PERSONAL PROFILE

Both diligent and motivated, I am a recent graduate from The University of Portsmouth featured on a large online design magazine called Creative Boom looking to strengthen my skills within the graphic design industry. During my time at university I learnt a range of fundamental design components including; typography, layout and illustration. My passion for design began during my second year of study where I challenged my creative ability by frequently creating my own briefs. I utilise social media platforms, such as Twitter, Behance and Dribbble, to promote my personal brand, showcase my work and gain freelance opportunities. At present, I have gained a following on these platforms and hope to expand this following in the future.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Pets at Home - Warehouse Worker
[June 2015 - August 2015]
Various warehouse orientated jobs which included processing and hitting targets for online orders, assorting inbound delivery and general house keeping. This helped in learning to hit deadlines with proficiency

Sainsbury's - General Assistant
[September 2012 - August 2014]
Achieving and prioritising customer satisfaction alongside unpacking delivery and arranging point of sale (POS) to greatly benefit the store. From this I have developed social skills in a friendly environment and the ability to work as a team as well as individually.
