SHERLOCK HOLMES & MORIARTY ASSOCIATES

If you are Watson, you may ask four questions, but only three if you are Holmes or Moriarty. When questioning a witness for the first time, write their name in one of the spaces provided. Then, for each question asked, mark one of the checkboxes next to their name. Be careful, as certain questions could offend your witness and immediately end the questioning.

When playing as Moriarty, you may be given the option to threaten a suspect. If you do so, they will reveal a secret, but they will refuse to answer further questions, no matter how many questions were asked.
