SPEAKER

---

Jennifer Williams, P.E.

Planning & Development Supervisor,
COA Austin-Bergstrom International Airport

Jennifer Williams has been working in local government since she graduated from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte with a Bachelor's of Science in Civil Engineering. An eager ambition to broaden her career in 2012 led her to aviation in Austin Texas as a Planning and Development Project Manager for Austin-Bergstrom International Airport to support roadway and pavement projects. Since then, she has led critical projects and developed meaningful community relationships to support AUS, including leading the AUS 2040 Master Plan development process. She is currently the Officer of Planning and Development managing a team of architects, engineers, and planners to provide strategic leadership to the Planning team and guide design standards development and implementation that will chart the course of our airport for generations to come.
