Table of Contents

New to the 12th Edition
Features of Read, Reason, Write
Let Connect Composition Help Your Students Achieve Their Goals
Let the Customizable Resources of Create Help You
About the Authors
From the Authors

SECTION 1 CRITICAL READING AND ANALYSIS
Chapter 1 Writers and Their Sources
  Reading, Writing, and the Contexts of Argument
  Responding to Sources
  Abraham Lincoln, “The Gettysburg Address”
    The Response to Content
    The Analytic Response
    The Evaluation Response
    The Research Response
  Deborah Tannen, “Who Does the Talking Here?”
Writing Summaries
  Guidelines for Writing Summaries
Active Reading: Use Your Mind!

Guidelines for Active Reading

Ruth Whippman, “Actually, Let’s Not Be in the Moment”

Using Paraphrase

Acknowledging Sources Informally

Referring to People and Sources

Joel Achenbach, “The Future Is Now: It’s Heading Right At Us, But We Never See It Coming”

Presenting Direct Quotations: A Guide to Form and Style

Reasons for Using Quotation Marks

A Brief Guide to Quoting

For Reading and Analysis

Alex Knapp, “Five Leadership Lessons from James T. Kirk”

Suggestions for Discussion and Writing

Chapter 2  Responding Critically to Sources

Traits of the Critical Reader/Thinker

Examining the Rhetorical Context of a Source

Who Is the Author?

What Type—or Genre—of Source Is It?

What Kind of Audience Does the Author Anticipate?

What is the Author’s Primary Purpose?

What Are the Author’s Sources of Information?

Analyzing the Style of a Source

Denotative and Connotative Word Choice

Tone

Level of Diction

Sentence Structure

Metaphors
Organization and Examples
Repetition
Hyperbole, Understatement, and Irony
Quotation Marks, Italics, and Capital Letters

Alexandra Petri, “Nasty Women Have Much Work to Do”

Writing about Style
Understanding Purpose and Audience
Planning the Essay
Drafting the Style Analysis
A Checklist for Revision

Ellen Goodman, “In Praise of a Snail’s Pace”
Student Essay: James, Goode, “A Convincing Style”

Analyzing Two or More Sources
Guidelines for Preparing a Contrast Essay

For Reading and Analysis
Adam Grant, “Why I Taught Myself to Procrastinate”

Suggestions for Discussion and Writing

SECTION 2  THE WORLD OF ARGUMENT

Chapter 3  Understanding the Basics of Argument
Characteristics of Argument
Argument Is Conversation with a Goal
Argument Takes a Stand on an Arguable Issue
Argument Uses Reasons and Evidence
Argument Incorporates Values
Argument Recognizes the Topic’s Complexity

The Shape of Argument: What We Can Learn from Aristotle

Ethos (about the Writer/Speaker)
The Language of Argument

Facts
Inferences
Judgments

Sam Wang and Sandra Aamodt, “Your Brain Lies to You”

The Shape of Argument: What We Can Learn from Toulmin

Claims
Grounds (or Data or Evidence)
Warrants
Backing
Qualifiers
Rebuttals

Using Toulmin’s Terms to Analyze Arguments

Erin Brodwin, “The Secret to Efficient Teamwork Is Ridiculously Simple”

For Analysis and Debate

Christina Paxson, “A Safe Space for Freedom of Expression”
Geoffrey R. Stone, “Free Speech on Campus”

Suggestions for Discussion and Writing

Chapter 4  Writing Effective Arguments

Know Your Audience

Who Is My Audience?
What Will My Audience Know about My Topic?
Where Does My Audience Stand on the Issue?
How Should I Speak to My Audience?

Understanding Your Writing Purpose
What Type (Genre) of Argument Am I Preparing?
What Is My Goal?
Will the Rogerian or Conciliatory Approach Work for Me?

Move from Topic to Claim to Possible Support

- Selecting a Topic
- Drafting a Claim
- Listing Possible Grounds
- Listing Grounds for the Other Side or Another Perspective
- Planning Your Approach

Draft Your Argument
- Guidelines for Drafting

Revise Your Draft
- Rewriting
- Editing
- A Few Words about Words and Tone
- Proofreading
- A Checklist for Revision

For Analysis and Debate

Darius Rejali, “Five Myths about Torture and Truth”
M. Gregg Bloche, “Torture Is Wrong—But It Might Work”

Suggestions for Discussion and Writing

Chapter 5  Reading, Analyzing, and Using Visuals and Statistics in Argument

Responding to Visual Arguments
- Visual Rhetoric and Visual Literacy
- Guidelines for Reading Photographs
- Guidelines for Reading Political Cartoons
- Guidelines for Reading Advertisements

Reading Graphics
Understanding How Graphics Differ

Guidelines for Reading Graphics

The Uses of Authority and Statistics

Judging Authorities

Understanding and Evaluating Statistics

Guidelines for Evaluating Statistics

Writing the Investigative Argument

Gathering and Analyzing Evidence

Planning and Drafting the Essay

Guidelines for Writing an Investigative Argument

Analyzing Evidence: The Key to an Effective Argument

Preparing Graphic for Your Essay

A Checklist for Revision

Student Essay: Garrett Berger, “Buying Time”

For Reading and Analysis

Joe Navarro “Every Body’s Talking”

Suggestions for Discussion and Writing

Chapter 6 Learning More about Argument: Induction, Deduction, Analogy, and Logical Fallacies

Induction

Deduction

“The Declaration of Independence”

Analogy

Logical Fallacies

Causes of Illogic

Fallacies That Result from Oversimplifying

Fallacies That Result from Avoiding the Real Issue

For Reading and Analysis

Elizabeth Cady Stanton, “Declaration of Sentiments”
Peter Wehner,”In Defense of Politics, now More Than Ever Before”

SECTION 3 STUDYING SOME ARGUMENTS BY GENRE

Chapter 7 Definition Arguments
Defining as Part of an Argument
When Defining Is the Argument
Strategies for Developing an Extended Definition
Guidelines for Evaluating Definition Arguments
Preparing a Definition Argument
A Checklist for Revision
Student Essay: Laura Mullins, “Paragon or Parasite?”
For Analysis and Debate
Robin Givhan, “Glamour, That Certain Something”
Nicholas Haslam,”Crossing the Aegean Is Traumatic; Having a Bad Hair Day Isn’t.”

Chapter 8 Evaluation Arguments
Characteristics of Evaluation Arguments
Types of Evaluation Arguments
Guidelines for Analyzing an Evaluation Argument
Preparing an Evaluation Argument
A Checklist for Revision
Student Review: Ian Habel, “Winchester’s Alchemy: Two Men and a Book”
Evaluating an Argument: The Rebuttal or Refutation Essay
Guidelines for Preparing a Refutation or Rebuttal Argument
Douglas Holtz-Eakin, “Globalization Shouldn’t Be a Dirty Word”
For Analysis and Debate
Thomas Sowell, “Christmas-Tree Totalitarians”

Chapter 9 The Position Paper: Claims of Values
Characteristics of the Position Paper
Guidelines for Analyzing a Claim of Value

Preparing a Position Paper

A Checklist for Revision

Student Essay: Chris Brown, “Examining the Issue of Gun Control”

For Analysis and Debate

Zainab Chaudry, “Ending Intolerance Toward Minority Communities: Hate Attacks on Sikh Americans”

Kate Wise Whitehead, “A Never Ending War”

Haider Javed Warraich, “On Assisted Suicide, Going Beyond ‘Do No Harm’”

Suggestions for Discussion and Writing

Chapter 10  Arguments about Cause

Characteristics of Causal Arguments

An Example of Causal Complexity: Lincoln’s Election and the Start of the Civil War

Mill’s Methods for Investigating Causes

Guidelines for Analyzing Causal Arguments

Preparing a Causal Argument

A Checklist for Revision

For Analysis and Debate

Caroline Simard, “‘Daring to Discuss Women in Science’: A Response to John Tierney”

David A. Strauss, “A New Wave of Equality”

Suggestions for Discussion and Writing

Chapter 11  Presenting Proposals: The Problem/Solution Arguments

Characteristics of Problem/Solution Arguments

Guidelines for Analyzing Problem/Solution Arguments

Priya Natarajan, “Want More Scientists? Turn Grade Schools into Laboratories”

Preparing a Problem/Solution Argument

A Checklist for Revision
For Analysis and Debate

Branden Allenby, “After Armstrong’s Fall, the Case for Performance Enhancement”

Gretchen Carlson, “My Fight Against Sexual Harassment”

Jonathan Swift, “A Modest Proposal”

Suggestions for Discussion and Writing

SECTION 4 THE RESEARCHED AND FORMALLY DOCUMENTED ARGUMENT

Chapter 12 Locating, Evaluating, and Preparing to Use Sources

Selecting a Good Topic

What Type of Paper Am I Preparing?

Who Is My Audience?

How Can I Select a Good Topic?

What Kinds of Topics Should I Avoid?

Writing a Tentative Claim or Research Proposal

Preparing a Working Bibliography

Basic Form for Books

Basic Form for Articles

Locating Sources

The Book Catalog

The Reference Collection

Electronic Databases

Guidelines for Using Online Databases

The Internet

Guidelines for Searching the Web

Field Research

Federal, State, and Local Government Documents

Correspondence

Interviews
Films, DVDs, Television
Surveys, Questionnaires, and Original Research
Evaluating Sources, Maintaining Credibility
Guidelines for Evaluating Sources
Preparing an Annotated Bibliography
Student Annotated Bibliography: David Donaldson, “Tell Us What You Really Are: The Debate over Labeling Genetically Modified Food”

Chapter 13 Writing the Researched Essay
Guideline for Studying Sources
Avoiding Plagiarism
What is Common Knowledge?
Using Signal Phrases to Avoid Confusion
Guidelines for Appropriately Using Sources
Organizing the Paper
Drafting the Essay
Plan Your Time
Handle In-Text Documentation as You Draft
Choose an Appropriate Writing Style
Write Effective Beginnings
Avoid Ineffective Openings
Compose Solid, Unified Paragraphs
Write Effective Conclusions
Avoid Ineffective Conclusions
Choose an Effective Title
Revising the Paper: A Checklist
Rewriting
Editing
Proofreading
The Completed Paper

Chapter 14 Formal Documentation: MLA Style, APA Style

Guidelines for Using Parenthetical Documentation

The Simplest Patterns of Parenthetical Documentation

Placement of Parenthetical Documentation

Parenthetical Citations of Complex Sources

Preparing MLA Citations for a Works Cited List

Forms for Books: Citing the Complete Book
Forms for Books: Citing Part of a Book
Forms for Periodicals: Articles from Magazines, Journals and Newspapers
Forms for Digital Sources
Forms for Other Print and Nonprint Sources

Author/Year or APA Style

APA Style: In-Text Citations

APA Style: Preparing a List of References

Form for Books
Form for Articles
Form for Electronic Sources

Sample Student Essay in APA Style: Carissa Ervine, “The Relationship Between Depression and Marital Status”

SECTION 5 A COLLECTION OF READINGS

Chapter 15 The Media: Image and Reality

Mark Edmundson, “Off to See the Wizard”

Student Essay: Sienna Walker, “Big Pun’s Prophesy”

Stuart Elliott, “Coca-Cola—Taste the Change”

Tim Wu, “Mother Nature Is Being Brought to You By . . .”
Heather C. McGhee, “‘I’m Prejudiced,’ He Said. Then We Kept Talking.”

Chapter 16  The Internet and Social Media: Their Impact on Our Lives
Steven Pinker, “Mind over Mass Media”
Susan B. Crawford, “The New Digital Divide”
Fareed Zakaria, “Bile, Venom, and Lies: How I Was Trolled on the Internet”
Liza Tucker, “The Right to Bury the (Online) Past”
Caitlin Gibson, “Clever Is Forever”
George Yancy, “I Am a Dangerous Professor”

Chapter 17  Marriage and Gender Issues: The Debates Continue
Meg Jay, “The Downside of Living Together”
Stephanie Coontz, “Paternal Leave Helps Families”
Lisa Jaster, “Women Will Make Units Stronger”
Jonathan Rauch, “Here’s How 9 Predictions about Gay Marriage Turned Out”
Gloria Steinem, “Supremacy Crimes”

Chapter 18  Issue in Education
Richard D. Kahlenberg, “To Really Integrate Schools, Focus on Wealth Not Race”
Kate Walsh, “The Faux Teacher Shortage”
Joseph Zengerle, “Why Future Officers Should Study Shakespeare”
Charles R. Pruitt, “Partisan Politics Is Undermining the Public Ivies”
Howard Gardner, “Why Kids Cheat at Harvard”

Chapter 19  The Environment: How Do We Sustain It?
Gregory Kennedy, SJ, “Trash Talk”
Michael Novacek, “The Sixth Extinction: It Happened to Him. It’s Happening to You”
Bob Silberg, “Why a Half-degree Temperature Rise Is a Big Deal”
Alexander Starritt, “The Cleverest Countries on Climate Change—and What We Can Learn from Them”
Art Carden, “On Climate Change, Government Is Not the Answer”
Rachel Nuwer, “Most Ivory for Sale Come from Recently Killed Elephants—Suggesting Poaching Is Taking Its Toll”

Chapter 20  Laws and Rights: Gun Control and Immigration Debates
Daniel Webster and Ronald Daniels, “Guns on Campus Only Invite Tragedies”
David B. Rivkin, Jr., and Andrew M. Grossman, “The Wrong Way to Control Guns”
Robert Wilson, “Common Sense: It’s Time for Police Officers to Start Demanding Gun Laws That Could End Up Saving Their Own Lives”
Amy Chua, “Immigrate, Assimilate”
Roberto Suro, “Legal, Illegal”
Janet Napolitano, “The Truth about Young Immigrants and DACA”

Chapter 21  America: Past, Present, Future
Abraham Lincoln, “Second Inaugural Address”
Deidre N. McCoskey, “Equality, Liberty, Justice, and Wealth”
Barack Obama, “Remarks by the President at the 50th Anniversary of the Selma to Montgomery Marches”
Kwame Anthony Appiah, “How the Future Will Judge Us”
Anne Applebaum, “Trump’s Dark Utopian Nationalism”
Neil DeGrasse Tyson, “A Cosmic Perspective”

Appendix  Understanding Literature
Getting the Faces: Active Reading, Summary, and Paraphrase
Paul Lawrence Dunbar, “Promise”
Kate Chopin, “The Story of an Hour”
    Summary of “The Story of an Hour”
William Shakespeare, “Sonnet 116”
    Paraphrase of “Sonnet 116”
Seeing Connections: Analysis
Analysis of Narrative Structure
Analysis of Character
Analysis of Elements of Style and Tone

Drawing Conclusions: Interpretation

Writing about Literature
Andrew Marvell, “To His Coy Mistress”
Christopher Marlowe, “The Passionate Shepherd to His Love”
Sir Walter Raleigh, “The Nymph’s Reply to the Shepherd”
A. E. Housman, “Is My Team Ploughing”
Amy Lowell, “Taxi”
Janet Talliaferro, “The Last Civilized Act”
Susan Glaspell, “Trifles”

Sample Student Literary Analysis: Alan Peterson, “Faulkner’s Realistic Initiation Theme”

Suggestions for Discussion and Writing

Photo Credits
Index

About the Authors

Dorothy Seyler is Professor Emerita of English at Northern Virginia Community College. A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the College of William and Mary, Dr. Seyler holds advanced degrees from Columbia University and the State University of New York at Albany. She taught at Ohio State University, the University of Kentucky, and Nassau Community College before moving with her family to Northern Virginia.

In addition to articles published in both scholarly journals and popular magazines, Dr. Seyler is the author of 10 college textbooks, including Introduction to Literature, Doing Research, Steps to College Reading, and Patterns of Reflection. Read, Reason, Write was first published in 1984. In 2007 she was elected to membership in the Cosmos Club in Washington, DC, for “excellence in education.”
Professor Seyler is also the author of The Obelisk and the Englishman: The Pioneering Discoveries of Egyptologist William Bankes (2015), a “fascinating story,” according to Kirkus Reviews, “of a figure who deserves to be much better known.” She enjoys tennis, golf, and travel—and writing about both sports and travel.

Allen Brizee is Associate Professor of Writing at Loyola University Maryland. At Loyola, Dr. Brizee teaches courses in first-year writing, rhetoric, technical writing, and writing for the web. He also coordinates the writing internship program. Allen began his academic journey as a student of Dorothy’s at Northern Virginia Community College (NVCC). After graduating, he transferred to Virginia Tech, where he earned a BA in English (Phi Beta Kappa) and a Master’s in English.

Professor Brizee taught part time at NVCC, The George Washington University, and the University of Maryland while working as a technical writer. He then completed his PhD at Purdue and, while there, also worked on the widely used Purdue Online Writing Lab (OWL).

Professor Brizee’s research interests include writing pedagogy and civic engagement, and he has published articles in a number of academic journals. He co-authored Partners in Literacy: A Writing Center Model for Civic Engagement (2016) and co-edited Commitment to Justice in Jesuit Higher Education, 3rd edition (2016). He enjoys collaborating with community groups in Baltimore and participating in medieval martial arts.