Introduction

This Annual Report for 2018 covers a period of intense activity and change. You will see just how much has been achieved in terms of the Development Plan and in supporting the overall Diocesan strategy, Called Together, as we seek to grow disciples, enrich communities, and resource mission and ministry. There has been a significant turnover of staff, on the floor of the Cathedral and at Garth House. With this has come the opportunity to review and refresh how we do things and many policies and procedures have been revised and rewritten.

It was once said to me that a single person doesn’t change an organisation, but culture and good people do. This year we have experienced an immense shift towards changing the prevailing culture of the Cathedral, especially around safeguarding. New policies and tighter governance have helped to create a more robust and healthier organisation, but this has only been made possible by the hard work of good people. There is still more to be done and there is no room for complacency; we remain on a journey of learning together. Nevertheless, a significant step has been taken and I am extremely grateful to all those who have been diligently involved.

The Music Department has been greatly blessed by the dedication and skill of our Interim Director, Adrian Bawtree. Adrian has been a calming and reassuring presence, helping to improve best practice and the quality of the music. He has been an exceptional colleague and we wish him well as he returns to Canterbury Cathedral. Our thanks also to the ‘big sister’ for agreeing to release Adrian at a crucial time for Rochester. We look forward to building on Adrian’s legacy and that of Jeremy Lloyd, the Assistant Director, who was appointed this year and who has equally helped to set a new tone.

As ever, the commitment of staff and hundreds of volunteers enables the Cathedral to remain open and function safely as a place of welcome and worship. I’m extremely grateful for the way people seem always prepared to go the extra mile and give of themselves. Increased activity, and at times a shortage of staff, has meant we have been stretched to the limit, but, as ever, the challenges have drawn people together as a community, committed to all that is good in our common life under God.

Lord, for all that has been – Thanks. For all that shall be – Yes.

The Very Reverend Dr Philip Hesketh AKC
Dean of Rochester
Rochester Cathedral: Growing in Christ since AD604

The primary purpose of Rochester Cathedral is to be a centre of Christian worship and mission; it is the seat of the Bishop of Rochester and the mother church of the Diocese of Rochester. Everything we do is rooted in prayer and worship.

Development Plan

The Cathedral community continued to work towards the five Key Aims of our Development Plan:

1. Grow our communities through prayer, worship and action
2. Develop opportunities for personal and spiritual growth
3. Strengthen our engagement with our partners and stakeholders through listening and collaboration
4. Maintain and improve our historic buildings, spaces, monuments and collections
5. Become a more sustainable and resilient organisation

These are underpinned by prayer, with a particular aspect of the Plan being a focus each day at Morning Prayer in the Cathedral.

There is a period of silent prayer each morning from 7.30am followed by a short reading from the Rule of St Benedict.
Highlights of 2018

Key Aim 1

Volunteers
We now have over 350 active volunteers and continued to recruit new volunteers throughout the year, for many different roles. As well as offering role-specific training, we held two events specially to thank all our volunteers – a summer drinks party in the Garth and pre-Christmas Evensong, mince pies and drinks in the Crypt.

Vocations
Several members of the congregation began or continued exploring vocations to lay or ordained ministry, and the Cathedral’s ordinand completed his first year of part-time training. A former member of the Cathedral congregation was amongst those ordained in September.

The ‘Being a Community’ group was set up as part of the Diocesan strategy exploring a Rhythm of Life (10–15 members).
Key Aim 3

Strengthen our engagement with our partners and stakeholders through listening and collaboration

Thy Kingdom Come

The Cathedral co-ordinated a prayer diary of over 300 events around the Diocese between Ascension Day and Pentecost, joining and supporting parishes, deaneries, chaplaincies and church schools in prayer for the growth of God’s kingdom.

Diocesan schools

- The Cathedral’s learning team worked closely with the Diocesan Board of Education, particularly with the annual Diocesan Schools Festival for three days in June, attended by 1,001 Year 6 pupils

Outreach

- A sponsored sleepover in the Cathedral in February raised over £3,000 for the Church Urban Fund
- The Sunday Club organised the collection of toys from the congregation at the annual Toy Service in November; these were donated to local families in Strood
Key Aim 4
Maintain and improve our historic buildings, spaces, monuments and collections

Textus Roffensis
From October, the Cathedral’s own Textus Roffensis was exhibited in ‘Anglo-Saxon Kingdoms’, a major international exhibition at The British Library.

Library
- More volunteers joined the Library team, bringing considerable and varied expertise
- A volunteer conservator restored the entire collection of books belonging to Dean Samuel Reynolds Hole, in anticipation of the commemoration, in 2019, of the 200th anniversary of his birth
- Work continued on the mammoth task of cataloguing the Library, following its refurbishment.

Architectural research
- A three-year graffiti survey was completed, with over 7,000 graffiti photographed, dating from the 12th to the 21st century. This huge dataset enabled identification of the locations of medieval shrines and revealed that the west façade of the building was painted with biblical scenes in the 13th century; this helps our understanding of how the masons built the Cathedral in the 12th century.
- In June an article entitled ‘Pictorial and symbolic graffiti at Rochester Cathedral’ was featured in Archaeologia Cantiana, the journal of the Kent Archaeological Society. More articles will follow
- The Cathedral’s Research Guild continued to make all of its work freely available to an academic standard; much of it published in academic journals and/or presented at conferences. As a result, the Cathedral and its collections are increasingly featured in local, national and international academic publications.

Cloister Garth
Thanks to a generous grant from the Garfield Weston Foundation, much work was done to explore the feasibility of developing the Cloister Garth and Chapter House areas, with a focus on learning, conservation, access and sustainability.
Key Aim 5
Become a more sustainable and resilient organisation

Finance, Risk and Audit
In response to the Cathedrals Working Group report, the Finance Committee was reshaped as Finance, Risk and Audit. The Committee works in conjunction with the board of Rochester Cathedral Enterprises Ltd to ensure robust budgeting and forward planning, including:

- Regular finance updates to the Cathedral Council, College of Canons and Cathedral Community Forum and end of year accounts and budgets
- Continuous monitoring and reporting of cash flow to ensure financial stability.

Estate
Chapter adopted a protocol for managing property transactions, to help it to discharge its duty to manage the Cathedral’s property prudently and responsibly.

The Rochester Bridge Trust took a lease for five years of St. Andrew’s House, the former Tea Rooms, and very generously carried out substantial works of improvement.

Safeguarding
Chapter continued to work closely with the Diocese on safeguarding matters. Under its auspices: the Cathedral Safeguarding Officer is shared with the Diocese, and Chapter is represented on the Bishop’s Safeguarding Advisory Panel and the Diocesan Safeguarding Executive Committee. All volunteers completed basic awareness safeguarding training and additional training has been undertaken by clergy, Chapter members and staff.

Café in the Crypt
The Café opened in February. Staffed by volunteers, it became popular as both a café and meeting place, helping the Cathedral’s ministry of hospitality and generating useful income.

Rochester Cathedral Trust
The Trust continued to support the work of the Cathedral. During the year the Trust held three fundraising concerts, a quiz night, a fundraising nave dinner and made specific appeals for the Music Endowment and a number of smaller projects. Grants in 2018 for the Music Endowment totalled £71,630 with an additional support of £21,000 towards the running costs of the Cathedral’s music department. In total the Trust received over £255,000 during 2018 and was able to make grants to the Cathedral of almost £193,000. Of particular note was a pledge of £100,000 from the Henry Oldfield Charity towards the cost of the restoration of the Cathedral’s southern presbytery pinnacle.

The Venerable Simon Burton-Jones ceased to be a member of Chapter when in July he was consecrated Bishop of Tonbridge, and in September was installed as The Rt Revd Simon Burton-Jones in a different stall in the Quire.

Governance: Cathedrals Working Group

The Church of England’s national Cathedrals Working Group published a report, which was debated at General Synod in July. The report proposes significant changes to the governance and operation of English cathedrals. The Chapter and individual members of the Cathedral community responded to the consultation. Chapter is broadly in favour of the recommendations and has begun to implement changes to bring Rochester Cathedral into line with the proposals.
