DESCRIPTION
7a. Architectural style: Barn with cupola
7b. Briefly describe the present physical description of the site or structure and describe any major alterations from its original condition:
    This barn has matching shed roofed wings on either side of a two-story center section whose gable roof slopes down to just above the roofs of the wings. Centered on the ridge of the gable is a vented cupola. The barn has closed cornices and rustic siding. Windows are multi-paned double-hungs. The center section has a large first-story opening and a smaller hay loft door above. Just below the peak of the gable is a vent and a beam that aided in hoisting the hay up to the loft.

SIGNIFICANCE
19. Briefly state historical and/or architectural importance (include dates, events, and persons associated with the site.)

This well-maintained barn is located on the pioneer Long family property. John Long, was two years old when he came to California with his father, Isaac Long, and grandfather, William Long, in 1851. Isaac Long settled on this 240 acres of land in 1854 and spent the remainder of his life making improvements on his farm. John inherited 80 acres of the original homestead in 1892. He later added 20 additional acres. The combined 100 acres were devoted to vineyards and orchards. In 1875 he married Mary Copple, born in Nebraska when her parents were in route to California in 1856. The Longs had five children.

This barn, one of the few remaining with cupola intact, exhibits the additional detail common in 19th Century outbuildings.
