Garden City Harvest Job Description

Farm to School Educational Internship

Season/hours: Approximately 300 hours, late-April – mid August, hours per week may vary and position is flexible
Wage: $500 stipend, and college credits may be available if you are a student.
Supervision: Farm to School Director

Summary: The Farm to School Educational Internship offers candidates an opportunity to learn about teaching firsthand through work with the Garden City Harvest Farm to School program. The educational intern will learn to lead educational field trips at the PEAS Farm, assists with summer camps, and help with school garden activities.

DUTIES

- Learn to lead educational lessons and activities for children aged six to ten during three summer camp programs at the PEAS Farm (one week each in June, July, & August).
- Learn to lead spring and summer educational farm field trips for school and community groups.
- Help lead school garden educational lessons.
- Assist with summer cooking classes at school gardens.
- Learn sustainable school garden practices by assisting with garden maintenance including planting, weeding, watering, harvesting and small construction projects.
- Learn elements involved in new school garden planning and installation.

REQUIRED KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND TRAINING

- Ability to do physical labor outdoors in all weather conditions;
- Ability to lift up to 50 pounds;
- Excellent communication skills;
- Interest in or experience leading youth groups and activities.
- Experience with and/or knowledge of organic gardening.
- Ability to drive a manual transmission vehicle
- Strong manual labor work ethic
- Must pass required background check

Garden City Harvest is an equal opportunity employer.

Applications are due by Friday February 16, 2018. Please send resume to Farm to School Director, Jason Mandala, at Jason@gardencityharvest.org

Updated 10/2017 - 1