ITS America Unveils New Website itsamerica.org

Washington D.C. – The Intelligent Transportation Society of America, the nation’s largest organization dedicated to advancing the research, development and deployment of intelligent transportation systems is proud to announce it has a new website, itsamerica.org.

The fully redesigned website will still contain all of the important information members, government officials and other key stakeholders have relied on, but with improved functionality. The new website fully reflects ITS America’s diverse membership including the automotive companies and original equipment manufacturers, innovative start-up companies, infrastructure related businesses, research firms, leading universities, and government and public sector organizations.

Those interested in learning more about the upcoming ITS World Congress in Montreal, October 29 until November 2nd will find that information on the home page under "Events."

“ITS America is taking a leadership role to help advance the solutions that will improve the safety and efficiency of the nation’s transportation system. Our redesigned website is a valuable resource for stakeholders in the intelligent transportation industry, and showcases the important work we are doing to advance intelligent transportation solutions and improve our infrastructure,” said ITS America Interim President and CEO David St. Amant.
