RAW is thrilled to announce the exhibit and film screening theme for 2023:

REBUILD

We are living in the aftermath of a pandemic. The world is different now. We have the unique opportunity to reimagine the possibilities for putting the pieces back together.

We’re asking our youth...

How do you want to rebuild your relationship with yourself and others, your community, and the world, in a way that better serves everyone?

Exhibit prototype by art therapist Alison Miller
Kaitlyn Farmer
Project Launch Senior Manager
RAW Alum

Norway Dolan
Project Launch Coordinator

Kaitlyn Farmer, former Project Launch Coordinator and Community Engagement Manager, is back as the Project Launch Senior Manager!

Kaitlyn, together with Norway Dolan, Project Launch Coordinator, are heading up the team currently serving 17 seniors in the Class of 2023. Seniors are in the midst of scholarship season as they await acceptances to college and career training programs. Last year RAW youth submitted over 115 scholarship applications and earned nearly $2.8MM in scholarships, gift aid, and grants, none of which needs to be paid back!

This year Project Launch is planning for more academic and career-focused opportunities. Field trips include college/university campus tours, an upcoming Senioritis Day, and visits to local businesses like GE Aerospace in Lynn and Google in Cambridge.

Kaitlyn’s goal for the year is to expand resources and strengthen the mentorship program for the 26 juniors who will be enrolled, given the fact that 51% have a 504 or IEP (Individualized Education Program). Our cohort of dedicated, volunteer mentors are a pivotal part of Project Launch, helping guide seniors to plan their next steps after graduation.

“I WANT ALL THE YOUTH TO KNOW THAT THEY HAVE A TEAM IN THEIR CORNER SUPPORTING THEM AND ROOTING FOR THEM AS THEY PLAN FOR THEIR FUTURE GOALS.”

—NORWAY DOLAN, PROJECT LAUNCH COORDINATOR
Michelle Richardson
Community Engagement Manager
Former RAW Parent

The day of Michelle “La Poetica” Richardson’s interview at RAW her car got a flat tire. Joining the RAW team as the Community Engagement Manager meant so much to her that she left her car on the side of the road and quickly called a cab. That hustle accompanies Michelle in everything she does. She is a natural born community engager as she calls it. She likes to make connections and bring people together. Uniting folks is Michelle’s thing!

Michelle was five years old when her family moved to Salem. Her love of music and performance began around that same time. Her dad was a lover of salsa and her mentors (neighbors who owned the building that Michelle and her family lived in) were performers. She could hear their music through the walls. Fast forward years later her passion for music and poetry intersected when she began an open mic night in Lawrence where she lived at the time. She had hoped adults would join, but her regulars ended up being a bunch of high school kids.

Michelle discovered that many of these teens didn’t have a parent who saw their magic. In her experience working with the kids in Lawrence she noticed it was never a parent who showed up to support, but a sibling, cousin, or friend. Michelle ended up being the adult who supported and uplifted the kids. She now plans to do the same for the youth who walk through RAW’s doors.

Michelle leads the group Artists in Action, a civic engagement group focused on creating social change and positively impacting our local community through the arts.

Michelle will be managing VanGo, RAW’s mobile art unit for community art making this summer. She will also be organizing two They Look Like Me (TLLM) events which will be open to RAW youth as well as the community. TLLM is RAW’s forum for community conversations that amplify the vision and the voices of our youth and feature guest BIPOC leaders, artists, and activists who bring an intersectional lens to their pursuit of racial, social, and economic justice.

We are so excited to see Michelle in action in this new position!
Party with a Purpose
Tickets now on sale!
Scan here to purchase tickets
May 6th, 2023
@rawartworks
@rawartworkslynn
The Real to Reel Filmschool Screening
Tuesday, May 23rd | 6 - 8 PM
Lynn Auditorium
3 City Hall Square
Lynn, MA 01901
Exhibit Opening + Block Party
Thursday, May 25th | 5- 8 PM
Raw Art Works
37 Central Square
Lynn, MA 01901
SAVE THE DATES
SPRING 2023 NEWSLETTER