new discoveries

A Piece of Design History

Danish heritage brand Fritz Hansen has reissued the iconic PKO A lounge chair for the first time since 1997. Originally designed in 1952 by Poul Kjærholm, it's a (comfortable) collector's item. fritzhansen.com

Snakes at Dinner

Joanna Buchanan makes the most stunning barware and table accessories. These snake napkin rings are so glamorous—with a rock 'n' roll edge. $188 for set of 4; joannabuchanan.com

Chez Monet

The blue and white patterns on these ceramic tiles are inspired by the tiles in Monet's own kitchen at Giverny. Motifs from the garden recall the gentle silhouettes of leaves, petals, iron gates and latticework, while the reflective texture is like zellige. I'd love to see these in a pretty powder room! #### Modern Heirlooms

Kuwaiti lifestyle and homewares brand ecru was founded by three childhood friends, Nur Kaoukji, Noor Al Sabah, and Hussah Al Tamimi. The trio creates and curates elegant pieces inspired by their upbringing. This unique bowl is made of natural alabaster with a brass stand and lapis lazuli inlay, dreamed up by interior designer Livio Delesgues. $344; ecruonline.in

Cozy in the Cotswolds

Leading British interiors brand OKA's new fall collection has me dreaming of life in the English countryside. Patterns, rich tones, and a cozy cuppa are all I need. (PS: this is their Tarma Armchair. So gorgeous!) oka.com/us

Nomad at Home

House of Nomad—the globally-inspired design studio by Berkeley Minkhorst & Kelley Lentini—has a new line of upholstered furniture. I love the bold yet organic energy of this patterned bench, which would be great in an entry. $1,295; shophouseofnomad.com
