

SWIMMING THE ENGLISH CHANNEL

It's Not About the Swimming

ANTHONY MCCARLEY:
KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Anthony McCarley is a savvy executive who has spent his career in both executive levels at Global 100 companies and startups with successful exits. As a child, Anthony dreamed of swimming the English Channel. In 2013, he became the 59th person over 50 to accomplish that challenging swim.

He didn't stop there. By 2014, Anthony had earned the prestigious title of Triple Crown marathon swimmer which encompasses the English Channel swim, circumnavigating Manhattan Island, and crossing the Catalina Channel. All accomplished in less than one year, which earned him a nomination for the 2014 Global Marathon Swimming Federation Award in the Most Impressive Overall Year category.

Those who attend his speaking engagements gain an understanding of the importance of precise communication, implementing an agile plan, taking action, and accepting ownership of results. Anthony concludes with an inspirational challenge to accept failure, be thankful, and share in success.

“...he demonstrates how determination, never giving up and adaptation can lead to success which is a great story for anyone in business...”
