ARTICLE 10
Workload

Section A. Faculty Workload. The workload of faculty includes student advising, maintaining and improving expertise in a discipline and in pedagogy, serving on departmental and university committees, contributing to student growth and development, evaluating student performance, scholarly activities, and service to university and community, as well as teaching and class preparation. Additionally, as a professional, a faculty member shall devote a substantial amount of his/her workload to course preparation, research, the maintenance of professional expertise, innovations in teaching/learning and other similar activities. These endeavors shall comprise the faculty member’s workload.

Subd. 1. A faculty member’s teaching load shall not exceed fourteen (14) undergraduate credit hours per semester nor twenty-four (24) undergraduate credit hours per academic year. Nine-month faculty are subject to these same workload limitations

a. For purposes of calculating teaching load, a three (3) credit graduate course shall be the equivalent of a four (4) credit undergraduate course, and a four (4) credit graduate course shall be the equivalent of a five (5) credit undergraduate course. All other graduate courses shall be calculated as the equivalent of one and one fourth (1.25) undergraduate credits per one (1) graduate credit hour. Graduate equivalency shall apply only to courses exclusively for graduate students.

b. Undergraduate studio courses, activity courses, and private lessons shall be credited on the basis of at least one (1) credit hour for each two (2) contact hours.

c. Undergraduate music studio courses and private music lessons shall be credited on the basis of at least two (2) credit hours for each three (3) contact hours.

d. Undergraduate laboratory courses shall be credited on the basis of one (1) credit hour for each lecture hour and at least one (1) credit hour for each two (2) laboratory hours.

e. Metropolitan State University Resident Faculty Teaching. A resident faculty member’s teaching load shall not exceed twenty-one (21) undergraduate credits per academic year, or nine-month appointment year. Resident faculty with primary responsibilities in academic advising or psychological counseling shall teach at least six (6) undergraduate credits per year. Teaching for all resident faculty may include educational planning. A resident faculty member with less than a full-time appointment will have a pro-rata teaching assignment based on the percentage of time employed. Resident faculty members may have alternative assignments. Alternative assignments shall be mutually agreed to by the resident faculty member, and the President/designee. Alternative assignments must be made annually.

All other Subdivisions of Section A(1)(a-d), above shall apply to Metropolitan State University resident faculty teaching.
Subd. 1.1. Effective June 30, 2015, a probationary faculty member with a teaching assignment who is in the first year of his/her probationary period will be granted a three credit reassignment per academic year or nine-month appointment to pursue non-teaching activities consistent with Article 22 and described in the faculty member’s professional development plan and professional development report. Normally, a faculty member who receives a reassignment under this paragraph will not be assigned additional instruction on an overload basis.

Subd. 2. Office Hours.

a. In addition to the workload described in Article 10, Section A, the faculty member will be responsible for ten (10) office hours weekly for assisting students, at times and approved locations, either on or off campus, posted at the faculty member’s office for faculty members with assigned offices. As used in this paragraph, the term “approved locations” may include electronic or other alternate modes of contact. A faculty member who is assigned to work from a remote location shall maintain equivalent interactive availability to students through the internet or other electronic means. If a faculty member’s assignment includes teaching load at an off-campus site, a portion of his/her office hour obligation can be at the off-campus site.

b. Metropolitan State University Advising. As part of his/her regular workload, at any point in time a resident faculty member with a full-time appointment may not be required to advise more than forty-five (45) student advisees. Because of the difference in other areas of their workload, resident faculty members with a full-time assignment in a graduate program may be assigned fewer than forty-five (45) advisees. A resident faculty member with a part-time appointment shall not be required to advise more than a proportionate number of student advisees. Responsibilities for resident faculty in advising shall be established by June 30, 1994 through the mutual agreement of the Faculty Association and the President.

Subd. 3. Interactive Television. Interactive television may be conducted as part of load or as overload, subject to Article 12, Section B. For purposes of calculating teaching load, one (1) interactive television credit shall be the equivalent of one and one fourth (1.25) undergraduate credits. If a faculty member has a plan that has been appropriately approved for developing an interactive television course, he/she shall receive appropriate compensation or reassigned time for development of course materials. Technical and paraprofessional support shall be provided at the originating location as well as at each site.

Subd. 4. Off-campus Credit Instruction. Off-campus courses may be taught as part of load or as overload, subject to Article 12, Section B. For travel time in connection with the offering of off-campus courses, a faculty member will be reimbursed at the rate of at least $.25 (twenty-five cents) for each mile traveled. Mileage will be measured from the university campus, or from the faculty member’s residence, whichever is closer to the off-campus site, based upon the approved state mileage table. If a faculty member’s assignment includes teaching load at an off-campus site, a portion of his/her office hour obligation can be at the off-campus site.
Subd. 5. Assessment of Prior Learning. The decision to assess prior learning for a student shall be reached after consultation with the department, and approval by the President/designee. Compensation for faculty involved in assessment of prior learning shall be $35 per credit requested.

Subd. 6. Miscellaneous Instructional Categories. Faculty members providing packaged courses or correspondence courses approved by the President/designee shall be compensated at the rate of sixty-five dollars ($65) per credit hour per student. For purposes of determining compensation paid under this subdivision, a three (3) credit graduate course shall be the equivalent of a four (4) credit undergraduate course, and a four (4) credit graduate course shall be the equivalent of a five (5) credit undergraduate course. All other graduate courses shall be calculated as the equivalent of one and one fourth (1.25) undergraduate credits per one (1) graduate credit hour. Graduate equivalency shall apply only to courses exclusively for graduate students. Non-credit generating workshop instruction may be compensated at overload rate as provided in Article 12, Section B.

Section B. Non-Teaching Faculty Workload. All members of the non-teaching faculty such as those involved in library/learning resources, counseling center, student teacher supervision, full-time intern supervision, and laboratory school teaching/ supervision who are members of the appropriate unit shall enjoy full faculty status with all the privileges and responsibilities pertaining thereto. Subd. 3. Student Teacher Supervisors. The full workload for the academic year or nine-month appointment year of supervisors of student teachers shall be determined by the President after meeting and conferring with the Association. The meet and confer session shall include consideration of faculty/student teacher ratios and travel requirements.

Subd. 4. Exceptions. For those non-teaching faculty members whose work involves classroom teaching or other special duties and/or projects, the Administration shall assign duties in a manner that will result in a total workload consistent with that of a non-teaching faculty member whose workload does not include a teaching assignment or other special duties and/or projects.
Section C. Excess Workload. An excess workload may be agreed to by the faculty member and the President/designee subject to provisions of Article 12.

Beginning July 1, 2009, the duty year for all new full-time probationary, athletic, and fixed-term appointees shall be approximately nine calendar months during a fiscal year. For full-time faculty members, the initial fiscal year appointment may be less than nine months. The University may divide a nine-month appointment into no more than two distinct work periods. Faculty members who are given nine-month appointments shall be available for scheduled assignments on five days of each week, except as otherwise provided herein. Except as provided in Subdivision 2.1 of this Section, the total number of assigned days in a nine-month period shall not exceed 168 duty days. Nine-month appointments need not correspond to the academic year or to any other Faculty members hired pursuant to this subdivision shall be referred to as nine-month faculty.
