreak of the COVID-19 12 pandemic across the United States.² With many government offices closed, in-person 13 staffing significantly reduced, and residents encouraged to limit in-person contacts 14 with people outside of their households, much of the business of government is 15 conducted online, over the phone, and increasingly, through the mail. For some 16 segments of the population, whether because of lack of familiarity with or access to 17 the internet, the mail is the easiest way to apply for benefits, pay tickets and utility

18
19 ¹ Amici declare that: (i) none of the parties nor their counsel prepared this brief in 20 whole or in part; (ii) no party or party’s counsel contributed money that was intended 21 to fund the preparation or submission of the brief; and (iii) no person or entity 22 contributed money that was intended to fund the preparation or submission of the 23 brief. Fed. R. App. P. 29(a)(4)(E).

24 ² As of September 10, 2020, more than 6.3 million people have contracted COVID-19 25 and over 190,000 COVID-19-related deaths have been reported in the United States.
26 U.S. Ctrs. for Disease Control & Prevention, CDC COVID Data Tracker: Trends in

1 bills, or obtain additional services from their local or tribal government. The COVID-2 19-induced public health and economic crises have increased residents' reliance on 3 their local and tribal governments, including for the receipt of rental assistance and 4 health care.

5 Amici also rely on the Postal Service to administer and facilitate federal, state, 6 and local elections. Some amici run elections operations directly, setting up polling 7 locations and counting mail-in or absentee ballots. Others facilitate local elections, 8 protect public safety at polling locations, and engage their communities through 9 registration drives, voter outreach, and other efforts to ensure that residents fulfill their 10 civic duty to vote. All amici are more dependent on the efficient and reliable delivery 11 of election-related mail this year due to public health concerns. Public health experts 12 warn of a new surge of COVID-19 in the fall and winter, which may be aggravated by 13 a severe flu season.³ To mitigate the health risks associated with interactions outside 14 of the home such as voting in person, some amici are mailing ballots to all eligible 15 voters, while others are encouraging voters—especially those with health risks or who 16 are living with vulnerable family members—to use mail-in options to cast their 17 ballots. All amici have a vested interest in ensuring that elections are run effectively 18 and fairly, protecting the fundamental rights of their constituents, and fulfilling their 19 statutory obligations to run and support elections while complying with public health 20 orders and recommendations.

21 But now, a series of changes enacted by the recently appointed Postmaster 22 General Louis DeJoy has undermined amici's ability to use the mail. By slowing mail 23 delivery and reducing the availability of mail services in certain areas, these changes 24 hamper amici's ability to execute their core governmental functions at a time when 25

1 communities need services more than ever. Amici submit this brief to highlight the 2 urgent harms that amici face.

3 SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

4 For amici—a broad group of local and tribal governments—reliable and 5 efficient mail services are essential to the administration of core local government 6 functions. That reliance is even more acute today because of the COVID-19 7 pandemic.

8 The changes to Postal Service policies will irreparably harm amici's ability to 9 administer and facilitate the November General Election. Amici rely on the Postal 10 Service at nearly every point in the election administration process—to maintain voter 11 rolls, register voters, conduct voter outreach and education, provide ballots, and 12 receive completed ballots. The uncertainty and delays caused by the USPS policy 13 changes now jeopardize these critical functions. The changes have undermined public 14 confidence in voting by mail at a time when public health risks weigh strongly against 15 unnecessary interactions outside of the home such as voting in person. The changes 16 also have increased the administrative burdens on amici to rapidly set up additional 17 ways for voters to exercise their constitutional right to vote.

18 Further, the changes interfere with amici's other essential government functions 19 such as collecting fees and taxes, sending pension payments, and enforcing local 20 ordinances. Amici also depend on reliable Postal Service mail to provide critical health 21 care services such as prescription refills, contact tracing, sexually-transmitted 22 infection testing, and opioid overdose prevention. Without these services, patients are 23 at risk for complications that could lead to emergency room visits and hospitalizations 24 at a time when individuals are encouraged to stay home. In many instances, a delay of 25 even a day can lead to irreparable harm—for amici, in fulfilling statutory obligations 26 and ensuring efficient service delivery, and for their constituents, an elderly voter's 27 ballot may not be counted, a retiree may not be able to pay rent, or a patient may not 28

1 receive life-saving medication. For these reasons, amici urge this Court to grant
2 Plaintiffs’ motion seeking preliminary relief.

3 ARGUMENT

4 I. USPS CHANGES HARM AMICI’S ABILITY TO ADMINISTER AND 5 FACILITATE THE NOVEMBER 3, 2020 PRESIDENTIAL GENERAL ELECTION.

6 Amici and their voting constituents rely on the Postal Service to conduct free 7 and fair elections. Especially for the amici that are responsible for election 8 administration, their reliance became even more pronounced in recent months as they 9 planned for greater voting by mail in response to public health concerns surrounding 10 in-person contact during the pandemic.⁴ However, those plans were thrown into 11 question starting in early July 2020, when newly appointed Postmaster General Louis 12 DeJoy instituted significant changes to USPS policies and operations. These changes 13 included restricting operating hours and extra delivery trips, delaying mail processing 14 and sorting, and no longer treating election mail as First Class mail no matter its 15 classification.⁵ The resulting degradation of USPS operations and mail delivery speed 16 (1) impedes amici’s ability to reliably send and receive critical election materials to 17 voters and (2) creates significant administrative and operational burdens for amici,

18
20 ⁴ The Postal Service also anticipates increased vote by mail in the General Election.
21 See, e.g., U.S. Postal Serv., 2020 Official Election Mail, <https://perma.cc/6DXC-UZ96>
22 (noting its creation of an official mail kit “in preparation for increasing Official 23 Election Mail volume during the 2020 election season”).

24 ⁵ On August 18, 2020, Postmaster DeJoy issued a statement “suspending” some of the 25 changes, at least temporarily, but his statement did not reverse the confusion and 26 harms already caused to USPS operations and amici. See, e.g., Jacob Bogage, 27 ‘Everyone’s Clueless’: Cost-Cutting Uncertainty Mires Postal Service In More
28 Delays, Wash. Post (Aug. 29, 2020), <https://perma.cc/8FMC-XDHQ>.

1 which must now augment their non-mail voting options and related messaging less 2 than two months before the General Election.

3 A. USPS Changes Impede Amici's Ability to Reliably Send and Receive 4 Critical Election Materials to Voters.

5 The changes to Postal Service operations and policies hinder amici's ability to 6 disseminate and receive core election information and materials, as required by federal 7 and state law. Specifically, the USPS changes impede amici's ability to: (1) send and 8 receive requests for vote-by-mail, absentee, replacement, emergency, military, and 9 overseas ballots; (2) regularly update and maintain voter registration rolls; (3) conduct 10 voter outreach and education, including distribution of voter information guides; and 11 (4) enable voters to timely address vote-by-mail ballot deficiencies.

12 These concerns about mail efficiency and reliability are not mere speculation.
13 On August 6, 2020, for example, a candidate for office in Santa Clara County 14 contacted the County's Registrar of Voters to update the candidate's statement of 15 qualifications and inform the County that the candidate would send the requisite 16 payment using USPS overnight guaranteed delivery. Six days later, the Postal Service 17 sent the candidate a notice indicating it was unable to locate delivery information for 18 the envelope carrying the check, which the County had not received. Not until August 19 14, 2020, long after the filing deadline, did the Postal Service locate and deliver the 20 envelope. Had the candidate not acted swiftly to find an alternate payment method, 21 due to the Postal Service delays, the candidate likely would have been unable to have 22 the statement included in the county voter information guide.

23 The Postal Service has acknowledged this new reality. In letters to forty-six 24 states and the District of Columbia, the Postal Service stated that its newly instituted 25 operational delays will slow election-related mail, even indicating that some ballots 26 requested close to state deadlines are unlikely to arrive in time to be counted.⁶ As 27

28 ⁶ See Letter from Thomas J. Marshall, Gen. Couns., U.S. Postal Serv., to U.S. States

1 detailed below, similar delays now imperil amici's election administration and 2 facilitation plans a mere two months before the General Election.

3 1. USPS Changes Impede Delivery and Receipt of Vote-By-Mail,
4 Absentee, Replacement, Emergency, Military, and Overseas Ballots.

5 The mail is a critical way by which voters receive and return their ballots.
6 Whether a voter is using a vote-by-mail, absentee, replacement, or emergency ballot, 7 or is a military or overseas voter, many citizens rely upon the mail to exercise their 8 fundamental right to vote. More than a quarter of the 120 million Americans who cast 9 ballots in the 2018 General Election did so by mail, and Postal Service mail was the 10 most common method of ballot return.⁷ In Santa Clara County more than 950,000 11 voters received ballots in the mail in the March primary—and 87% of those who voted 12 used mail-in ballots to cast their votes. In Chicago, Illinois, vote-by-mail is on the rise, 13 jumping from around 4% of ballots cast in the 2000-2012 presidential elections to 14 more than 20% in the March 2020 primary, with further increases expected in the 15 2020 General Election. In surrounding suburban Cook County, Illinois, the County 16 Clerk's Office already has received more than 176,800 vote-by-mail applications for 17 the upcoming General Election—more than double the total number of mail ballots 18 cast in the 2016 General Election. Harris County, Texas, experienced a more than 19 550% increase in vote-by-mail use between the 2016 and 2020 presidential primary 20 run-offs and expects even larger numbers in the November General Election due, in 21 part, to plans to mail ballot applications to all 2.4 million registered voters.⁸ And in

24 ⁷ U.S. Election Assistance Comm'n, Election Administration and Voting Survey: 2018
25 Comprehensive Report, at i, 98 (2018), <https://perma.cc/8UGH-98UJ>. Ballots may 26 also be returned at polling locations and ballot drop boxes, depending on local and 27 state regulations and policies.

28 ⁸ Press Release, Harris County Clerk, Harris County Clerk Chris Hollins Requests

1 Los Angeles County, all registered voters will receive vote-by-mail ballots, meaning 2 that approximately 5.5 million votes could be cast by mail.

3 The efficient delivery of these ballots is critical for voters to receive, complete, 4 and mail their ballots back to amici in time for their votes to be counted—as the Postal 5 Service itself acknowledged.⁹ This is particularly true in the vast majority of states 6 where ballots, postmarked on or before Election Day, must also be received by 7 Election Day or shortly thereafter.¹⁰ It is also disproportionately true for elderly 8 voters, who are more likely to vote by mail, particularly given their increased 9 vulnerability to COVID-19. For example, in the March 2020 primary, 93.5% of Santa 10 Clara County voters who were 65 and older used mail-in ballots, compared to around 11 70-80% of younger voters.

12 Mail delays are especially harmful to the emergency ballot delivery program in 13 Santa Clara County and similar programs administered by other amici. The program is 14 used by facilities that house voters who are hospitalized, incarcerated, or disabled and

1 unable to retrieve their ballots themselves or to vote in person, allowing them to 2 request a replacement vote-by-mail ballot. The program has particularly high uptake 3 with senior living facilities, assisted living centers, residential care facilities, and 4 behavioral health care facilities. If a facility requests to participate in the program, the 5 County's Registrar of Voters allows voters to request a ballot to be mailed to them up 6 until seven days before Election Day.¹¹ But given the proximity of these requests to 7 Election Day, mail delays of even one or two days could mean that ballots are not sent 8 to voters or received by the County's Registrar of Voters in time to be counted.

9 Uniformed and overseas voters are also acutely impacted. To receive a ballot, 10 these voters must complete a request form, which is typically sent by Postal Service 11 mail.¹² In turn, amici must mail, fax, or email the ballot to the military or overseas 12 voter. Once complete, most of these voters must return their ballots by mail, now 13 risking that their ballots will not be received by amici in time to be counted.¹³ 14 Moreover, some amici have strict time limits within which to mail military and 15 overseas ballots, which increases this risk. In Los Angeles County, for example, the 16 Registrar must mail these ballots between September 4 and September 19; as a result,

17
18 ¹¹ See, e.g., Santa Clara County, Cal., Emergency Ballot Delivery Program, at 3, 7 19 (2020), <https://perma.cc/P6RG-5CU2>. If the ballot is requested within six days of the 20 election, the County will arrange for ballots to be hand-delivered to, or picked up by, 21 the facility. But even then, the voters may be reliant on USPS to return their 22 completed ballots.

23 ¹² See generally U.S. Dep't of Just., Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee 24 Voting Act, (Feb. 18, 2020), <https://perma.cc/SF3F-5XAE>.

25 ¹³ See, e.g., Cherokee County, Iowa, Military/Overseas Voting, 26 <https://perma.cc/5K3U-ASBJ>. Further, in Santa Clara County, even where these voters 27 had the option of returning their ballots by fax, 80% of military and overseas voters in 28 the March 2020 election elected to return their ballots by mail.

1 delays in delivering or returning mailed ballots could result in disenfranchisement.

2 2. USPS Changes Impede Voter Registration and List Maintenance.

3 Efficient and reliable mail is critical for amici that directly administer elections.
4 The mail is the primary method for voters to update their voter registration and for 5 elections officials to confirm address changes and update their voter rolls, as required 6 under federal and state law.¹⁴ For example, in Santa Clara County, in the last five 7 months alone, almost 31,000 new voters registered to vote, more than 8,000 of whom 8 completed their registrations by paper affidavit and returned them using Postal Service 9 mail.

10 In addition, most residency confirmation required by federal and state law is 11 conducted by sending out postcard mailers. When an elections official receives 12 information indicating possible voter address changes, the official sends postcards by 13 mail to the address at which the voter is registered.¹⁵ If the postcard is undeliverable, 14 the voter will not receive a vote-by-mail ballot unless they contact the elections 15 official—often by mail—to update or confirm their address. This process is critical to 16 ensuring that voter registration rolls are up to date—i.e., that active voters receive 17 their voting materials and that these materials are not erroneously sent to voters who 18 have moved or are deceased, thereby reducing the likelihood of voter fraud. In Santa 19 Clara County, at least a few hundred postcards have been marked as undeliverable.
20 But due to Postal Service delays, the County now may not receive those address 21 corrections in time to send ballots to these voters and have them returned in time to be 22 counted.

24 ¹⁴ See 52 U.S.C. § 20507; 10 Ill. Comp. Stat. 5/1A-25 (requiring Illinois to create and 25 maintain a centralized statewide voter registration list); Tex. Elec. Code § 18.061 26 (requiring Texas to implement and maintain a statewide computerized voter 27 registration list).

28 ¹⁵ See, e.g., Cal. Elec. Code §§ 2225(b), (c).

3. USPS Changes Impede Voter Outreach and Education Efforts.

Voter education and outreach is another critical aspect of amici's election administration and facilitation efforts. It is also core to the mission of many amici's elections departments. In many jurisdictions, significant outreach beyond the basic requirements of the Help America Vote Act is statutorily required.¹⁶ Moreover, amici must mail out voter information guides and other voter education material to ensure that voters have essential information in advance of the election—including how to change mailing addresses to receive vote-by-mail ballots. This outreach and messaging may need to be augmented and retooled to address concerns about voting by mail, requiring amici to make additional expenditures. In Santa Clara County, for example, because of uncertainty caused by the USPS changes, the Registrar of Voters altered its outreach messaging to further emphasize that vote-by-mail ballots can be dropped off at official ballot drop boxes and at polling locations as an alternative to returning ballots through the mail.¹⁷ And in response to voter concerns about the Postal Service, the City of Madison plans to have poll workers available in 206 city parks on Saturday, September 26, and on Saturday, October 3, 2020. Voters may drop ¹⁶ 52 U.S.C. § 21004(a)(3) (requiring state programs for voter education); see, e.g., Cal. Elec. Code § 4005(a)(10)(I)(i) (same); 10 Ill. Comp. Stat. 5/1A-17 (requiring state departments and public institutes of higher learning to make voter registration information available); id. 5/7-40(a) (regulating ballot boxes, which allow voters to vote via drop box instead of in-person or by mail); id. 5/2B-15 (requiring Illinois election authorities, in light of COVID-19, to automatically send vote by mail applications to any person who voted by mail or in person in a 2018, 2019, or 2020 primary election, as well as to any person who registered to vote or changed their registration address between Illinois' 2020 primary election and July 31, 2020).

¹⁷ Marin County has recommended that, in addition to these alternatives, voters return vote-by-mail ballots at least seven days before Election Day.

1 off their absentee ballot with a poll worker, who will also be available to serve as a 2 witness, if needed. The City estimates that this initiative will cost around $106,000.

3 4. USPS Changes Impede Outreach to Cure Ballot Deficiencies.

4 USPS delays and uncertainty also impede voter outreach by certain amici to 5 cure ballot deficiencies, as permitted by state law. Nineteen states have a process for 6 voters to correct errors on their mailed-in ballot, such as a missing signature or 7 signature that does not match voter registration records. However, most of these states 8 have extremely short timeframes for elections officials to notify voters of the error and 9 for the voter to correct it, all of which is predominantly done by Postal Service mail.¹⁸ 10 For example, in California, when elections officials find a missing signature or 11 mismatch between the signature on file and the signature on the ballot, they mail a 12 statement to the voter explaining how the ballot error can be cured.¹⁹ The voter must 13 send back the requisite information, arriving no later than two days before 14 certification of the election, or return the form in-person by the deadline, for the ballot 15 to be counted. Postal Service delays mean these voters may not have time to cure their 16 ballots and have them counted, absent hand-delivering them during a pandemic.²⁰

19 ¹⁹ See Cal. Elec. Code § 3019 (requiring elections officials in California to provide 20 notice to all voters with mismatching signatures on vote-by-mail ballots an 21 opportunity to verify their signatures). In Santa Clara County, the County's Registrar 22 of Voters received around 1,500 of these signature verification forms by USPS mail in 23 the March 2020 primary. See also 10 Ill. Comp. Stat. 5/19-8(g-5) (requiring the 24 election authority in Illinois to send notice by mail of the rejection of a vote-by-mail 25 ballot and allowing up to fourteen days after the election for the voter to cure); Tex.
26 Elec. Code § 87.0431(a), (b)(3) (requiring notice of signature mismatch, but no 27 opportunity to cure).

28 ²⁰ This concern is heightened in California, where the state proactively extended

1 Moreover, in previous elections, older voters, especially voters with disabilities, may 2 have had their ballots disproportionately rejected due to signature mismatches. These 3 voters therefore may be more likely to need to use the signature cure process, and thus 4 especially harmed by USPS delays.²¹

5 B. USPS Changes Create Significant Administrative and Operational 6 Burdens for Amici Administering Elections.

7 The USPS changes have rattled the public's confidence in using the Postal 8 Service for election-related services.²² As a result, more voters are likely to opt for in-9 person voting, despite the COVID-19 pandemic, or to seek out ballot boxes. Yet at the 10 same time, far more voters are receiving ballots by mail than in any prior election. As 11 a result, amici will need to augment their plans for in-person voting, mail-in voting,

15 postmarked on or before Election Day and received by seventeen days after Election

17 (requiring that mail-in votes postmarked no later than Election Day to counted).

18 However, the cure period was not also extended in Illinois, which means that voters 19 have an even shorter period to verify their signature. Compare Cal. Elec. Code § 3019

4 1. Many Amici Must Seek to Expand In-Person Voting Options and 5 Resources.

6 Due to the unreliability of USPS mail, amici must now seek to increase in-7 person voting opportunities to the extent practicable. These changes must be 8 implemented only two months before the General Election and in accordance with 9 state and local pandemic-related public health orders and recommendations. Yet many 10 polling locations—many of which are senior centers and living facilities—are now 11 declining to serve in that capacity due to COVID-19 concerns.²³ At the same time, 12 amici may be unable to increase poll-worker staff at existing polling locations while 13 maintaining a six-foot distance between work stations, as recommended by the 14 Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Given these constraints, some 15 jurisdictions are now making significant changes to increase voting hours and 16 otherwise supplement capacity to ensure all voters can safely exercise their right to 17 vote. For instance, after the Postal Service informed the state of Texas of potential 18 delays, to account for the uncertainty of whether voters will vote in person or by mail, 19 Harris County approved an additional $17 million outlay to extend early voting hours 20 to 10 p.m. on multiple nights, add one 24-hour voting period, and provide drive-21 through options, as well as to obtain new equipment to process an anticipated record 22 number of ballots received by mail.²⁴ The City of St. Paul similarly plans to increase

23 _____
24 ²³ For example, as of the end of August 2020, five senior centers or living facilities in 25 Santa Clara County have declined to serve as polling locations due to COVID-19-26 related concerns.

27 ²⁴ Zach Gespart, Harris County OKs $17M to Add Polls, Voting Hours and Drive-

1 the number of in-person early voting locations in anticipation that uncertainty about 2 the Postal Service may lead more voters to choose to vote in person.

3 However, for other local jurisdictions, increasing in-person voting capacity is 4 not an option. For example, the Yurok Tribe, which is located in rural Del Norte and 5 Humboldt counties in California, passed emergency legislation requiring the General 6 Election to be conducted entirely by mail because of COVID-19 associated risks.²⁵ As 7 a result, tribal voters are entirely dependent on the mail to vote. In an area where 8 access to the Postal Service is already extremely limited,²⁶ these voters now have no
9 choice but to be subject to USPS's delays, increasing the likelihood that their ballots 10 will not arrive or be returned in time to be counted. Ultimately, due to uncertainty 11 caused by the USPS changes, many amici will have to prepare for both scenarios:
12 increased voting at polling locations, and increased use of mail-in ballots and ballot 13 boxes—even though budgets are tight and time to prepare is short.

14 2. Many Amici Will Need to Add Official Ballot Drop Boxes, More 15 Frequently Empty Drop Boxes, and Increase Messaging Around 16 Drop Box Availability.

17 Particularly where it is not possible to increase polling locations, amici, where 18 possible, will need to increase the number of official drop boxes, drop box pick-ups, 19 and messaging about drop box availability. In Santa Clara County, because of the 20 USPS changes, the Registrar of Voters will need to add three additional routes to pick 23 ²⁵ Emergency Yurok Tribe Election Ordinance §§ 4003, 4203, 4401, 4502 (Aug. 11, 24 2020).

25 ²⁶ In some Yurok tribal areas, mail cannot be delivered to households; rather, 26 members depend on access to transportation to a local Post Office to pick up and send 27 mail. The local Post Office has limited business hours and depends on a postal 28 processing site in Eureka, California, leading to further mail delivery delays.

1 up drop box ballots. The County will also need to place twenty-three additional boxes 2 at locations that had high volume return in the March 2020 primary and increase its 3 public messaging to urge greater drop box use. Similarly, the City of St. Paul is 4 adding mail ballot drop-off locations to encourage voters to drop off ballots to ensure 5 timely arrival. These amici must now seek to identify funds to provide these 6 additional services at a time when local and tribal government budgets are facing 7 enormous strains due to mounting COVID-related community needs that dwarf 8 shrinking revenue.

9 Other amici are constrained from increasing drop box availability, putting 10 additional pressure on amici to find other ways to expand voting opportunities. In 11 Ohio, for example, the Secretary of State has issued a directive prohibiting any Board 12 of Elections from using more than one drop box location per county.²⁷ That means 13 that any resident of the City of Columbus, for example, can drop off their ballot at 14 only one location—the Franklin County Board of Elections office—even though that 15 location may be a long distance to travel, in some cases more than 25 miles roundtrip, 16 for many residents of Columbus and broader Franklin County.²⁸ The same is true for 17 the City of Cincinnati, where the only drop box is located outside of the City and is

23 ²⁸ In 2018, due to state restrictions, Franklin County only operated one early polling 24 location. Almost half of the County’s residents who voted in-person before Election 25 Day lived within five miles of the polling location; those that lived further away used

1 hard to access by public transit. In Harris County—and all counties in Texas—drop 2 boxes are not permitted, though voters may deposit their ballots at the voting clerk’s 3 office. For these jurisdictions, even in the face of a pandemic, in-person voting will be 4 the primary option for casting a vote due to the uncertainty caused by the USPS 5 changes for voting by mail—putting even greater pressure on these jurisdictions to 6 boost in-person voting capacity while adhering to public health orders and 7 recommendations amid shrinking budgets.²⁹

8 3. Amici Must Absorb Increased Mail and Other Costs.

9 The USPS’s longstanding practice has been to treat all election mail as First 10 Class mail, which means election mail receives priority and is typically delivered 11 between two and five days after mailing.³⁰ Now, USPS has announced that election 12 mail instead will be treated as standard mail, with delivery timeframes between three 13 and ten days,³¹ and possibly more when mail volumes are unusually high such as 14 during the winter holidays. As a result, amici may need to pay approximately 35 cents 15 more per piece of election mail to ensure it is treated as First Class mail³²—a 16 significant cost and logistical change with little time to locate funds. The City of 17

18 ²⁹ See Tex. Elec. Code § 86.006. Harris County has piloted allowing these ballot drop 19 boxes at eleven of the clerk’s office’s locations, making ballot delivery more 20 accessible. Whether these ballot drops can occur during an extended early voting 21 period is currently being litigated. See Bethany Blankley, Candidates, Others Sue

1 Denver, for example, has had to divert additional resources to cover over $130,000 in 2 First Class Mail fees for its electorate. Other costs include a likely uptick in counter 3 services required to address voting questions at various Registrars of Voters and 4 Boards of Election offices and otherwise deal with the upheaval caused by the USPS 5 changes. Marin County has already noted an increased number of concerned calls to 6 its Registrar of Voters about USPS changes.

7 Taken together, these changes undermine the reliability of election-related 8 mail—and amici's election administration plans—on the eve of a Presidential General 9 Election that amici must administer and facilitate during the worst pandemic in a 10 century. Moreover, these changes come at a time when, as detailed below, USPS 11 delays will impose significant non-election related costs on amici.

12 II. USPS CHANGES UNDERMINE OTHER CORE LOCAL AND TRIBAL 13 GOVERNMENT FUNCTIONS.

14 Separate and apart from the harms to election administration, the USPS changes 15 will hamper other core local and tribal government functions. Indeed, USPS delays 16 will further stress local government services at a time when they already face 17 unprecedented challenges due to COVID-19. These impacts include delays in 18 payments, enforcement actions, and critical health care services.

19 A. USPS Delays Interfere with Timely Payments to and from Amici and 20 Increase Administrative Burdens.

21 USPS delays will impede revenue streams that fund essential services for 22 residents. Amici collect millions to billions of dollars in parking tickets, tax payments, 23 and user fees, which support police and fire services, public schools, libraries, and 24 park districts, among other services. Much of this revenue flows through the postal 25 system—and is time-sensitive. Year-to-date, for example, the City of Chicago's 26 Department of Finance has received over $18 million in mailed parking tickets, red 27 light camera violations, and speed camera violations; over $233 million via mailed tax 28

1 payments; and $422 million in mailed payments related to its Aviation Department.³³ 2 And in 2019, Chicago received over $349 million via 403,813 mailed payments for its 3 Utility Billing and Customer Services, which include water, sewer, and garbage fees 4 and related taxes.

5 Mail delays thus present a two-fold problem for local revenue streams. First, 6 given that cities and counties collect up to billions of dollars through mail-in 7 payments, even small delays can result in the loss of millions of dollars of earned 8 interest income on savings or investments. These losses, in turn, directly impact 9 amici's bottom lines and budgets, which already are stretched thin during the 10 pandemic and economic downturn. Second, mail delays create confusion for payees 11 and additional operational burdens for local government employees. In Chicago, for 12 example, an automated system electronically imposes late fees on parking ticket fines 13 that are not paid within the allotted time. If a resident's otherwise timely payment gets 14 delayed or lost in the mail, Chicago must then track the original payment, manually 15 remove the late fee, and communicate with the payee regarding the true amount owed.
16 Given the volume of parking tickets processed daily, particularly in larger cities, these 17 extra administrative burdens can add up to significant manpower and notice costs at a 18 time when localities already are facing significant budget and staffing cuts.³⁴

19
20 ³³ These payments include, for example, payments for Landing Fees, Terminal Area
21 Use Charges, Rents, Concessions, and other Passenger Facility Charges and Customer 22 Facility Charges.

23 ³⁴ See, e.g., Mark Munro, As COVID-19 Resurges, So Does the Threat to Local 24 Budgets, Brookings Inst. (June 2020), <https://perma.cc/T9GC-SHZP> (reporting that in 25 June 2020, states and localities across the country already had laid off 1.5 million 26 government workers as a result of COVID-19 budget cuts); see also Tony Romm, 27 Over 700 Cash-strapped Cities Halt Plans to Repair Roads, Water Systems, or Make

1 Relatedly, USPS delays pose a threat to residents who rely on the mail for 2 certain local government payments. In Cincinnati, for example, many residents 3 receive retirement service and pension payments from the City through the mail. A 4 mail delay of just a few days—at a time when 24% of Ohioans either missed their 5 most recent housing payment or are not confident that they will be able to make their 6 next one³⁵—can make the difference between a missed or late payment and related 7 fees. In the Yurok Tribe, fishermen confronted with depleted salmon stocks rely upon 8 the tribal government to disburse disaster relief payments, sent through the mail, to 9 make ends meet. Delays could be devastating for these fishermen. As a result of mail 10 delays, the Yurok Tribe’s Department of Social Services already has had to scramble 11 to ensure that Temporary Assistance for Needy Families funds for housing, childcare, 12 and other basic needs reach residents on time. The Department has limited options to 13 respond to mail delays. It has limited staff in order to deliver funds in person; the lack 14 of a bank on the reservation from which to withdraw funds also limits the utility of 15 switching to a new system, where funds could be transferred electronically. Similarly, 16 the City of Chicago’s Department of Family and Support Services operates a Rental 17 Assistance Program to help those who may face homelessness due to COVID-19.
18 Within the past four months, Chicago received over 500 applications for this program 19 through the mail. Even with a significant increase in funding for the program in 20 response to the pandemic, the Department receives twice the number of applications 21 than it can fund in a single month. Because the program has a finite budget that is 22 inadequate to address local demand, and because applications often require back-and-23 forth to ensure all requirements have been met, mail delays could cause applicants to 24 miss out on this program, or to not apply to other assistance programs for which they

1 would be eligible if their rental assistance applications were denied. As a result, more 2 Chicago residents could be at risk of becoming homeless.

3 B. USPS Delays Harm Amici's Enforcement Efforts.

4 In addition to revenue collection, the USPS changes threaten to delay and 5 undermine local enforcement efforts. Specifically, many local governments use the 6 mail system to deliver code violation and fine notices. Timely delivery of these 7 notices is thus crucial to correcting infractions as soon as possible and thereby 8 protecting residents' safety and well-being.

9 In Cincinnati, for example, the City relies on the mail system to enforce 10 building standards and prevent mass foreclosures. Indeed, the Cincinnati Department 11 of Buildings and Investigations—responsible for maintaining the health, safety, and 12 welfare of Cincinnati residents in connection with residential and commercial 13 buildings³⁶—spends $41,000 on postage costs alone each year. Cincinnati uses this 14 postage to send out critical notices concerning building demolitions and repairs that 15 violate city code and face administrative proceedings.³⁷ A delay in these notices may, 16 as a result, perpetuate or create dangerous conditions for residents. Moreover, 17 Cincinnati requires that within ten business days of filing a foreclosure action on 18 residential property, banks register—through the mail—the vacant or foreclosed 19 property with the city and maintain it until it is sold or reoccupied.³⁸ Accurate and 20 timely registrations are critical to Cincinnati's efforts to track and combat the 21 proliferation of abandoned properties and neighborhood blight, particularly in the 22 present economic downturn.³⁹

27 ³⁸ Id. § 1123-05.

28 ³⁹ See supra, note 34.

1 Local code enforcement extends beyond building violations and, in fact, 2 touches almost every aspect of residents’ everyday lives. In an average year, for 3 example, the City of Chicago’s Department of Streets and Sanitation writes 40,000 to 4 50,000 tickets for violations, including overgrown weeds, overflowing garbage, and 5 rat harborage—all of which are sent via USPS mail. Similarly, the Yurok Tribe relies 6 on the mail to send violation notices and to abate environmental violations.⁴⁰ 7 Accordingly, even a few days’ delay in mail can create and exacerbate unsafe and 8 unsanitary living conditions.

9 More generally, amici rely upon the mail for basic registration and 10 authorization functions. Chicago’s Department of Business Affairs and Consumer 11 Protection, for example, depends on the mail to send out business license applications, 12 certificates, and account documents, including new licenses, cancellation forms, and 13 license payments. Delays in this official correspondence can create significant 14 confusion and backlogs in the licensing process, thus adding to the City’s 15 administrative burdens and harming businesses forced to delay their operations while 16 waiting on documents. And for localities, such as Denver, that operate within “first in 17 time” real estate recording states, delays in mail can adversely impact residents’ 18 commercial and residential property rights, including delays in closings and 19 foreclosure redemptions.

20 C. USPS Delays Undermine Critical Local Health Care Services.

21 USPS delays present a particularly acute problem for locally administered 22 health care services, which many amici provide to millions of residents. Many of these 23 local health care systems use the mail system to provide aspects of this care.

28 21.05.140(c)(1)(A) (air quality enforcement process).

1 Cook County, Illinois, for example, operates one of the largest hospital systems
2 in the nation. In this role, Cook County Health’s mail order pharmacy fulfills more 3 than 20,000 prescriptions each month and relies on USPS to deliver prescriptions to 4 patients.⁴¹ In July 2020, 23% of those prescriptions—more than 5,000 prescriptions—5 were delayed.⁴² In comparison, less than 1% of prescriptions faced delays in March of 6 2020.⁴³ And already-vulnerable populations are disproportionately impacted by these 7 delays. In certain zip codes within the Chicago area’s South Side neighborhoods, for 8 example, as many of 50% of Cook County Health’s mail order prescriptions faced 9 mail delays in July.⁴⁴ Similarly, members of the Yurok Tribe—many of whom already 10 face severely limited mail conditions—depend on mail order prescriptions delivered 11 through the United Indian Health Services.⁴⁵ Moreover, the Los Angeles County
12 Department of Health Services (“DHS”) has seen a marked increase in patients 13 receiving their prescriptions by mail during the COVID-19 pandemic, jumping from 14 about 15-16% prior to the pandemic to over 70-72% of patients during it. However,

1 DHS reports that since the USPS policy changes, delivery times for prescriptions have 2 shifted from three to five days to as long as three weeks.

3 These medication delays have life-threatening consequences, particularly when 4 in-person options pose significant health risks during the pandemic. As the Chief 5 Medical Officer at Cook County Health has explained, “[i]n many cases, these 6 [delayed prescriptions] are life-saving medications that treat diabetes, hypertension 7 and other chronic illnesses. Without these medications, patients are at risk for 8 complications that could lead to emergency room visits and hospitalizations at a time 9 when we are asking people to stay home.”⁴⁶ Indeed, the Postal Service’s cost-cutting 10 measures will exacerbate the spread of COVID-19 in more ways than one: local 11 government health care providers not only rely upon mail-prescriptions to encourage 12 patients to stay home, but also use the Postal Service for infectious disease contact 13 tracing and quarantine notices for individuals without reliable internet or phone. A 14 postal delay of just one day could, as a result, lead to innumerable infections if an 15 unknowingly infected person goes to work or school while waiting for results, 16 undermining efforts to control an outbreak.

17 Amici’s mail-related health care services extend beyond prescription programs 18 and the mailing of COVID-19 notices and test results. The State of Ohio, for example, 19 has the fourth highest rate of opioid-involved overdose deaths in the country,⁴⁷ and 20 Columbus and its surrounding suburbs have the highest number of overdose deaths—21 543 in 2019—in the state.⁴⁸ To combat this crisis, Columbus sends free naloxone

1 kits—used to prevent overdoses—through the mail to clinic providers and others.⁴⁹ A 2 delay in receiving these kits could directly result in preventable deaths. Relatedly, 3 through the mail, the City of Cincinnati provides testing for sexually-transmitted 4 diseases and screening for cancer and other chronic illnesses, such as diabetes.⁵⁰ And 5 because testing results are confidential, the City mails notices to vulnerable patients, 6 including elderly or unsheltered community members, to request that they follow up 7 with the Department of Health via phone or in person. In these instances, mail delays 8 could worsen health outcomes not only for the recipients, but also for those with 9 whom they may come into contact.

10 III. A NATIONWIDE INJUNCTION IS REQUIRED TO REDRESS THE 11 HARMS CAUSED BY THE USPS CHANGES.

12 The significant harms that amici and the plaintiff states and jurisdictions are 13 experiencing due to the USPS changes are immediate and irreparable—and they will 14 persist without nationwide relief.⁵¹

15 If only some states are granted relief, voters receiving ballots outside of those 16 select states will continue to be adversely impacted by the USPS changes. For 17 example, for overseas and military voters, and other voters who receive and mail their 18 ballots outside of the jurisdictions that are granted relief, such relief will be 19 incomplete.⁵² This is true across jurisdictions. For example, Santa Clara County has

1 nearly 7,500 military and overseas voters and anticipates mailing more than an 2 additional 11,000 ballots to voters who live in the County but requested that their 3 ballots be mailed to an out-of-state address. The City of Madison has nearly 1,000 4 military and overseas voters and anticipates more than 2,500 total absentee ballots will 5 be mailed outside of the county. Marin County has nearly 3,000 military and overseas
6 voters, and the Yurok Tribe has over 1,300 registered voters outside of its service area 7 that must vote by mail. Piecemeal relief will cause further confusion for voters and 8 amici seeking to administer and facilitate elections, with little time to engage in 9 outreach to clarify which voters will still be affected by USPS mail delays. Moreover, 10 these mail delays cannot be redressed or otherwise mitigated through other voting 11 avenues, as out-of-jurisdiction voters do not have the option of depositing a ballot in a 12 local drop box or voting in person. Similarly, many local government operations 13 conducted through the mail are not confined to geographical borders. As explained 14 above, some of amici's infectious disease contact tracing, which can save lives and 15 limit the spread of COVID-19, relies upon mailing test results and quarantine notices 16 to persons connected to local contacts regardless of the other person's location.

17 As the Postal Service letters to nearly all states reveal, the USPS changes are 18 nationwide in scope, and so, too, must be the remedy.
