A Brief Look at the Soldiers and Sailors that served in the Mexican and Civil War Buried at Oak Mound Cemetery in Healdsburg, California

Information compiled by Kyle Eddinger
Private Franklin Bedwell

Franklin Bedwell was born on the 21st August 1810 in White, Tennessee to Ira Theophilus Bedwell and Barbara Jane Catron. In 1846, he enlisted in the Mexican War under command of Colonel Fremont. In their first engagement the Americans took several prisoners, whom they sent to Sacramento. Thinking the enemy subdued, they returned to the Alexander home, but within a few days were again called out. Arriving at the old Santa Rosa House, they learned that the Mexicans had captured some of the Americans, who had got lost from the main company.

In a spirited attack they killed six Spaniards and wounded several more. After several skirmishes about Sonoma and San Rafael under Fremont, the company of 75 retired to Sacramento. From there they were ordered to San Diego, where the company was divided, a portion going to Los Angeles. Bedwell was left at San Diego, where with others he was engaged in guarding the bay under command of Captain Hensley. In 1846 Colonel Fremont made a treaty with the Mexicans which ended the strife. Returning home, Bedwell remained on his ranch until 1848, when he followed the lure of the gold mines. When the 1850 Census was taken he was making his home in Sonoma County, California living with Cyrus Alexander and Family. When the 1852 Census was taken he is making his home in Sonoma County, California. On the 7th August 1852, he married Salino McMinn in Sonoma County, California. When the 1860 Census was taken he was making his home in Washington, Sonoma County, California.

JOHN COOK IS DEAD

Message Came as He Slept After a Day’s Work in the Field

‘Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams.’ And that was the way life’s close came to John Cook, Monday night after a residence in Healdsburg of forty-eight years, almost to a day.

Mr. Cook had no premonition that the end of life was near. He had been engaged for some days in caring for his hay crop at the little ranch on the river south of town, and it is probable that over-exertion in pitching hay was the primary cause of his death.

He had appeared as well as usual in the evening, and before retiring asked his wife to make a glass of lemonade for him. When Mrs. Cook retired, an hour or so later, Mr. Cook was sleeping quietly. She was awakened soon after by the coughing of her husband. She raised his head, but he passed away without opening his eyes, and apparently in his sleep.

Mr. Cook was born near Louisville, Kentucky, December 23d, 1827. When a young man he went to Minnesota, which was his home for a few years. During the Mexican War he organized a company of volunteers, of which he was captain, but his company was mustered out without being called to the front.

He went to Iowa in 1862, and was there married the same year to the wife who has been his life’s companion for more than half a century.

They crossed the plains to Nevada on their wedding trip, and after a brief stay in Nevada located at Lake Tahoe, high up in the Sierras, where Mr. Cook engaged in sawmilling and in conducting a hotel for a number, of years.

They came to Healdsburg, then but a hamlet, in May, 1865 and this city has been their home continuously since that time—forty-eight years ago Four of their five children were born in Healdsburg. Of these children, Dr. William Cook and Frank Cook are residents of Eureka, and the three daughters, Mrs. Anna Whalen, Mrs. T. Lindsay and Mrs. E. P. Farmer, are residents of Oakland.

Mr. Cook had enjoyed good health all his life, never having been under a doctor’s care. Up to the day of his death, for many years, he had taken entire care of his fruit ranch of seven acres. Much of the time he spent alone on the ranch, and at times he would drive daily back and forth.

He was a man of kindly nature — a real gentleman—and his life was an open book. He was a member of the Adventist Church, and his religion entered into and was a part of his daily life.

Private Thomas W. Goodwyn

Thomas W. Goodwyn was born on the 26th May 1803 in England. In 1828, he ran with the Fire Department "Crooked Five" on Ann Street in New York. In 1830 he went to Patterson, New Jersey and was then elected a member of No. 1, afterward serving as foreman for about 4 years. In 1838 he was instrumental in establishing the Quincy, Illinois department where he was foreman of a company (until 1849). On the 18th April 1840, he was naturalized as a US Citizen in Adams County, Illinois. On the 30th May 1846, he enlisted as a Private in Company D, 2nd Tennessee Infantry Regiment under Captain Ruth. On the 17th April 1847, he was wounded in action in a skirmish near Cerro Gordo.

“Cerro Gordo was a strategic mountain pass along the national road between Vera Cruz and Mexico City. Facing each other in this battle were the armies of Gen. Winfield Scott and Gen. Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna. The battle, in which the First and Second Tennessee Infantry regiments greatly distinguished themselves, was the first in a string of American victories that led to the capture of Mexico City. Santa Anna believed the American victory at Cerro Gordo was the most significant of the war. A town in Hardin County is named for this battle.”1

He was left at the hospital at Jalapa on the 6th May 1847. He mustered out of service on the 27th May 1847 at New Orleans, Louisiana. In 1850 he moved to California, which connected him with the Coast department where he remained for five years, returning to Quincy, Illinois where he assumed the duties of Chief a position he held for about 10 years. When the 1860 Census was taken he is making his home in Quincy Ward 2, Adams County, Illinois working as a Gun Smith. In 1868 and 1869, he was the route agent for the US Mail on the Mississippi and Missouri rivers between Keokuk and St. Louis. In 1879, he is making his home in Mendocino, Sonoma County, California working as a Gun Smith. When the 1880 Census was taken he is making his home in University Street, Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California working as a Gun Smith. The Following is part of an article from the Russian River Flag on the 13th January 1888:

“Dec. 23, 1883. We the undersigned members of Fire Co., No. 1, certify that Thos. Goodwyn was an old and valuable member of Fire Co., No. 1, served many years as foreman of the engine and afterwards as chief engineer of the department, We would refer to the records of the company but unfortunately they wore lost in the horning of T. D. Woodruff’s music and piano store three years ago. He (Woodruff) being the secretary of the old company at its disbandment. Mr. Goodwyn was a charter member of No. 1 at its organization in 1839 and was elected chief in 38 or 9.

Signed R.H. Benneson, Engineer Steamer No. 1.”

On the 3rd October 1888, he passed away in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California.

AN OLD RESIDENT GONE
Death has again visited our city and the spirit of Thomas W. Goodwyn has taken its Right to Him who gave it. He had been stricken with paralysis some weeks since, and although his age and infirmities made it a certainty that he would never again rise from his bed, every possible care and medical attention that competent physicians could give was given. On Wednesday, after a few weeks lingering illness, he passed peacefully away surrounded by sympathetic friends. During his illness his son has been constant and faithful in his devotion, never allowing a moment to pass without being at his bedside to minister to his every wish. Mr. Goodwyn had resided in this community for a number of years and was known as a man of principle and integrity, and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was an active fireman at the time of his death, and had been connected with the Fire Department ever since taking up his residence in this city, and although advanced in years would promptly and faithfully respond to the call of the fire bell. He was found foremost in answering the call and prompt and faithful in the discharge of duty, and was ever alive to the interest of the department. His history as a fireman is varied and interesting as will be shown by the following extract from the “Fireman’s Herald.”

Healdsburg, Cal., boasts of an old fireman, Thomas W. Goodwyn, who ran with the “Crooked Fives,” in Ann street, New York ‘way back in 1838. In 1830 he went to Paterson, N.J., and was then elected a member of No. 1, afterward serving as foreman for about font years. In 1838 he was instrumental in establishing the Quincy, Ill., department where he was foreman of a company until 1849. The year 1850 found him in California, when he connected himself with the Coast department where he remained for about five years, returning to Quincy to assume the duties of chief, which position he held for about ten years, afterward relinquishing that position to return to the ranks. Mr. Goodwyn is now 88 years of age, having been born May 28, 1803. He recently ran to a fire and made good time. A fireman, especially an old-timer, never grows old.

He was buried in Oak Mound cemetery on Friday, the funeral being under the auspices of the fire department. The remains were followed to their last resting place by his many friends and associates. He had lived to a ripe old age, having reach his eighty-sixth year, and it may well he said that his life was a life of usefulness, and a continued endeavor to “do unto others as he would be done by.”

1st Lieutenant Lewis Adelbert Norton

Lewis Adelbert Norton was born on the 13th August 1819 in Chautauqua, Franklin County, New York to Lewis Adelbert Norton and Ann Burkart. He grew up in Canada and western New York, but was banished from Canada for taking the Patriot side in the Rebellion of 1837-1838, he then settled in Illinois. In the Fall of 1840, he married Miss Fisk. In June 1846, he enlisted as a 1st Lieutenant in the 2nd Illinois Volunteer Regiment. He was discharged in June 1847. In 1855, he was Captain of the Placerville Guards. In 1856 he moves to Healdsburg, where his law practice involves him in the Squatter War on the Russian River.

When the 1860 Census was taken he is making his home in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California working as a Lawyer. On the 1st September 1865, he married Minnie Molloy in Sonoma County, California. When the 1870 Census was taken he is making his home in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California working as a Lawyer. On the 15th January 1871, his wife Minnie passed away. On the 14th January 1872, he married Emma Turner in Sacramento County, California. When the 1880 Census was taken he is making his home in West Street, Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California working as a Lawyer. On the 16th August 1891, he passed away in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE

L. A. Norton, One of California’s Most Prominent Citizens, Succumbs to Cancer.

At a few minutes past 1 o’clock, Sunday afternoon, Col. Lewis A. Norton, a pioneer of California, died of cancer of the throat at his home on West North street, this city. He had been suffering long and excruciatingly from that deadly disease, but fought it hard and courageously and would not yield to his summons to bed until a few days before his demise.

In the death of Col. Norton Healdsburg has lost a good citizen. He was always alive to the interests of this place and enjoyed an enviable reputation for honesty in all his dealings.

His life has been full of daring adventures and his biography as is given below will be read with interest.

Lewis Aldelbert Norton was born in Chautauqua, Franklin Co., New York, in 1818. Shortly after his birth his parents removed to Canada, remaining there until he was eight years old, when they returned to their old homestead in New York.

Lewis Norton was the fifth child of a family of nine, and his parents unfortunately were not blessed with an abundance of worldly possessions. At the age of eleven years Lewis determined —with genuine American independence —to lighten the burden somewhat, or, in other words, to look out for himself.
Accordingly in May, 1829, he left the home nest, on foot, and with but twenty-five cents in his pocket.

The second day after his arrival at Read’s Mill, New York, he went to work receiving $4, per month. At the end of four months he again struck out, going to Ogdensburg, where he crossed the St. Lawrence River, and took a Canadian steamer for Queenstown, en-route to Upper Canada, now known as Canada West.

In the year 1832 he found himself, a mere youth, after eighteen months rambling over the wilds of Canada seven or eight hundred miles from home. At that time the country was but sparsely settled. Travel was almost entirely local, farmers traversing the country with the ox-carts or wagons from their homes to small market towns. In most instances mails were carried on horse back.

After traveling through various parts of Canada he resolved to visit his old home and relatives at Norton Creek, in New York. He accordingly set out, working his way on water, and going on foot on land. On arriving home he endeavored to persuade his family to remove with him to Upper Canada, and finally succeeded doing so.

In 1837 he enrolled as a minute-man with the Patriot forces in the Canadian rebellion against the British Government, daring which he was taken prisoner. While incarcerated he was taken with typhus fever, and was removed from the prison to the hospital. Shortly after his recovery he was released on a sentence of "voluntary banishment," which necessitated his leaving Canada immediately.

Leaving Canada, in company with his family, he settled at Blake River, Michigan, receiving employment on the Michigan canal, then in course of construction from Chicago to La Salle. After working the fall and winter on the canal, the next spring he went to Warrensville, Illinois, settling on 160 acres of government land. He worked at farming for several months, and then set out to visit friends on Fox River.

In the fall of 1840 he was united in marriage with a young lady by the name of Fisk.
When the Mexican War broke out he organized a company and marched to the seat of the conflict, covering himself with distinction.

Returning from the war to Illinois he took up the study of law, being finally admitted to the bar of the Supreme Courts of Illinois, Trumbull, Treat and John Dean then presiding. In 1855 he was appointed District attorney of Western Utah.

Mr. Norton finally resolved to immigrate to California and was one of a party to cross the plains bound for our Golden State. After many interesting events the party arrived at their destination, and Mr. Norton settled in Placerville, El Dorado Co., which, outside of San Francisco, was the most important town of California at that time.

He tried mining a short time and while protecting his claim against a gang of ruffians he sustained injuries which so disabled him that he was forced to give up his claim, and he then commenced the practice of law. On July 5, 1856, Placerville was almost entirely destroyed by fire, Mr. Norton losing $13,000.

Hearing favorable reports of the county of Sonoma he determined to visit it with a view to locating here. In 1855 he paid a brief visit to the county, but his limited time did not permit of an investigation of its resources. He accordingly visited “Old Sonoma” again, and was most favorably impressed with the then small hamlet of Healdsburg. The broad acres of the rich Dry Creek Valley and the fertile Russian River bottom lands lying on each side of the town site, while the little town itself, with its picturesque scenery, and glorious climate afforded superior inducements, and Mr. Norton determined to avail himself of them and settled here, resolved to win a living in the practice of his profession, in which he was successful.

On January 4, 1872, Mr. Norton (then a widower) was united in marriage with Miss Turner of Sacramento.

Mr. Norton figured prominently in the “Squatter War” in this place, being employed as attorney by Dr. L.C. Frisbie of Vallejo, to look after his interests in the Sotoyome Rancho, and later on being employed by J.B. Frisbie and W.H. Patterson, of San Francisco to take charge of the Tabaco Rancho.
Mr. Norton fulfilled his trust in a manner highly creditable to himself, and satisfactory to his employers.

In 1874 he made an extended trip to the East, visiting his old home, and many other States of the Union. He then returned to his Healdsburg home, residing here constantly since. For several years he had not practiced his profession. Much of his time was spent in writing a volume published a few years back under the title of “Memoirs of the Mexican War,” and later on he wrote his own biography which was published in 1878.

Private Thomas Alexander Owens

Thomas Alexander Owens was born on the 4th March 1826 in McMinn County, Tennessee to William Isaac Owens and Ruth Ferrell. He enlisted in June 1846 as a Private in Company H, 2nd Tennessee Infantry Regiment under command of Colonel William T. Haskell. He was discharged in May 1847. On the 17th July 1849, he married Nancy Palestine Rice in McMinn County, Tennessee. When the 1850 Census was taken he is making his home in Subdivision 23, McMinn County, Tennessee. When the 1860 Census was taken he is making his home in Colville, Benton County, Arkansas working as a Farmer. When the 1870 Census was taken he is making his home in Sugar Creek, Benton County, Arkansas working as a Farmer. In 1876, he is making his home in Folsom, Sacramento County, California. In 1880, he is making his home in Suisun, Solano County, California working as a Farmer. In 1888, he is making his home in Mendocino, Sonoma County, California working as a Farmer. In 1892, he is making his home in Healdsburg No. 1, Sonoma County, California working as a Farmer. When the 1900 Census was taken he is making his home on Piper Street, Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California. When the 1910 Census was taken he is making his home in Mendocino, Sonoma County, California. On the 1st January 1911, he passed away in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California.

Mexican War Veteran Makes last Journey

The death of Thos. A. Owen occurred in this city last Wednesday, old age, coupled with neuralgia being the cause of his demise. The deceased was a native of McMinn County, Tennessee, and was aged 85 years, 10 months and 7 days.

Mr. Owen was a Mexican war veteran, serving under both General Scott and General Taylor. In July 1849 he was wedded to Miss Nancy P. Rice of Tennessee, and eleven children blessed their union, seven of which survive to mourn the loss of a loving father. These are Mrs. C.L. Davisson, Mrs. J.B. Brown, Mrs. Fred Haub, Mrs. H.G. Lamb, H.T. Owens, I.L. Owens and G.R. Owens.

In 1873 Mr. Owens and family moved to California, coming to Healdsburg in 1885, and have since resided here. He was a member of the Methodist church. Joining that faith at the age of 14, and was a true Christian man. He possessed many friends whose sympathy goes out to the bereaved widow and family. The funeral services were held Friday, with interment in Oak Mound cemetery.

Corporal Henry Packard

Henry Packard was born on the 6th May 1825 in Parkman, Geauga County, Ohio to Noah Packard and Sophia Bundy. On the 16th July 1846, he enlisted as a Corporal in Company A, Captain Hunt’s Regiment Battery of Iowa Mormon Volunteers at Council Bluff, Iowa. On the 1st August 1846, his regiment reached Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. On August 13th they started with orders to go to Bent's Fort, Colorado. On October 18th they left Santa Fe with 25 government wagons and 60 days rations, 5 company wagons and 12 private family wagons., they ordered that the men to be organized into messes of ten men each. On the 24th they arrived at Albuquerque, New Mexico. From here they traveled south down the western side of the Rio Grande River. On Nov. 13th they left the Rio Grande and began blazing a new wagon trail.

Just before they arrived at Tucson, the garrison of Mexican soldiers stationed there had fled to the south on hearing of their coming. After a short stay they marched north to the Gila River and the Pima Indian villages. From here they basically followed the southern edge of the Gila River to the Yuma crossing of the Colorado and from there to Mexicali, then north to Palm Springs, following the San Luis River through the Temecula Valley arriving at San Luis Rey on the 27th January 1847. Upon reaching California the battalion learned that it had already been secured from Mexico by Fremont and Kearny, but all was not peaceful. From here the battalion was split with one company going to San Diego and four companies, along with Henry, going to Pueblo de Los Angeles, where they built Fort Moore. Sometime between March and April 1847, Henry was promoted to Corporal. On the 16th July 1847, he was discharged at Fort Moore, the government tried to get as many men as possible to re-enlist for another six months. Henry was one of 79 who did. On the 11th September 1847, he was promoted to Sergeant.

"Private Henry Packard, of Company A, Mormon Volunteers, is hereby appointed Sergeant of said company, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Sergeant Lafayette Frost. He will be obeyed and respected accordingly." Order issued at San Diego on September 11, 1847 by Capt. Daniel C. Davis.

On the 14th March 1848, he was discharged at San Diego, California. After he was discharged he moved to Council Bluff, Iowa for a 1 year or 2. When the 1850 Census was taken he was making his home in Salt Lake City, Utah. On the 16th January 1851, he married Mary Marie Chase. On the 7th February 1854, his wife passed away in Salt Lake City, Utah. He lived in Salt Lake City for about 10 years, then removing to Springville, Utah. On the 24th July 1863, he married Almira M. Whiting in Springville, Utah by Lyman S. Wood (Mayor). When the 1870 Census was taken he is making his home in Springville, Utah. When the 1880 Census was taken he is making his home in Springville, Utah working in the Mining Business. In about 1882, he moved to Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California. In 1888, he is

LIFE'S BATTLE FOR HAS ENDED

FORMER SUPERVISOR DUVALL DRAKE PHILLIPS DIED AT HEALDSBURG THURSDAY

The Deceased and S.T. Coulter of This City Fought Side by Side in the Mexican War in 1847

At his home in Healdsburg on Thursday afternoon at one o’clock, Duval Drake Phillips, one of the best known and highly respected pioneers of this county, passed to rest. For several weeks Mr. Phillips had been gradually failing and had been seriously ill for several days.
The deceased had lived in Healdsburg and vicinity for half a century. For many years prior to taking up his residence in the city of Healdsburg his home was on a fine farm in Dry Creek valley. He was a former Supervisor of this county and whenever he chanced to be in Santa Rosa during the sessions of the Board in later years, he always called at Supervisors’ hall to pay his respects.

The deceased was a lifelong friend of S.T. Coulter of this city and together they fought in the Mexican war of 1847. They were members of Company E of the Third Missouri Mounted Volunteers. The deceased came to California and went to the mines in 1849 and soon after his arrival in the State he was married. He moved to this county about 1855.

Mr. Phillips is survived by a wife and three sons. He was nearly eighty-two years of age and had a legion of friends in Healdsburg and vicinity, Santa Rosa and all over the county. He was a member of the Masonic order and under Masonic auspices his funeral will occur on Saturday afternoon.

Ransom Powell Pioneer Resident Died Friday Morning

Last Charter Member of Sotoyome Lodge, F. and A. M., Was Prominent Resident of this City for Over Fifty-six Years.

One of Sonoma county’s noted pioneers, Ransom Powell, passed away at an early hour on Friday morning. His sickness was of but a few hours duration.

For fifty-four years he had been a familiar figure in and around Healdsburg. He was one of the best known men of Sonoma county and had reached a ripe old age—86 years. Only a few of his old friends with whom he was associated are now living. Col. L. A. Norton, E. H. Barnes, John Young and Alex Nalley, strong men mentally and physically, spent their active manhood days in Healdsburg. Of these Mr. Barnes alone remains.

Mr. Powell was a veteran of the Mexican War, having marched with Company G, Col. Doniphans’ regiment from New Franklin, Howard county, Mo., to the battlefield of Buena Vista. He crossed the plains in 1849 to California, and came to Sonoma county in 1854. He and John McManus opened the first dry goods store in Healdsburg.

Mr. Powell was married five times. His last wife, who survives him, was Miss Louisa E. Madeira, a daughter of George Madeira of this city. Three children survive him —Loring Powell of Oklahoma, Dr. J.D. Powell of Sacramento and Mrs. T.H. Roscoe of Palmero, Butte county, California.

He was one of the founders of the Farmers and Mechanics Bank, being for years associated as a director with E.H. Barnes, Alex Nalley, L. A. Norton and R. H. Warfield.

He was a member of Healdsburg Lodge, No. 123, F. & A. M., and was the last charter member to pass away. He was also a member of Healdsburg Lodge, I.O.O.F. The funeral, under the auspices of the Masonic lodge of which he was so long a member, will take place from his late residence near Healdsburg tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Private George Storey

George Storey was born on the 24th December 1824 in Saratoga County, New York. In 1846, he enlisted as a Private in Company C, under the command of Colonel Stevenson, leaving New York on the 26th September 1846.

“This Company was enlisted by John E. Brackett in the City of New York, and conveyed to California in the ship "Loo Choo," arriving at San Francisco on the 26th of March, 1847, and took post at Sonoma in the early part of April, at which place it remained until May, 1848, when the Company was ordered to San Jose near Cape San Lucas, Lower California, and had proceeded as far as Monterey, when the order was countermanded, and the command returned to Sonoma. On the 5th of August, 1848, the Company proceeded to the Presidio, San Francisco, exchanging posts with Company "H," stationed at that point. During the summer and Fall of 1847, a detachment of 35 men from this Company was stationed at Fort Sacramento (Sutter's Fort) for five months. An old resident of Sonoma, writing to the "Californian," at San Francisco at that time the only newspaper published in California—under date of August 5th, 1848, among other subjects, pays the following compliment to this command: "The military company under command of Captain J. E. Brackett is today exchanging posts with Company "H," under command of Captain Frisbie, both of the New York Volunteers. Company "C" has been stationed with us more than a year, and much praise is due its members, not only for the military and soldier-like manner in which they have acquitted themselves as a corps, but for their gentlemanly and orderly deportment, individually and collectively. We regret to part with them, and cannot let them go without expressing a hope that, when peace shall have been declared, their regiment disbanded, and their country no longer needs their services, they may have fallen sufficiently in love with our healthy climate and our beautiful valley to come back and settle."²

He was discharged from service sometime between August and October 1848. When the 1852 Census was taken he is making his home in Mendocino County, California working as a Watchmaker. On the 21st April 1854, he married Susan Bedelle Plum. When the 1870 Census was taken he is making his home in Mendocino, Sonoma County, California working as a Farmer. When the 1880 Census was taken he is making his home on Railroad Street, Mendocino, Sonoma County, California. In 1892, he is making his home on Healdsburg Road, Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California working as a Farmer. When the 1900 Census was taken he is making his home on Railroad Street, Mendocino, Sonoma County, California. When the 1910 Census was taken he is making his home on Dry Creek Road, Mendocino, Sonoma County, California. On the 3rd March 1913, he passed away in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California.

FOUGHT IN MEXICAN WAR

George Storey, Early Pioneer Passes Beyond

George Storey, one of the earliest, of California's pioneers, died Monday at his home on Russian River, south of Healdsburg. He came to California by way of Cape Horn before the discovery of gold, landing in San Francisco on March 26, 1847—nearly sixty-six years ago.

Taking up the life-history of this pioneer citizen in chronological order, he was born in New York, near Saratoga Springs, the day before Christmas in 1824. At five years of age he went with his parents to North Carolina, later returning to Waterford, New York.

At the age of fourteen he went to New City where he served seven years as an apprentice at watchmaking.

At the breaking out of the Mexican War in 1846 he volunteered as a soldier under Col. Stevenson in Company C, leaving New York September 26, 1846. He came by way of the Horn, being exactly six months on the water. He went to Sonoma, where he remained until June 1, 1848, when he went to the old Eldorado mine, Mormon Island. He finally went back to San Francisco, where he worked six months at watchmaking, after which he went to the mines on Feather River. He later returned to Sonoma where he started the old Union Hotel in partnership with Dow and Higgins.

In 1850 he came to the farm below Healdsburg where he remained until his death.
He was married to Susan Bedelle Plum April 21, 1854, by Justice Godwin. A family of nine children was born to them, of whom five are living, Mrs. Sarah Simmons, Tunis Storey, Elizabeth and Hattie Storey and Mrs. Chas. Proctor.

The deceased was a man of upright character and staunch citizenship, and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

The funeral of the aged pioneer was held yesterday afternoon under the direction of the Rev. R.L. Macfarlane. It was very largely attended by citizens of Healdsburg and his neighbors up and down the West Side.

Geo. Storey Took First x Census of Mendocino Co.

A relic of historic interest kept as a souvenir of early days by the late George Storey, who died last week, is a census report of a part of Mendocino county, bearing date of September 20, 1852.

Mendocino county Included at that time the territory that is now Sonoma county, and the entire population of the county is said to have been about 350. Mr. Storey was engaged to take the census.

 Nearly all of the names are of men in the early years of manhood—the twenties and thirties, and the occupations of many is that of seaman. As indicating the scarcity of women in the land of gold in those days, not a single name of a female appears in the part of the census report preserved Mr. Storey. It was the first census taken of Mendocino county.

At one time while making his way over the remote districts of the county in search of inhabitants, he was lost for three days. He finally came upon a camp of Indians, who threatened him with harm, but he made clear his peaceful purpose, and was provided with an Indian guide.
As indicating his skill at his craft as a watchmaker, Mr. Storey, when twenty years old, made a watch, with hand tools entirely. He carried this watch, for fifty years, and it kept good time for this half-century. The watch is still in the possession of the family

Although he lived on his farm for more than sixty years, he never gave up his trade, and worked at repairing watches and clocks for neighbors or friends up to within a few years of, his death, when his failing eyesight put an end to work of this delicate nature.

Pioneer Richard Swift Laid to Rest In Oak Mound Cemetery

Richard Swift, one of the earliest pioneers of California and long a resident of Healdsburg and Sonoma county, was laid to rest in Oak Mound cemetery there on Tuesday. The deceased first came to California in 1846 across the plains and enroute his ox-train came up with the famous Donner caravan. At a certain point of the journey the leader of Mr. Swift’s party disagreed with the leader of the Donner expedition and one party went one way and the other traversed a different route. The Swift caravans came through safely, while most of the Donner party perished near Donner Lake. The deceased leaves a wife and some children.

A Fatal Accident

On Sunday morning as Jas. Adamson who lives about two miles north of town, was leading his cow to pasture, she became frightened in some way, pulling Mr. Adamson to the ground. The rope became fastened about his hand, dragging him for some distance over the rocks and boulders in the enclosure. His children hearing him call, ran to his assistance, but he had expired before they reached him. His neck was broken and he was otherwise badly bruised. He was about 45 years of age and of a very weak constitution, and it is supposed he was unable to regain his footing after the cow had pulled him over. He leaves a wife and three children who are in needy circumstances.

DEATH OF E. T. BALE

Born in California Before the Days of the Argonauts.

Edward T. Bale passed peacefully away at his home in this city Friday evening at 9:22 o'clock, after an illness of about a year's duration. During his illness he suffered considerably, but the end came without pain.

Mr. Bale was born at St. Helena, Napa county, January 7th, 1844. His father, Dr. E. T. Hale, was born in London, England, in 1811 and was there reared and educated to the medical profession. Dr. Bale located at San Francisco in the early days of California and was soon after granted four leagues of land in Napa county, the tract extending from what is now Rutherford Station to the line of Napa and Sonoma counties.

He located at St. Helena, and being a man of extraordinary push and enterprise, he soon commenced improvements which were the wonder of the natives.

Among these were a grist and saw mill

—the first in California—which were operated by water power, and which are still standing on that portion of the Bale grant known as the Lyman place.

The deceased was reared at the home place in Napa county until he was thirteen years of age when he was sent to Boston to be educated. After spending five years at Cambridge College he returned to the ranch.

He was yet a boy at the breaking out of the Civil War, but he enlisted in the service of the Union and was assigned to the First California Cavalry, and commissioned Second Lieutenant by Governor Lowe. He was promoted to First Lieutenant, and finally received from President Lincoln his commission as Captain of Troop D. He served with credit at Salt Lake and in Arizona until the close of the war, when he received an honorable discharge and returned to the ranch. From 1878 to 1880 he represented the railroad company and Wells, Fargo & Co. at Calistoga, and then removed to Sonoma county.

In May, 1872, he was joined in wedlock to Miss Francesca Jaurez. Thirteen children were the result of this union, three of whom are dead. Those living are:
Mrs. Charles Leard, Anita, Ernest, Charles, Mrs. T. W. Murchia of New Brunswick, Canada, Edward, Doda, Thomas, Maria and Harry. Mrs. Bale also belongs to the historic families of California.

Mr. Bale and family came to Healdsburg in 1887 and have resided here ever since.

The funeral was held at St. John’s Catholic Church last Sunday at 2 p. m., the interment being in Oak Mound Cemetery.

Mrs. Jaurez of Napa, Alfred Brook of San Francisco, Mrs. Bismark Brook and Mrs. Brook (Mr. Bale's sister) of St. Helena were in attendance at the funeral.

Private William Henry Barnes

William Henry Barnes was born on the 8th March 1839 in Scott County, Missouri. On the 25th June 1861, he married his wife Sarah Frances Grinsted in Missouri. On the 9th September 1861, he enrolled at Warsaw, Illinois. On the 31st December 1861, he was mustered into service at Hudson City being a Private in Captain Brawner’s Company, Black Hawk Calvary (Later Company A, 7th Missouri Calvary) Missouri Volunteers. On the 7th June 1862, he deserted at Lexington, Missouri. In 1879, his name is found on the Voter Register living in Mendocino Township, Sonoma County, California working as a Shoemaker. When the 1880 Census was taken he is making their home in Mendocino Township, Sonoma County, California working as a Shoemaker. When the 1900 Census was taken he was living on Front Street, Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California. When the 1910 Census was taken he is living at 416 Fitch Street, Mendocino Township, Sonoma County, California, according to the census he owns his own shoemaking shop. When the 1920 Census was taken he is making his home on Fitch Street, Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California. On the 26th May 1920 he passed away in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California.

Obituary in Healdsburg Enterprise

William H. Barnes passed away his home on Fitch street Wednesday afternoon at four o’clock at the age of 81 years.

Mr. Barnes was born in Scott county, Missouri, and at the age of 31 came to California to make his home. His first residence was at Ukiah, Mendocino county, but in 1879 come to Healdsburg and established the town’s first shoe store. He was always interested in the thrift and enterprise of the young town and threw his energies into movements for its progress in every way. He was elected president of the board of trustees of the town and held this position for nine years. It was during this time that his efforts and influence were directed toward the organization of the municipal water and light plant of Healdsburg, universally recognized as one of the finest plants of its size in the country.

On June 25, 1861 he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Frances Grinsted, who like himself was born in Missouri. Nine children were born of this marriage as follows; Mrs. J. R. Miller of Seattle, Mrs. W. C. Chisholm of Windsor, Mrs. Edward Quinn Miss Annie Barnes and Mrs. R. A. Sihileffer of Healdsburg; John T. Barnes W. G. and Ben Barnes of Santa Rosa and C. F. Barnes of San Francisco.

Mr. Barnes was a man of excellent morals and habits and his life was a worthy example to all. He never was a man to make enemies and had implicit confidence in his neighbors. Mr. Raabe is the only merchant left who was in Healdsburg at Mr. Barnes’ coming to town. A lover of music and history and an inveterate reader, his life was a constant inspiration to his family. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at two o’clock from the late home on Fitch Street and will doubtless be under the auspices of the Masonic Order of which he was a long and valued member.

Well Known Citizen Dies in San Francisco
The Funeral of Captain M.V.B. Bronson was held Tuesday under the auspices of Sotoyome Lodge, F. & A. M.

Captain Bronson died suddenly at the home of his daughter in San Francisco last Sunday. He was a well known resident of Healdsburg, and his death was a great surprise. He leaves a widow, two daughters and two sons and three step children.

He was born in New York and was 67 years of age. When eleven years old his parents moved to Vermont, in which State he grew to manhood and acquired the trade of a marble worker. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted in the Second Vermont Infantry for three months. In 1862 he was appointed First Lieutenant of Company F of Sharpshooters. Later he was appointed a Captain of cavalry on the staff of General Hancock, and he subsequently served in a similar capacity under General Grant.

In 1898 he was married to Mrs. Watterman at Santa Rosa, and shortly afterwards moved to Healdsburg.

IN MEMORIAM

Deputy County Clerk Henry Eugene Carver died at the residence of Hurt E. Hailey in Alexander valley Tuesday night at 11 o’clock. For several years he had been suffering more or less with cancer of the stomach. Several weeks ago he felt so unwell that he took a vacation, hoping that a change from his office work might be relieving. But hope was vain and he gradually grew worse. The last two days of his earthly existence was the great struggle of a departing life held to its tenement of clay by a strong will and manly endeavor. But the bravo heart beat slow and slower and the spell of death clouded the brain. A few hours before the end his mind suddenly became clear—a portentous sign—and the watchers knew that all would soon be over. All through his illness he had not considered his life in danger, but had borne tranquilly his sufferings, believing that the weakness was only temporary. On his recovering consciousness the physicians begged his old-time friend, John P. Mulgrew, to notify the dying man of the dread visitant then drawing so near. Mr. Mulgrew shrank from the sad duty, but the surges of the dark river fell near and nearer and in a few brief moments the unmistakable sound of waves would break in upon the ears, etc they became forever deaf to mortal tones.

“John,” said he, when the announcement was made, “it can’t be! I am too young to die! Old fellow life only begins to brighten for me now! Won’t this pass? Why are all the folks here and why do they look so?” But there was no alternative. The strong manly spirit was going away. Life was indeed brightening, but it was a reflex from the glorious life beyond the tomb. Earthly love, however strong, cannot bar back the dread specter. When convinced by his friend's sad and earnest face, he said no more but prepared for departure. He had the watchers at the bedside a tender “good bye” and called his little motherless children to him. No pen may write that parting. The deep pathos of those last words, the tender sweetness of that dying man’s sentences cannot be reproduced on these pages. How feelingly he bode them go forward in a pure and noble life, looking to a meeting again beyond the marge of time, and how earnestly he commended them to the guidance of a Heavenly Father, cannot be told. Then he peacefully passed away. A closing of the eyes, a folding of the hands, a stilling of the heart-throb and life’s journey was done.

Henry Eugene Carver was a native of Maine, born September 7, 1849. He removed to Illinois and at the breaking out of the war he enlisted at an early age as a drummer boy, Ninety-six Illinois Regiment serving two years. He came to this State in 1875. He was engaged in school teaching till 1885, when he was appointed Deputy County Clerk by Mr. Mulgrew. His wife died when his two children were quite young, but Dora and Rolla Carver found in their father’s loving heart the tender care and love of the mother they had lost. Mrs. Burt H. Bailey, his sister is the only other relative which he has in this State. He was affianced to a young lady residing in Seattle, who, seeing from the tenor of his last letters that he was ill, journeyed to his bedside, arriving there a few days before his death, and was thus permitted to soothe with gentle ministrations the passing.

Henry E. Carver’s pure, manly life is ended. His polished manners, his gentle ways, never awoke aught but friendship in those whom he met. His nature, tender as a woman’s never gave pain, and his life-acts were marked with principle high and noble. Today the manly form will be hidden away in the breast of mother earth, but the gentle spirit of the dead man rests somewhere in the bright beyond, and his imperishable memory lives within each sorrowing heart. Requiem eternam.

“So fades a summer cloud away, So breakes the gale when storms are o’er So gently abuts the eye of day, So dies the wave along the shore.”

The above from the Santa Rosa “Democrat” is but a fitting tribute to the man whose home has been among us for many years. No one knew him but to honor and love him. His funeral cortege, from the home of Mr. Bailey, in Alexander valley, on Thursday last, was one of the largest ever witnessed in this section, his many friends attending from the surrounding country and from Santa Rosa where he had so faithfully filled the office of Deputy County Clerk. Rev. Geo. Clifford, of Santa Rosa, conducted the funeral services. The choir, consisting of Miss Luella Wolcott. Mrs. Josie Shipley, W. N. Gladden and J. C. Shipley, sang at the grave. George Trimble, J. T. Coffman, Chas. Runyan, George Young, F. B. Mulgrew and Joseph Alexander acted as pall-bearers. He was laid to rest in the Beeson Cemetery in Alexander Valley. Floral decorations were numerous, and the ornamental pieces made by loving hands were beautiful and appropriate. His two orphan children, Dora and Rolla Carver will be amply provided for and the estate which is valued at about $10,000, will furnish sufficient moans for their education and training. There was an insurance of $5,000 upon his life, which will inure to his children’s benefit.

Private Rufus Allen Castle

Rufus Allen Castle was born on the 12th April 1842 in Knox City, Knox County, Illinois to Reuben P. Castle and Mary Ann Long. SUICIDE OF R. A. CASTLE

4 As a Headstone at Oak Mound Cemetery
Found Hanging to a Fruit Tree In W. J. Hunter's Orchard.

Sunday afternoon an Indian discovered the body of Rufus Allen Castle, a well-known resident of this section, suspended in a half-sitting position from a limb of a fruit tree in W. J. Hunter’s orchard, about a mile and a-half below low town. The deceased had simply hooked a handkerchief which he had around his neck over a small limb of the tree and strangled himself. His hands and knees were resting on the ground when found. At the inquest Monday, the deceased’s son, Raymond Castle, testified that his father left the house about two o’clock, and that he was in his usual good spirits. He had planned the work for the coming week on their place, which is a short distance beyond Mr. Hunter’s orchard. At the time of the discovery the preceding week that W. P. Poulson had committed suicide Mr. Castle had discussed the act, and remarked that it was a bungling job. Deceased left a wife and two grown sons, Raymond, who is in Healdsburg, and Carroll, a dentist in Merced. He was a native of Illinois, aged 59 years, and came to California in 1889. The Coroner’s jury was composed of Julius Scott, William Vaughn, Jesse Seeman, George Michaels, Rev. Eby, C. W. Seeley, and F. A. Madeira. They returned a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Letter from Benjamin Crystal to Brother Richard Sharp Crystal
Pulaski, Tenn.

March 5th 1864

Mr. R.S. Crystal

Esteemed brother

This morning I seate myself for the purpose of writing a few more lines to you. But it is not because I owe them for I do not I have wrote too letters to you since we returned and have received none from you yet. But as I am out of luck or that is a military freeze we have for it. I am on what we call the Ded List, and consequently canot content my self on employ my time in a more pleasant way than this. James received a letter from you yesterday and had wrote to you in the morning before he received yours and he sayes that he dose not think it necessary to write too. Letters to one person in one day he thinks if he was to write to letters in one day to you that you might get them both at once and you would answer them both with one letter. And he sayes he must have as many letters as he writes himself. James is having a good time he has no duty to do as they have not gave him a teem and they cant make him stand guard. His health is good. There is a number of the boyes quite unwell. Three or four are in the hospital and I believe some of them have the small pox. We have had 8 or 9 death in the Regiment since we returned but none in Company D. yet. I am afraid that we are going to have gradual of sickness among the men that have been at home. For it seems to hurt us just as bad now as it dose the Recruits that we have here but I am confident of this one fact we will have enough well men to whipe all the Rebes that are in existence and that is all that necessary or could be wished for. Well from what I can learn we are to leave this place the tenth of this month and that is close at hand we will cross the Tennessee river and I think it is proble that we will go to Huntsville Alabama and remain there until we get this rail road opened to that place. But I cannot tell any thing for certain we may take the field as soon as we leave this place. Time can only tell and of course must and will tell all things. And I for one want time to bring something about for the _____ of the dy besides war and that soon we want peace and peace we must have if we have to fight for it. And I am thinking we will have some fighting with in too months now at most. Well my sheet is large and I am unable to fill it. Since I began to write this letter one of our boyes has been taken to the small pox hospital. And I must tell you that James has had the carrie alloyd since we came back. But it did not hurt him a bit. The small pox is getting plenter here every day. We have had a few pretty days. The Citizens have planted their gardens at least a number of them. The Citizens had a union meeting here since we came back. And I woulder think there was over a regiment of butternuts present on that day. But as too their proceedings I have not heard. But a little and that was this after the meeting had ended and the most of them had gone home that way. At all events that night our general’s had the most of their Ordlyes horses stolen. So I think those men had to walk to town and if they are like any other sensible men would prefer riding when they could get a good 1 rig and they helft them selng to a number of the horses.
And just as I presume that some rebel officer is riding those same horses to day.
General Dog [General Dodge] has gone to attack the Rebels at Decater. There is about 2 thousand rebs at that place and a fight is expected now at any time, and if they will stand and fight, Little G. M. Dog will show them a trick with a hool in, he is my man every time and had we plenty of men like Dog in his positions we would not get men slaughtered. I presume you have saw the account of that Florida expectation such a man deserves hanging. Well as I am played out for something to write I will give you the prices of some articles heare Tobacco is worth 200 per pound, butter 75 eggs 100 per dozen molasses 400 per gallon and one point of colenst milk one dollar onions 15 cents per pound cheese 50 per pound and every thing else in preeaportioon. So you see if a man is unwell and cant eate the soldiers rations and he has to go to the sutlerz to get something that he can eate a very sick man can soon distroy a month pay at those figers but it all right we will all be at home again in one year from this time. Well I commenced writing this letter this morning and I concluded not to finish it until the mail came this evening thinking that I would get a letter from you and the mail came but no letter for me
So I will close this and await an answer. I have written to all of you and have got but one letter and that was from Brother George. Give my love and best wishes to all the Crystal family, Excuse poor writing and all mistakes of which doubtless you will find many I hope this may find you in the best of health So I bid one and all good By. From your unworthy Brother

Letter from Benjamin Crystal to Brother Richard Sharp Crystal

Pulaski, Tenn

March 14th 1864

Mr. R.S. Crystal,

Dear Brother,

Yours of Feb 27 has been received and glad was I to heare from you and the rest of the family. My health is good. James A. is well and I am truly thankful that we are blest with this blessing and I think this is the greatest of blessings that is conferred upon us for a man sees enough hard ships a soldering with good health and with out his health he had better be at home if he has one. We have a good many sick heare now. We have had one day since we came back and there is one or too more of Co. D that must day soon. The Small Pox is getting very plenty heare but it dose not seme to be fatal. Our Doctors deserve hanging up by the heels. Some of our boyes has the Small Pox and they would let them stay heare with us boyes until they would brake out. I sleep with one my self until he was covered with soars and then they would send them to the hospital. This is one way that those fine haired chap so called Doctors dose their duty. If you see W.A. Hunt you can tell him that his brother is very sick with the fever. I received a letter from Mayan Bogs and she said that she was glad to heare from me and owes they was all well. W.B. Wilson opened his hart and wrote to me since I came back and one from Greeks and one from Mrs. Wm. Cartright and it seems as all are well so far as I have heared. I receive one or two letters a week from Elecia. This is my first one from you and I have wrote this is the forth to you and I have to John and to George and George again but have had nothing from any but Brother George. I have had one from him and that all I have nothing. Important to write this Evening to you the weather is beautiful the Peach trees are in bloom and the Rebels gardens are covered with beautiful flowers. I will send some of them to Isabelah and Trissy. We are depraved of news all together for some cose and I know not what we get no papers but a little Rebel Sheet that printed in Nashville and once in a month we get the Cincinnati commercial and you know what that is your self. Well I close for this time hoping to heare from you soon I hope this may find you as it leaves me in the best of health.7

CIVIC LEADER OF EARLY DAYS CITY GOVERNMENT DIES

John Favour, Former City Trustee of Healdsburg

With the death in this city on Tuesday afternoon of Colonel John Favour, 87, passes a real pioneer of the city of Healdsburg, for he was inducted into office prior to the incorporation of the city under the California laws, although a form of government had been in operation here since 1867. His election and seating on the board occurred in May, 1882, and on June 5th of that year he began his official duties. On May 14, 1883, the city was reorganized under the laws of California at a special election and on June 4, 1883, incorporation of the city was accomplished in fact, with Mr. Favour, John Young, John Marshall, and Wm. Ruffner as trustees, the latter being president of the board.

John Favour was born in New York in November, 1838, and as a boy moved with his parents to Wisconsin. When he was 20 years old he came across the plains by ox-team to California, settling in Downieville in 1859, working in the mines. He enlisted in Company C, Second California Volunteer Cavalry, during the Civil War, and served during that terrible struggle. He was discharged from the army in 1865 and returned to his old Wisconsin home, again coming to California in 1876, going to San Jose, but moving to Healdsburg in November, 1876.

On June 5, 1882, he took office as city trustee, having been elected to the office with John Young and John Marshall. The city was reorganized and incorporated a year later. On March 30, 1885, a special election voted $10,000 to build the present city hall. It was erected during 1886, the year Colonel Favour’s term expired. He was a candidate for reelection, but failed by only a few votes of receiving a majority.

However, in 1896 he again ran for office and was overwhelmingly elected and inducted into office April 13, 1896. With Trustees Pyne and Wolcott he was on a committee to investigate the Jacobs ranch water supply, which later became the source of hydro-electric energy for the city. In August, 1902, the committee surveyed the grounds, with O.C. Heubner, city engineer. Later the system, belonging to Mr. Koenig was purchased and subsequently the electric plant built in the hills. Favour went out of office finally in April, 1904. During both of his terms he acted a portion of the time as chairman of the board, and was known for his progressive attitude and desire for civic ownership of utilities.

John Favour was brevettted a colonel by President McKinley. He was a prominent G.A.R. man, past president of Roderick Mathewson Post of Healdsburg and when it disbanded joined Ellsworth Post of Santa Rosa, being an active member at his death. It was while dressing a week ago today, preparatory to attending the installation of officers for the local ladies of the G.A.R. held that afternoon, that he was stricken with paralysis which caused his death.

He married Alberta Clark Favour on January 11, 1916, and died one day after the couple’s tenth wedding anniversary. Deceased is survived by his widow, three nieces: Mrs. J. B. Maynard, Palo Alto; Mrs. J. A. Moody, of Ellsworth, Wis.; and Mrs. Babe Roberts, of West Olive, Wis., and two nephews, James Favour of Hartford, Wis., and Frank Favour, of Oskosh, Wis.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o’clock from the parlors of Fred Young & Co.

CHAS. FITCH DIES WEDNESDAY JAN. 7

END COMES VERY SUDDENLY TO LAST SON OF CAPTAIN FITCH

Wednesday, Jan. 7, about G o’clock, Charles Fitch, one of the members of the pioneer Fitch family of this section, died suddenly at his home on Brown street, at the age of 82 years. He had been in usual health up to the time of his death, which came with a stroke of heart trouble and took him within a few minutes.

Charles Fitch was born in San Diego September 1, 1842, the son of Henry D. and Josephia Carillo Fitch, and at the age of 7, came to the Sotoyome Rancho, a grant of 11 leagues of land given his parents as a present by the Mexican government embracing much of the territory about the city of Healdsburg. Young Fitch received his education mainly in the schools of Alameda county and became a rancher in this section. In 1867 he became identified with railroad work which he followed some time again returning to the farm. He spent most of his life in this vicinity.

Charles Fitch is survived by a widow Caroline Brown Fitch granddaughter of Captain Brown of Ogden, Utah, at one time second in command to Brigham Young, leader of the Mormons of the United States. Her father, Daniel Brown, came to California in 1849. Two sous, Charles of San Francisco, and Woodley of Willits, survive Mr. Fitch.

Much of the early history of the Healdsburg section surrounds the activities of the Fitch family. Fitch Mountain was named for them in the early days. Charles Fitch’s mother was the daughter of a Castilian family that had come to California from Spain In the earliest days of the Spanish colonization of the state. Captain Fitch met Dona Josefa, born in San Gabriel. California, while he was acting as commander of his ship in a California port. A romantic union resulted. Captain Fitch was baptized a Mexican citizen in order to win the girl of his choice over parental objections. The protests of an uncle resulted in the elopement of the couple and their wedding at Valparaiso, followed by their separation and arrest by ecclesiastical authority. Subsequently they were released, the wedding approved and the couple given the family blessing.

Deceased is survived by one sister, Mrs. Anita de Fitch Grant, living on the highway near Grant station, the mother of John of this city.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o’clock from the Episcopal church, and interment made in Oak Mound cemetery.

Sergeant Charles Josiah Goodspeed

Charles Josiah Goodspeed was born on the 17th August 1839 in Wells, Rutland County, Vermont to Anson Goodspeed and Ursula Fitch Cleveland. When the 1860 Census was taken he was making his home in Wheeling, Cook County, Illinois working as a Carpenter. On the 7th September 1861, he enlisted in Company H, 8th Illinois Cavalry as a Corporal. On the 1st July 1863, he was wounded in battle at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

“Early the next morning, July 1st, our pickets brought word that the enemy was advancing in force. Captain {Amasa E.} Dana was in command of the picket line on the Chambersburg road where they first made their appearance; and here, as in many other of the great battles, the Eighth Illinois received the first fire and shed the first blood...... The long line of the enemy came in full view, and their batteries rained upon our men showers of shot and shell, but our brave boys stood firm and fell back only when ordered. The Eighth New York, on our left, was wavering some, but the Third Indiana, on our right never flinched.... It began to be warm work. Sergeant {Charles} Goodspeed, of Company H, was wounded and taken to the depot where a temporary hospital had been established, and soon after {Private John} Williams, of Company M, had his arm shattered by a ball, which required amputation.”10

“On July 1, Henry’s eighteen-year-old daughter, Anna Garlach, and fourteen others occupied the J.H. Garlach house. She helped to bandage wounds during the retreat and later, on July 4, went to the Presbyterian Church to assist an injured soldier named Goodspeed, who was possibly a sergeant in the 8th Illinois Cavalry.”11

He mustered out of service on the 13th May 1864. In 1865, he married Harriet S. Bogue in Kane, Illinois. When the 1870 Census was taken he was making his home in Elgin, Kane County, Illinois working as a Carpenter. On the 21st March 1877, he married a 2nd time to Georgia A. Letter from Daniel G. Jewett to Friend Dana

Camp Randall in Maryland

September 6th 1861

Friend Dana,

I send you in this letter a draft of twenty dollars on the Bank of the Republic N. Y. & a three dollar bill on a bank in Wisconsin. I do not know whether the bill is good or not.

I am just about sick today — hardly feel able to sit up. But I shall get well by tomorrow. I do not know how long we shall stay here. The Wisconsin Brigade has crossed [the] Potomac & Col. [Halbert E.] Paine expects marching orders every day.

We were paid day before yesterday & money is plenty now but I should judge that one half at least will be sent back to their friends in Wisconsin. The boys in our company paid me $336.00 to get draft for them to send back, which I have just received.

I don’t know as I have any news today. There has been two deaths in our company — one of disease of the brain, the other accidentally shot, & one was discharged three days ago & gone home. If we should stop there this winter, I may possibly get a furlough to go to Wisconsin but you need not expect me until I get there.

You can pay Pete out of this money & the balance keep yourself & sell the cow & pay up my little debts. Get that three dollars off Barker if you have not got it. Write as soon as you get this.

Your friend, — D. G. Jewett
He was promoted to Full 2nd Lieutenant on the 17th December 1861. He was promoted to Full 1st Lieutenant on the 11th August 1862. He was wounded on the 14th June 1863, his regiment was utilized as an infantry unit until just prior to the Battle of Port Hudson where he was wounded in the second assault and was taken prisoner inside the fort. He was promoted to Full Captain on the 24th June 1863. In September 1863, he married Mary Merrill. He mustered out of service on the 24th June 1864. DEATH OF CAPT. JEWETT
A Resident of Healdsburg for Thirty-six years.

Daniel G. Jewett, a resident of Healdsburg for thirty-six years, died in Alameda county last week. He left Healdsburg two or three years ago, after the death of his first wife, and took up his residence in San Francisco, where he later remarried, afterward moving to Alameda county.

Captain Jewett’s health was very poor about a year ago, and it was thought he would not live long. He improved, however, and on a recent visit here, but a few weeks ago, he seemed to be in the best of health. The news of his death came as a sad surprise to his many friends in Healdsburg.

Mrs. Jewett, his first wife, died about six years ago.

Captain Jewett served in the Civil War in Company I, Fourth Wisconsin Infantry, and he bore a large scar on his face acquired in the service of his country.

He was a member of Progressive Grange for a number of years, also of the Grand Army, and the funeral was held Saturday in Healdsburg under the direction of the latter organization.

Deceased was a native of Maine, and was 76 years of age.

Private George Washington Johnson

George Washington Johnson was born on the 30\textsuperscript{th} March 1828 in Warren County, Virginia to David Johnson Jr. and Frances Huff. On the 15\textsuperscript{th} march 1856, he married Mary Ellen (Maiden Name Unknown) in Rappahannock County, Virginia. He was conscripted by the Confederate Army as a Private on the 13\textsuperscript{th} October 1864 at his home into Cooper’s Company. On the 11\textsuperscript{th} November 1864, he gave up at Fort Smith, Arkansas. The reason for this is as follows: “I was conscripted at home about 13\textsuperscript{th} October by 4 armed men, they took me with them at once, would not let me go home for clothes. Deserted them 8 November 64 and went to Fort Smith, Ark. Did not think Police would hold the State. Never been arrested before.” On the 5\textsuperscript{th} April 1865, he sent a letter to Colonel Baker the Provo Marshall General from Gratiot Street Prison, St. Louis, Missouri in regards to his loyalty being questioned, he says the following: “Dear Sir I have just understood that I am on the exchange list as a prisoner of war. I don’t know how that happens when I was conscripted and deserted as soon as I could and gave myself up at Fort Smith. I would rather be shot than to go on exchange for I am a union man and all was have been.” On the 21st May 1865, he signed the Oath of Allegiance to the United States. When the 1880 Census was taken he is making his home in Union, Daviess County, Missouri working as a Farmer. In 1888, he is making his home in Mendocino, Sonoma County, California working as a Farmer. ANSWERS DEATH’S CALL

S. S. Kirkham Passes Away After Much Suffering

Another pioneer has gone to rest. After a long struggle with a disease that no effort and medical skill could arrest or allay, Mr. Samuel S. Kirkham has gone to meet his Maker. Mr. Kirkham was born in Iowa on February 2, 1843. Thrilled by the wave of patriotic fever that swept the north in ’61, he enlisted under Lincoln’s first call for volunteers, and during all that bloody warfare fought in the 12th Kansas Infantry. At the close of the war he came to California by way of the Isthmus of Panama, and located in Nevada City, where he resided until 1869, when he returned to Paula, Kansas. Here he met and entered into marriage vows with Miss Lizzie Kirkham, who proved to be a faithful and devoted companion to the end of his life’s journey.

The family came to California in 1870, but after a three year’s stay, returned to Kansas, there to reside until they came to Healdsburg in 1901.

As a contractor and builder, Mr. Kirkham was well known in Healdsburg and also in Berkeley, where he was engaged in filling extensive building contracts when compelled to return home on account of poor health. Four girls were the fruit of this happy union, but three have gone before, leaving but one, Mrs. John Miller, to comfort her bereaved mother.

Mr. Kirkham united with the Christian Church in Rushville, Ill., and was a member of that faith at the time of his death. During his last illness he repeatedly proclaimed his utter and complete trust in Christ, and his desire to be at rest in the Lord. He passed away on January 7th, 1908. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. George W. Brewster at the home of the mourning family, Wednesday, at 2 o’clock.

BUGLE SOUNDS FOR CIVIL WAR VETERAN

The death summons came suddenly to veteran J.H. Leahy last Thursday afternoon. He had called on Dr. Seawell for treatment, and while waiting in an adjoining room, the doctor being busy, he fell off his chair and expired almost immediately.

The deceased had been a resident in the vicinity of Mill creek for the past twenty-five years or more. He was a bachelor and his place consisted of some seven or eight acres in fruits. He was a native of New York and served during the Civil War in Company G, 28th Wisconsin regiment.

Mr. Leahy had just returned from the Soldiers’ Home at Yountville. He was a man of excellent character, kind hearted, and very much beloved by those who know him. The funeral was held last Saturday, the Ladles of the G.A.R. and veterans having charge of the funeral. He was 65 years of age, and it is learned that some relatives survive him.

DEATH OF J. B. LEARD

The Well-Known Pioneer Passed Away Last Saturday Unexpectedly.

Another old, respected and well-known pioneer of Healdsburg has passed over the great ridge that divides the visible from the invisible. On Saturday morning last this community was surprised and pained to learn that James Benson Leard, so long identified with the city government of Healdsburg had suddenly died of heart failure. Mr. Leard was City Librarian at the time of his death. For ten years he had held the office of City Marshal, having been succeeded by John Ingalls several years ago. During the terms of Sheriff’s Colgan and Allen he was a deputy, and also had held the office of Constable for many years. He would have been sixty years of age in March next had he lived.

J. B. Leard was born in St. Clair county, Illinois, and with his parents crossed the plains to California in 1852, coming to Sonoma county in 1854, where he has since resided, with the exception of six years, when he resided with his parents in San Benito county. His father was a Methodist minister, and died many years ago. His mother lived and died in Healdsburg. The deceased attended school at the Alexander Academy with many friends of this place who survive him. He was an active fireman and served as foreman of the fire company for years. He was married twice and was the father of fifteen children, ten of whom are living: He left a wife and three children: Lee, Bernice and Olie. The children by his first wife, who was Miss Mary Jane Van, are Mrs. Dora Metzger of San Jose; R. B. Leard, who resides in San Francisco; Charles, who lives in the town of Taylor, Shasta county; Alfred, who was last heard of in Calcutta, India; Harris, last heard from in Nome; William, residing in Chico; Mrs. Nettie Martin of Healdsburg. All of the children residing in California attended the funeral. To his second wife he had been married twenty-three years. His funeral took place on Monday under the auspices of the Workmen and Foresters, of which orders he was a member, Rev. Fellers, assisted by Rev. Butler, officiating. The deceased had been a member of the M. E. Church. The sisters who survive him are; Mrs. J. H. Reed of Santa Rosa, Mrs. Bell Pierce of Hollister, Mrs. J. Ellis of Geyserville, Mrs. C. Johnson of Rorerville, and Mrs. B. Frazier of Umatilla, Oregon.

Mrs. Leard desires to tender her sincerest thanks to the many sympathetic friends on the occasion of her sad bereavement.

HEALDSBURG VETERAN DIES AT YOUNTVILLE

CAPTAIN ROBERT S. LOGAN ANSWERS CALL OF DEATH

Captain Robert S. Logan, an old resident of this city, and a person whose integrity and just dealings won for him the friendship of all with whom he came in contact, passed away last Sunday at the Old Soldiers’ Home at Yountville. Letters that had been received here from Prof. D. C. Smith and other old veterans at Yountville told of the serious illness of Captain Logan and because of those letters there were a few here who knew that the end was not far off for the Captain.

His passing has caused a deep feeling of regret by his many friends. Deceased was a native of Scotland, but had resided in the United States ever since he was a little boy. As a young man he followed his vocation of shoemaker in Ohio until the civil War broke out, when he shouldered a musket and became captain of Company E, Ohio Volunteers. He also served as a lieutenant in Company D, Fifth Ohio Regiment.

After the Civil War Captain Logan came to California and this has been his home practically ever since. He conducted a cobbler’s shop in Healdsburg many years. Enfeebled by old age he entered the Veteran’s home near Los Angeles. He returned to Healdsburg recently and a few months ago went to Yountville. Deceased died at the age of 81 years, 9 months and 22 days.
The funeral services were held Wednesday at the chapel of T. G. Young’s undertaking parlor and the interment was in Oak Mound Cemetery. Rev. Robert L. Macfarlane was the officiating clergyman. Ladies of the G. A. R. conducted the services at the grave. The pall bearers were G. W. Wolcott, F. J. Schwab, Charles F. Raymond, J. W. Rose, William Tucker and John Favour.

MUSTERED OUT

Resolutions of Respect to the Memory of an Honored Soldier

Another veteran soldier falls before the onward march of our common foe. Another soldier has answered to the roll call across the dark river. He is tenting to-night on the eternal camping ground with those who have fought their last battle.

Josiah B. Martin died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McClish, four miles south of Healdsburg, February 13th. In the late Civil War he was a member of Company K, Eleventh Ohio Cavalry, serving two years and five months. The result of his faithful service for his country to maintain the honor of Old Glory caused the last years of his life to be filled with pain and suffering. And Whereas, This Post is again called upon to close up its ranks made vacant by the death of our comrade. And

Whereas, It seems fitting to record in a public manner our high esteem for his many patriotic traits of character. Be it

Resolved, That we cherish the virtues exemplified in our comrade’s life, and ever remember him as a patriot soldier and friend. And be it further

Resolved, That our Post be draped with the usual emblems of bereavement for thirty days, and the Adjutant be requested to furnish our city papers with a copy of these resolutions for publication. C.L. Kimball, J.W. Rose, Phil Stoffal. Committee.

THE LATE COLONEL R. MATHSON

It will be recollected that the remains of this gallant officer, who died of wounds received in the battle of South Mountain, arrived in San Francisco in the Sonora. On the occasion of the body being conveyed with a funeral escort to the Petaluma boat, November 8th, and previous to the march Rev. T. Starr King made, at Music Hall, a few appropriate remarks from a desk in the center of the platform. After which he read from the burial service the following:

I am the resurrection and the Life. He that believeth In Me, though he be dead, yet hall he live. I know that my Redeemer liveth. We brought nothing into this world, and it is certain that we shall take nothing out. The Lord gave, and the Lord taketh away; blessed be the name of the Lord. He then read the Lord's Prayer and other prayers, and pronounced the Benediction. The coffin bore upon its lid the inscription:

RODERICK MATHESON,

Colonel of the 1st Cal. or 82d N.Y.S V., Died Oct. 2, 1862, from wounds received in the Battle of Crampton Gap on the 14th of September, 1862, Aged 36 years.

Flags were at half-mast on several prominent positions in the city. A detachment of the National Guard, the military band from the Presidio and the Committees and delegations were to escort the same to Healdsburg, where they will be committed to the grave with military honors.

The following is a sketch of Colonel Matheson's career, and an appeal to the citizens of California in behalf of the family of the deceased, signed by several prominent citizens of the State being at San Francisco:

Colonel Roderick Matheson, a citizen of Healdsburg, in the county of Sonoma, at the time of the breaking out of the civil war tendered his services to the Government of the United States to aid in suppressing the insurrection.
Cooperating with Colonel Baker, the honorable Senator of the United States from Oregon, he raised what was culled the "California Regiment," of which he was elected Colonel, commissioned by the Governor of the State of New York, mustered into service as the New York Thirty-second, which regiment he commanded at the time of his death.

From the commencement of hostilities he served in the division or General Franklin, having been engaged in all the battles under that distinguished commander, winning his approbation as a brave and gallant soldier, and for his regiment acquiring the name of "One of the best." At the battle of Bull Run it stood firm in the midst of rout, and allied to cover the unfortunate retreat of our panic stricken army. In the battle before Richmond, in the three days fight in Maryland, and in every action where the regiment saw duty, it rendered efficient service. At the battle and victory of South Mountain, Colonel Matheson and the California Regiment were of the forlorn hope, to charge the summit of an eminence crowned with artillery and infantry; this most desperate charge was successfully accomplished, and the standard sent from California, the colors of the regiment, bearing our own State Arms, was planted in victory upon the crest of that mountain which gives name to a Federal conquest, one of the most emphatic of the war. In that charge Colonel Matheson was mortally wounded, and after lingering a few days died in the hospital.

Thus gloriously fell a pioneer citizen of California on the battle field, whose duty called him, leaving to a mourning wife only the memory of his love and gallant deeds; to his children only the heritage of his fame. In the name of the widow and these orphans, we now appeal in the charitable and loyal people of Ink State, and remind you that this family is bequeathed to your protection; that their support be your care, and their welfare your responsibility.

Colonel Matheson left a homestead farm in the county of Some 300 acres, where his family now reside, and upon which there is a mortgage of nearly $6,000, now in process of foreclosure. It is our desire to remove this incumbrancer and raise a fund sufficient for the education of the children—one of 12 years, for whom his father had made an arrangement to enter West Point, when of proper age. The second child is a girl of seven years; and the youngest a baby boy. The Committee earnestly call the attention of the people of the State to this dependent and destitute family, and desire to remind you that this is our first charge rowing out of this unfortunate war. That our exemption from the horrors of this conflict should incite us to continual exertion to relieve the unfortunate within our own borders. This is a charity which we have no right to confine to the liberality of San Francisco. We therefore ask the contribution of the entire State. We desire and expect something from every precinct, town, village, city and county. These contributions will be promptly acknowledged through the Press. They need not be large, but they ought to be universal, so that every one who believes that Colonel Matheson has sacrificed his life in a holy cause may have the privilege of aiding to give independence and comfort to his family. We therefore ask that some persons in every community will interest themselves in making collections, and remitting them to this city. Wells, Fargo & Co.’s agents throughout the State will remit, as for the Sanitary Fund, without charge. Funds may be sent directly to Frank M. Pixley, Chairman of this Committee; to any member of the same, to any one of the daily journals of our city, or through any of our business houses; or Treasury notes can be sent through the Post Office. We believe this appeal to the public is just, as well as proper, and in confidence rely upon receiving sufficient funds to enable the Committee to secure the Healdsburg Farm in trust for the benefit of the family.

Death of John A. Metzger

A week ago yesterday, at the home of his brother, Joseph E., in Geyserville, John A. Metzger came to his death. He had been ill some time and his demise did not come unexpectedly. Deceased was an esteemed citizen, respected for his uprightness and kind, sympathetic traits and his death has caused sorrow to many. He came to California only a few years ago in the hope that his health might be restored and indeed it was, for he had been complaining scarcely at all until just prior to his dissolution. Mr. Metzger had no family, but made his home with his brother at Geyserville from the time of his arrival in this State. He was a member of the G. A. R., having given service to the Union with the patriotic “boys in blue” from the beginning to the end of the Civil War. The funeral was held here on last Friday morning under escort of Rod Matheson Post and the remains were buried in Oak Mound Cemetery where Rev. Joe Waldrop impressively and ably presided in the performance of the last sad rites. Deceased was aged 55 years.

On the 30th September 1896, he passed away in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California.

Obituary in

8th October 1896 page

George Miller, a resident familiar to everybody in Healdsburg and a veteran of the late war, has joined the army of eternity. Yesterday week he was seized with a fatal spell of epilepsy while cooking lunch in his room at the corner of Matheson and Center streets and was discovered a few minutes later in an unconscious condition. He was given the best aid possible, but he never rallied and at 8 o’clock in the evening he expired. George had on several occasions fallen into such spasms and it was expected that he could not survive many more. About an hour before the attack he was on the street and apparently in the best of health and spirits. He was much respected in G.A.R. circles, having given as much service in the Union ranks as any veteran in the county and figured in various of the fiercest battles in the great conspiracy. He was a native of Germany and aged 61 years. The funeral was held last Thursday under the auspices of the G.A.R., whose members turned out in large force to pay the deceased their last tribute of respect. At the grave a wail was feelingly sounded by Cornetist Prof. Smith and it brought moistness to the eyes of all. George had lived alone and left no relatives here.

Captain George W. Miller

On the 18th August 1862, he enlisted as a 2nd Lieutenant in Company H, 20th Wisconsin Infantry Regiment. On the 8th February 1863, he was promoted to 1st Lieutenant. On the 15th May 1863, he was promoted to Full Captain. On the 14th July 1865, he mustered out of service at Galveston, Texas.

Obituary in Sonoma County Tribune

Heart failure caused Wm. Milne’s sudden death at his home in this city Wednesday morning last week. His family were at work in the cannery when the shocking news reached them that he had been found dead. He was only a few hours before in apparently good health and went about as he usually did. Mr. Milne lived in Healdsburg for several years and leaves many warm friends who deeply sympathize with the family in their sad affliction. He was a native of Martussville, Ohio, born August 14th, 1833, and there he passed his boyhood with his parents. In later years he resided in the State of Missouri and there he remained for a long while. He was married to Miss Virginia Baker in ’64 and to them were born three children, viz.: W.W., now an express messenger in the employ of Wells, Fargo & Co.; R.J. and Daisy May, all of whom are living. In 1885 Mr. Milne, wife and 1 children migrated to California, settling in Santa Rosa where they resided for a few months when they removed to Healdsburg, making this their home up to the present time. The deceased was a veteran of the war and was engaged in one of the fiercest battles of the rebellion, that of the Pea Ridge. Before the disbandment of the army he did such commendable service as to be promoted to the office of second lieutenant of his company. The burial took place in Oak Mound cemetery Saturday in the presence of many friends of the unfortunate family.
1st Lieutenant Charles Albert Morrill

Charles Albert Morrill was born on the 9th November 1839 in Stanstead, Canada. On the 6th August 1862, he enlisted as a Corporal in Company H, 35th Massachusetts Infantry. DIED FROM EXPOSURE

John Reardon, a Grand Army Veteran, Joins the Great Commander's Ranks.

John Reardon, a veteran of the Civil War, was found dead on J.J. Bryant’s ranch, in Dry Creek Valley, about 20 miles from Healdsburg, on Monday last. The deceased had been working for Mr. Bryant cutting wood, for several months. Mr. Bryant went over to his ranch from his home in Geyserville on Monday, the 28th of November. He was surprised at not finding Reardon at work, and with his neighbors instituted a search for him from day to day during the week.

At the Coroner’s inquest, C.A. Kelly testified that he came down Sunday to look for the deceased. The search was renewed Monday. “After circling around in different directions, I came to the brow of the hill overlooking the gulch in which he was found, and looking down discovered something red, and at once concluded it was the deceased. I immediately proceeded down the hill to the body, which I found in a semi-nude condition. Going up the hill, I found his clothing scattered around.”

Evidence was introduced which showed that Reardon had been drinking heavily, and the jury returned the following verdict: “We find that the deceased, John Reardon, came to his death by temporary insanity, from drink and exposure.”

The deceased was known as John Reardon No. 2. He was a member of Co. E, Fifth Ohio Cavalry, during the war, and drew a pension of $6 a month from the Government. He was a member of Unity Post, No. 171, of Yountville, Napa county, and his remains will be buried at 11 o’clock to-day in Oak Mound Cemetery, by Rod Matheson Post of Healdsburg. All comrades are invited to attend. Deceased was a native of Ireland, aged 62 years.

Died for Another Man

The death of Chas. Remmel of Geyserville was the result of a very peculiar circumstance. About two weeks before his demise a winemaker in his employ was suffering from a boil on the band which terminated from a bruise. Mr. Remmel went to his assistance and lanced the ulcer. The purulent matter spurted on a sore on Mr. Remmel’s hand and a few days after the operation Mr. Remmel was seized with blood poisoning from which he died in a remarkably short period.

After an illness extending over many years, the past two years of which have been extremely painful ones, Niles V. Rogers welcomed the summons home on the twenty third day of June, lacking but a few days of being 71 years old.

He was born in Jefferson county New York, on the third day of September, 1839 and on October 22, 1863, was married to Miss Emily E. Danford, who now survives him. In 1890 they came to California, and since then have made their home in this county, most of the time in this immediate vicinity. Since 1906 he has suffered with a cancer but in the summer of 1909 it was cut out. However, in December of last year he became worse, and has steadily declined since that time.

His mother died thirty years ago, the father dying a little later on the Dakota prairies during one of the fierce blizzards for which that state is noted. He is survived by the widow who will make her home in San Rafael with her daughter Mrs. C.W. Goodman; and one sister Mary Staples, who is a resident of Iowa, two brothers, Charles who resides in Nebraska, and Nathaniel who lives in Minnesota. He is also survived by his daughter, Mrs. Goodman, and one son, Roy Rogers who is now working on the coast.

The funeral took place from the family residence in the Ward addition to Healdsburg, the ceremony being officiated over by Rev. M.S. Eby, the burial rites being said by the ladies of Roanoke Circle, G.A.R. Interment was made in Oak Mound Cemetery.

ATTORNEY ROSE DIED WEDNESDAY: WAS RESPECTED CITIZEN OF HEALDSBURG SINCE 1870

Enlisted in Civil War Army at Age of 14—Studied Law in Mountain Home—Trustee and Mayor of Town

And so the roadways of life shall all end. It matters not of the beginning nor of the wayside; It matters not whether it be uphill and of rocks and brambles or through the meadow vales of songs and flowers there shall be but one ending—“The Inevitable.” On the great Ocean of Life there are many ships that cross and recross and float into the harbors of safety with their sails furled for the final anchorage. There are always “Types” on the great causeways and on the stormy ocean that represent the best of all the world. So, too, there are always in life those of humanity who represent; those who stand for the best in the strife. There are monuments and hills and trees that we see and admire and never forget. There are engines that throb and beat and draw the heavy load. All of these are classed for their stability. They are the worth of the world. The “Oregons” that fight and conquer. There was no defeat, for they crossed the mountains and floated the sea of storms, knowing that somewhere ahead was the tower of “Liberty” with its lights always burning. Of these was John Wesley Rose, a type of manhood that labored, that builded, that forged ahead, and at last approached that inevitable, knowing that he had lived and labored for the best that was within him. So he lived and we shall not forget him for his worth; we shall not forget him for he was fearless in his convictions for right; we shall not forget him for his manhood in the defense of principles and for his justice and belief in the rights of his fellowmen in all conditions of life. As God gave, so He hath taken away, and we can only give of garlands of flowers and keep of memory for the dead, as the mortal shall go into dust and the Immortal shall live again.

John Wesley Rose was born in Sullivan county, New York, and was 70 years of age on the 11th day of May, 1918. He died on Wednesday evening, August 28, 1918.

But few of the pioneers of the West kept any record of their early life. This was true of Mr. Rose, and of his life are only gleanings from memory of his family and intimate friends. His boyhood days were of farm life, and, as his name indicates, he was of Methodist parentage. As soon as was possible, during the Civil War he enlisted with the 15th New York Cavalry, being at the age of 14 years and 7 months. A fever placed the boy on the casualty list, but as soon as he recovered he again enlisted with the 56th New York Infantry and served his country in the Army of the Potomac. Locally, in later years, he was one of the leaders with the War Veterans of the West. At the close of the war, with his relatives, the Appley family, he removed to the West, locating in the State of Oregon. From there he again moved to Sonoma county, California, and located in Healdsburg in about 1870. At first in Healdsburg he engaged in a small merchandise business and then became the town marshal, being a sturdy and stalwart youth he made a record fearless in the discharge of his duty as a peace officer.

He then accepted a position as toll gate keeper on the Norton toll road leading to the Geyser Springs. There in a little cabin, still standing, on the Black Mountain ridge, he began the study of law, and from that beginning in the lonely cabin he passed an examination and was admitted to the practice of law in California.

Mr. Rose served several years as City Trustee and also as mayor of the town. Out of respect to his memory flags were placed at half mast on public buildings.

At the age of 27 he was united in marriage to Martha A. Meyer and to the couple were born seven children, the eldest passing away in infancy, and then Florence, now of San Francisco. Alice Neeley, a nurse in the government hospital of Vallejo, Randolph who died in childhood, Ralph, who became a world-famed athlete, Guy now of the firm of Rose, Stevenson & Emerson of this city, and Ethel, who is now in the Red Cross service on her way overseas. Florence and Alice returned home to attend the funeral of their beloved father. A grandson, Jack Neeley, is now in France fighting with the American boys. His beloved wife died February 24, 1912. One year ago he married Mrs. Leard of this city who was with him during his last illness.

A few weeks ago deceased began failing in health and was taken to Bartlett Springs, where he remained but a short time, On Tuesday morning he complained of illness. His wife hastily summoned the family physician who did all within his power to restore him, but he rapidly sank into a comatose condition in which he lingered until his death on Wednesday evening.

His funeral took place from the family residence on Center street on Friday at 2.30 p.m. in charge of Undertaker T.G. Young and was conducted under the auspices of the local order of I.O.O.F. of which he was a pioneer member, assisted by representatives of the Sonoma County Bar of which he was an honored member. Rev. Francis Hope officiated and the remains were laid to rest in Oak Mound cemetery in the family plot.

DEATH OF J. W. ROSE

Was Ill But a Few Days and Passed Away Wednesday Evening

Following a paralytic stroke suffered early last week, mention of which was made in last week’s Tribune, J. W. Rose, for many years a resident and attorney of Healdsburg, passed away at his home in this city. Wednesday evening.
John Wesley Rose was born in Sullivan county, New York, and was aged 70 years, 3 months and 17 days at the time of his death.

As a boy scarcely fifteen years of age, Mr. Rose enlisted in the New York Cavalry, and served in the Civil War. Following the war, he came with his parents to Oregon, and to California, and to Healdsburg in 1870. This city had been his home ever since.

He studied law under the late Captain Norton, and was admitted to practice more than thirty years ago. Mr. Rose served several terms as one of Healdsburg’s City Trustees, and as chairman of the Board was Mayor of the city.

At the age of 27 he was united in marriage to Martha A. Meyer and to the couple were born seven children, the eldest passing away in infancy, and then Florence, now of San Francisco. Alice Neeley, a nurse in the government hospital of Vallejo, Randolph who died in childhood, Ralph, who became a world-famed athlete, Guy, of the firm of Rose, Stevenson & Emerson of this city, and Ethel who is now in the Red Cross service on her way overseas. Florence and Alice returned home to attend the funeral of their father. A grandson, Jack Neeley, is now in France fighting with the American boys. His wife died February 24, 1912. One year ago he married Mrs. Heard of this city who was with him during his last illness.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon from his late residence on Center street, Rev. Francis Hope, pastor of the Church of Christ, officiating.

Members of the bar from Santa Rosa were present, and there was a large attendance of friends. The body was laid to rest in Oak Mound Cemetery, the rites of the order of Odd Fellows being used. Mr. Rose had been a member of Healdsburg Lodge of the order for a great many years, and had always taken an active interest in the work of the order.

Cyrus Sanders Dies of Injuries

Cyrus Sanders, 74 years old, a veteran of the civil war, was struck by an automobile just after dark Monday night and died from the injuries received Wednesday morning. The ear was driven by Lawson Esler, local high school boy, and a coroner’s jury exonerated the young man at an inquest held Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Sanders and his wife were West streets when Esler approached with his car. Apparently they did not see him, and both were in danger when he swerved the car to miss the lady and struck the aged man. Mr. Sanders was thrown to the pavement, suffering a badly wounded hip and a fracture of the skull. Esler stopped has car and hastened back to the prostrate man and gave aid in getting him to Dr. Sohler.
The coroner’s examination into the causing leading up to the accident was the most searching Coroner Philips has conducted here, but no evidence could be adduced other than that showing it to have been an unavoidable accident.

From there he removed to Windsor, later locating in Healdsburg. His wife, whom he married in Brooklyn, N.Y., preceded him to the better land in 1906. Deceased left three children, Mrs. Alexander Baum of Alameda, Frank of San Francisco, and Walter of this city.

Julius Scott, during his long residence in this city, won for himself many friends through his affable and courteous ways. Just west of town he owned a farm, where he made his home. Up to a few weeks ago he was apparently in good health. His death was due to a complication of troubles resulting from diabetes.

The funeral will take place from the Catholic Church of this city on arrival of the morning train today. The services will be conducted by Father Barry and the remains laid to rest in Oak Mound Cemetery.

ALBERT LESTER SMITH

Albert Lester Smith, a native of New York, a member of Co. A., 91st N. Y. Volunteer Infantry during the Civil War, died in Healdsburg Tuesday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Maud Heald.

When a boy of about sixteen, Mr. Smith enlisted to fight for his country.

He served in many engagements of the South, and was imprisoned for a time in the famous Libby prison. On the 1st of April, 1865, but a few days before peace was declared, at the battle of Five Fors, in Virginia, he received a minnie ball in the left hip. The missile went through his canteen and followed the thigh bone through the flesh. The hospital surgeon was unable to extract the ball, and it remained in his body until taken out by Dr. Wheeler of Healdsburg about two months ago, an account of which was published in the Tribune at the time.

His death, however, was not attributed to this injury.

There were present at his death his wife, Alice, his son Judson, and three of his daughters, Mrs. W. F. Wright, Mrs. W. T. Heald and Miss Jessie Smith, and his brother, Capt. James H. Smith of New York. The funeral will be held from the Adventist Church to-day at 2 p. m.

Veteran of Civil War Is Laid to Rest Here

A notable character was laid to rest here today, when Captain James Smith, a civil war veteran, was buried in Oak Mound cemetery. Captain Smith died a few days ago in Oakland and was brought here for interment. Though he had never lived in this section, deceased was widely known here, having visited frequently. He has several relatives in this section who survive him.

Captain Smith was a veteran of many battles of the war of the secession, and accompanied General Phil Sheridan on the ride made famous in poetry and story. Only recently he visited here, stopping over with relatives while on route home to Los Angeles from Portland. He was an uncle of Mrs. Ned Mott and Mrs. Walter Wright of this city and of Mrs. Maude McKinstrey of Modesto.

IS MUSTERED OUT

LESTER STEVENS NOW AT REST

He Expired Friday Morning from the Effects of Wounds Received in the War.

Friday morning at six o’clock Lester Stevens, a valiant hero, patriot, veteran of the civil war and pioneer school teacher, succumbed to the inevitable after a brief illness at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cowperthwait on North street, this city, with whom he had made his home some years.

Those who were nearest to him in acquaintance knew his condition to be serious and they expected fatal results after he had shown no significant change for the better a few days before the final summons came, he had been unable to leave his room for two weeks, however this was not known to many and the news of his death was a shock to the community.

Deceased came to his death from the infirm condition of his vital organs produced by a wound sustained while doing service in the army during the rebellion. Ever since that time he had never seen a day when he was entirely free from pain and often his suffering was excruciating.
Lester was a man of noble character and his dissolution brings a pang of sorrow to the heart of everyone who had come in social contact with him. He was never known to manifest malice or ill-will toward any person and his friends were legion. He was kind, agreeable, big-hearted and genial and was an interesting and intelligent citizen. Though without relatives near he was cared for by his friends with all attentiveness that could possibly be bestowed upon him and there was nothing wanting to aid his relief.

The career of Lester Stevens was active and useful and marked by many patriotic deeds, the last of which was the purchase of Old Glory to flutter above the Grape Vine School, of which he was the esteemed teacher. To accomplish this distinctive mark of loyalty he proposed giving an entertainment and apply the proceeds thereof to securing the stars and stripes. By his personal efforts in the sale of tickets he was successful. This flag in memory of his patriotism was used in draping his coffin.

The deceased was adjutant of Rod Matheson Post No. 16, G.A.R., and its past commander. He was also an honored member of Roanoke Circle No. 4, Ladies of the G.A.R., of which society he was one of the first five comrades admitted to membership, a worthy Odd Fellow, belonging to Healdsburg Lodge No. 64, a member of Healdsburg Encampment No. 56, I.O.O.F., and Rebekah Degree Lodge No. 78.

The funeral took place under escort of all the above societies Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o’clock from the I. O. O. F. hall where the funeral solemnities were performed with such feeling as to cause many eyes to moisten.

Followed by a cortege of as great length as any which has ever occurred in Healdsburg the remains were conveyed to the mortuary of Oak Mound. At the head of the funeral were nearly the entire memberships of the organizations to which he belonged and they were led by the drum corps of Rod Matheson Post.

At the place of burial the I.O.O.F. and G.A.R. services were administered with deep, touching effect.
The following flag service of the Ladies of the G.A.R. was impressively delivered by Mrs. Barbara M. Logan, the department installing officer of California and Nevada, before the remains were lowered in the grave:

“In loving memory of the mothers, who gave their sons to their country in her hour of need:

“For the sisters, who so nobly sent their brothers forth to defend this flag, when its enemies threatened to trample it into the dust:

“In the name of the wives, who, with smiles to hide their bleeding hearts, so Bravely bade their loved husbands farewell when they sprang to arms at their nation's call:

“In behalf of the daughters, who so proudly point to their fathers' records as brave and honorable soldiers, I place this flag above the still heart of this veteran, who offered his life’s blood to preserve it.

“Comrade, may thy sleep be sweet and thy rest perfect until the dawn of the resurrection morn. And when the Great Commander above sounds the last call, may thy reward be, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant.’ ”

After the remains were deposited beneath the sod many floral pieces from warm friends bedecked the grave.

Lester Stevens was born on April 4th, 1841, in Noble county, Ohio. At the age of five years he and his parents moved to Washington county, the same State, and ten years after the family made their home in a small Wisconsin town named Wanshara. There he was educated in the public schools and later entered the State Normal School, from which he graduated with high honors.

Deceased enlisted in the Union army on May 10th, ’61, becoming a member of Company G, Fifth Regiment, Wisconsin Infantry of Volunteers which was organized at the county seat, Berlin. After the first engagement at Bull Run he went to the South with his company, their destination being Baltimore. Later it was called to Washington.
In the following spring the company was dispatched to Fortress Monroe during the Peninsular Campaign. In this and the maneuvers around Richmond he and his company were active. The company afterward came under the command of General Hancock and entered battle at Williamsburg in the seven-day’s conflict.

At Malvern Hill this contingent did some heroic and valorous fighting.

Further details of the service of the deceased in the Union army, taken from his own record, are as follows;

When the army was ordered back to Alexandria, Mr. Stevens was taken sick and went into the hospital at Baltimore. He was discharged from there at the end of five weeks and sent home, remaining there a year, when he went to Madison and re-enlisted, being assigned to Company B, Sixteenth Wisconsin, and was appointed corporal, They were ordered to join Sherman’s forces at Clifton, Tennessee, and overtook the great General’s army at Big Shanty on the famous Atlanta Campaign. He participated in the battle at Kenesaw Mountain, and from then on.

During the memorable three-day’s light at Atlanta he was wounded in the left arm and left lung in the charge upon and capture of Leggett’s Hill by the Union Army. The ball which entered his left lung missed his heart just two inches, tearing away two ribs and badly lacerating his side. On receiving this injury Mr. Stevens was sent to the hospital at Marietta and from there went home on a thirty-day’s furlough. At the end of that time he was given twenty days’ additional, and on his return to Madison was discharged from the army.

After his discharge Mr. Stevens took up the study of medicine which he continued for two years when he entered the Rush Medical College in Chicago. After having made far advancement in this institution he returned to his old home in Wisconsin where he remained two years. In the spring of ’69 he migrated to California and settled in Solano county where he taught school for about a year. He then came to this county and almost continuously from that time on he applied himself to teaching in different district schools in this vicinity. In this avocation the deceased had marked ability and the control which he had over his pupils and the respect he commanded was of uncommon extent.

Lester Stevens had no relatives here and only one is living—his sister—whose home is in Wisconsin.

PHIL STOFFAL IS DEAD

Passed Away Sunday After an Illness of Several Weeks

Phil Stoffal, army veteran and long a citizen of Sonoma county, died Sunday at his home near Lytton, after an illness of a number of weeks. It was known that he had been ill for some time, but his friends were hardly prepared to bear of his death.

Philip Stoffal was born in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, July 18th, 1845, and was 68 years and 6 months old at the time of his death. When a boy of nine he went with his parents from Pittsburg to Ohio, where he grew to manhood. At the age of nineteen he enlisted for the war with the 27th Ohio Infantry Volunteers, and saw service in several engagements. He was with Sherman in his ever-memorable march “From Atlanta to the Sea,” and remained in the army until mustered out after the war, in July.

Two years later he came out West to Kansas, where he was married to Miss Jane Tripp. One daughter was born to them, and she is living in Kansas. His wife died in Kansas in 1872.

In 1875, Mr. Stoffal came from Kansas to Sonoma county, locating at Guerneville. There he married his second wife, Miss Ida Dutton, on May 1st, 1878. Two sons were born to them, Claude Stoffal of Lassen county and Cameron Stoffal of Healdsburg. The family came to Healdsburg in 1885, and this city and vicinity have been their home since that time.

In addition to his family mentioned, the deceased left two sisters—Mrs. Samuel Varner of Santa Rosa and Mrs. William Hoague at Pittsburgh, Pa.

The funeral will be held this afternoon under the auspices of Sotoyome Lodge of Masons, which order the deceased had long been a member.

At the ripe old age of 90 years Horace Thomas, a veteran of the civil war, died at his home in North Healdsburg Tuesday. For eight years the deceased lived at Pine Flat and for the past few months was a resident of Healdsburg. Mr. Thomas was an estimable old man and had many friends in this city. He was the father of Chas. Thomas and Mrs. L.G. Clement and husband of Mrs. M.A. Thomas, all of whom are living here. He was a member of the 105th New York Infantry, but had never joined the G.A.R. order. The funeral will be held from the late residence, opposite Dr. Swisher's, this morning at 11 o’clock, and all friends and acquaintances are invited to attend. The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of the Tribune.

MILITARY FUNERAL HELD FOR ROLAND K. TRUITT, WAR VET

Taken to the grave with all the military ceremony that he had loved in life, Roland K. Truitt, 88-year-old civil war veteran of Healdsburg, was buried in Oak Mount Cemetery Tuesday.

Services at the Fred Young & Co. chapel in the afternoon where the Rev. W. T. Menard delivered the eulogy were followed by American Legion ritual at the graveside.

Truitt had a most remarkable record. He crossed the plains three times, the first time by ox team in 1849. During the civil war he fought both in the confederate and union armies, as a cavalryman in each case.
During all of his long, useful and busy career, Truitt was extremely active. Just last year, as erect in the saddle as a youth, he led the Armistice Day parade in Sebastopol. Death came Sunday as the result of a heart attack suffered a few days previously.

Born in Texas

He was born on Hostetter creek, Texas, August 23, 1841. The family moved from Texas to Missouri and in 1849 crossed to California, settling at Mormon Island. After the family had returned to Texas by water, Truitt again came west. Shortly before the outbreak of the civil war he returned to Texas a second time.

With the opening of hostilities he enlisted in the rebel cavalry. He was wounded and taken by a relative to Iowa. When his wounds were healed Truitt enlisted in the Black Hawk regiment, of union cavalry, with which he served through the war. After the fall of the confederacy, he accompanied Custer on his expedition into Mexico. In 1865 he received his discharge from the army.

Married Here

The year following, December 26, 1866, he married Miss Sina T. Brookes of Huntsville, Texas, who survives him.

In 1873 he settled near the Geysers, where he engaged in stock raising and mining. He later operated the Truitt theater, in Center street, for 32 years.

Three sons, Eugene R. Truitt of San Francisco, Charles E. Truitt of San Francisco, and Elliott A. Truitt of the Geysers section, are living. There are four grandchildren, Gerald D. Rose of San Francisco, Eleanor Osman, Fulton; Glenn Truitt of the Geyser section, and Edward Truitt of Los Angeles, and four great grandchildren, Patricia and Geo. Truitt of the Geyser section and Roland Louis Osman of Fulton.

Gone to the World Beyond

Captain Alexander Lafayette Warner peacefully passed away Friday afternoon at 2:30 o’clock at his home on Russian river, about five miles southwest of Healdsburg, after an illness coveting a period of over five mouths, being afflicted with an abscess which developed in the latter part of fall, though he had been previously in impaired health owing to feebleness, lie was a patient sufferer and was resigned to his fate with the consciousness that he had fulfilled his mission on earth and lived a Christian life. Captain Warner was a patriot and championed the cause of ennui rights to all men. There was nothing that ever came up and called forth the deliberation of the public for the good of the nation but what Captain Warner took active interest, and a better versed man than he on all leading and ponderous questions was not to be found. He was charitable to those deserving and unfortunate, and a man who stood well among those with whom he was most intimately associated. Captain Warner was born in New York a little more than 70 years ago and came to California soon after his honorable discharge from service in the Union Army when the Civil War was over. He was a brother of ex-Congressman A. J. Warner, president of the Bi-Metallic League and one of the most prominent figures in the silver campaign of last year. Captain Warner was conspicuously identified with the Republican Party until after the origin of the Populists. He was the father of two sons and two daughters, who survive him, and a deacon in the Baptist Church of Healdsburg. The funeral took place Sunday, attended by a large concourse of friends. Rev. Joe Waldrop conducted the services at the house at 10:30 o’clock a.m. When the cortege reached town it was escorted Rod Matheson Post No. 16, G. A. R., whose rites were performed at the grave, and joined by the I.O.O.F. and Masonic lodges, of which he was & respected member also.

Death of A.L. Warner

A.L. Warner died at his farm on Russian River on Friday last and his funeral took place in Healdsburg on Sunday. This will be sad news for his friends in this county and elsewhere. A.L. Warner was a good man. He was also a man of much talent.
He was a humanitarian in the broadest sense of that word. His death is a loss to his family and to the community at large. His influence was always good, as was his example. He was a consistent Christian gentleman, a Knight Templar and an Odd Fellow. It is with the most sincere regret that we pen this notice of his death.

He was a native of New York, aged seventy-one years.

Private Peter Jacob Weidemeyer (Alias John Thompson)

Peter Jacob Weidemeyer was born on the 8th October 1848 in Baltimore City, Maryland to Adam Weidemeyer and Barbara E. Schaeffer. When the 1850 Census was taken he was making his home in Baltimore Ward 18, Baltimore County, Maryland. When the 1860 Census was taken he was making his home in Baltimore Ward 18, Baltimore County, Maryland. He enlisted as a Private on the 6th January 1865 (at the age of 16) under the alias John Thompson in Company D, 11th Missouri Voluntary Infantry. He had family members trying to find him, his Commanding Officer received a dispatch from the war department inquiring about a boy named Peter Weidemeyer. Upon being confronted by this letter he admitted that was indeed his name. In February 1865, he went to New Orleans and in March went to Dauphin Island, Alabama. Throughout March and April in participated in the Siege of Mobile, Siege of the Spanish Fort and Fort Blakeley. He was at Demopolis, Alabama at the end of war. At the end of the war he wrote a letter to his sister Martha saying he was looking forward to going home. It reads in part “We will not be coming home through Baltimore or even anywhere near it. We will go by way of Vicksburg, Miss. To St. Louis to be mustered out there. But having arrived in St. Louis, I will soon be on my way to Baltimore. Our regiment has no printed record, at least I have never seen one but its deeds are known nearly all over the west. Somehow some soldiers got my right name. I think by father sending some drawing of mine to our Col. Only a few in our Company know it, and they are continually teasing and boring me. Now it is not that I am ashamed of my name (far from it) but since I have thus far been called by my alias, I wish it to be continued... as I am known by that name throughout the regiment. I took that name on me so that I would escape all questions and bothering’s that might be thought. I have been offered a situation as drummer in the regulars with a good chance of becoming drum major but you need have no fear of that tempting me from coming home. You will have no need of writing to any officers asking for information of me for as long as I have strength, I will answer to a received letter by me.

From your Brother Peter Jacob Weidemeyer.”

He was discharged on the 15th January 1866 in Memphis, Tennessee after which his unit was taken to St. Louis, Missouri. When the 1870 Census was taken he is making his home in Walker, Moniteau County, Missouri working as a Shoe Maker.

In April 1875, he took up a government land contract near Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California and became entangled in 10 years of litigation. In 1876, he is making his home in San Pablo, Contra Costa County, California working as a Shoe Maker. In September 1886, while helping as a bricklayer, he was looking upwards a mason splashed him with some Lime Mortar hitting him in the right eye leaving him blind in that eye. In 1888, he is making his home in Mendocino, Sonoma County, California working as a Shoe Maker. In 1892, he is making his home in Healdsburg No. 1, Sonoma County, California working as a Shoe Maker. He was a charter member of the Knights of Pythias in Sonoma County. When the 1900 Census was taken he is making his home on Center Street, Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California working as a Shoe Maker. On the 16th September 1906, he passed away in Healdsburg, Sonoma County, California.

Death of P.J. Weidemeyer

Peter Jacob Weidemeyer passed away Sunday afternoon at his room over A.D. Passalacqua & Co.’s store. He had been in poor health for a number of years. The deceased was a native of Maryland, and aged fifty-five years. He had resided in this vicinity for many years, and worked at his trade, that of shoemaker, for Schwab Bros, but ill health forced him to give up that work. He held the office of Master of Finance in Friendship Lodge No. 91, K. of P., and it is doubtful if anyone can be secured to fulfill the duties as faithfully as he did. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 from the undertaking parlors of T.G. Young under auspices of the Knights of Pythias. He was a veteran of the Civil War. A number of comrades were in attendance, and burial service of the G.A.R. was read at the grave by Mrs. R.S. Logan.

COUNTY'S FIRST WHITE CHILD DIES HERE

The first white child born in Sonoma county died suddenly here Tuesday, when John S. Williams passed from life at 8 a.m.

John S. Williams was born December 14, 1848, a little south of the present site of the city of Healdsburg, on what is now known as the McCracken place. He was the son of John S. Williams, who had come to California four years before the Donner party. His father dying while he was yet a boy, the man who now lies in death

\textsuperscript{17} At this time have no proof, he was referenced in a Decoration Day Article

became connected with the family of the famous Kit Carson when his mother married a brother of the noted frontiersman.

Although he had spent periods of time in Texas and Missouri and in Lake and Mendocino counties. Mr. Williams spent most of his life in the county in which he was born. Extremely active of body and up to two days of his death doing a full day’s work each day, he frequently declared that hard work was what had kept him, in good health. His memory was unusually clear, and he could recall events that occurred many years ago, when the state was young with a freshness that made them seem as though they had occurred but a few days before. He was well informed in world events, and frequently contributed to the newspapers articles dealing with modern questions. But above all he loved to recall the events of pioneer days, and many of his most interesting articles, for he was a fluent and interesting writer —dealt with the early days of California and Sonoma county.

Death came as a shock to the relatives of Mr. Williams and to the countless friends he had in Healdsburg, and in fact, all of Sonoma county. Saturday he did his usual day's work and Sunday morning was taken ill. He failed rapidly and early this morning passed from the workaday world. Heart disease is believed to have caused death.

The following sons and daughters survive to mourn the loss of a beloved father, and to them the community of which Mr. Williams had been so long a part extends the deepest and most sincere sympathy:

Mrs. L.B. Scranton, Riverside; Mrs. J.B. Trewin, San Francisco; Mrs. J.D. Cox, Healdsburg; E.L. Williams, Hopland; Mrs. E.A. Petray, Healdsburg; Mrs. Fred Bailhache, Hopland: Mrs. Rush Hamilton, Oakland; Mrs. Charles Cake and J.R. Williams, Healdsburg: Mrs. A.C. Anderson, San Francisco, and Harold Williams, Los Angeles.
