SIGNIFICANCE
19. Briefly state historical and/or architectural importance (include dates, events, and persons associated with the site.)

This house was built in 1932 by M. Earl Adams who was the owner and editor of the Healdsburg Tribune newspapers in the 1930's. Mr. Adams was active and influential in all civic affairs. In the 1950's the current owners, the Smith's, once owners of the local Sanitary Dairy, purchased the property.

This house shows the trend to follow English architecture although 30-40 years behind the English as this house would have been popular there circa 1900. This influence was from Americans having been in Europe during WWI. This is a very pleasing example of Cottage architecture.
