SHIPS AHOY!

TO GILLIGAN'S ISLAND

Coming to Melbourne in 2018...

Humdrum Comedy and Left Bauer Productions announced today that the stage musical adaptation of Sherwood Schwartz's hit television show Gilligan's Island will be coming to Australia in 2018. The musical is set to open in Melbourne in February for a strictly limited season.

A Co-Production between television production house Humdrum Comedy (We are Darren and Riley, Hitstroke FM) and theatre company Left Bauer Productions (Harvey Milk – the Opera, Master Class); the zany musical will play at Chapel Off Chapel, February 15 – March 4, 2018.

Gilligan's Island: The Musical features a book by original series creator Sherwood Schwartz and Lloyd J Schwartz, and original music penned by Hope Juber and Laurence Juber (guitarist for Paul McCartney and Wings).

Casting details yet to be confirmed.

The Jubers say, "We are thrilled that Sherwood's timeless TV castaways are now finding their way down-under. Humdrum Comedy and Left Bauer Productions provide the ideal combination of talents to bring these classic characters to life on stage and reinvent the show for a new audience."

The production's creative team so far are:

Director: Kai Mann-Robertson

Musical Director: Xavier McGettigan

Produced by: Riley Nottingham (Humdrum Comedy) & Claudia Validum and Michele Bauer (Left Bauer Productions)

Production & Stage Manager: Jayson Fry

Lighting Design: Rob Sowinski

Sound Design: Marcello Lo Ricco

Costume Design: Jodi Hope
