DENVER’S RTD & UBER FORM PARTNERSHIP

Partnership to integrate transit information into the Uber app in Denver, CO
Launched on January 31, 2019

The Regional Transportation District (RTD), which operates public transit services in Denver, has partnered with ridehailing company, Uber, to integrate public transit information into the Uber app. Through this partnership, real-time bus and train schedules, directions, and expected fares for RTD transit services will be available via a “Transit” feature within the Uber app. This feature aims to better enable users to seamlessly plan multimodal trips while also expanding transit access, and is Uber’s first integration with mass transit. In the future, the partnership plans to expand the integrated capabilities to include trip payment – enabling riders to pay for both the Uber and transit components of their trip within the Uber app.

LA METRO LAUNCHES CARSHARE PROGRAM

Partnership with Getaround for carsharing at 27 stations in Los Angeles, CA
Launched on February 7, 2019

The Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (LA Metro) has partnered with Getaround to offer carsharing service at Metro transit park-and-ride lots throughout Los Angeles County, California. Through this partnership, 110 parking spaces will be available across 27 Metro transit stations for peer-to-peer carsharing vehicles – privately owned vehicles available for rent via the Getaround mobile app. These vehicles can be booked, located, and unlocked through the Getaround app for as little as $5 per hour, depending on the type of vehicle rented. As part of the program, LA Metro riders can receive $25 off their first booking. This partnership aims to improve first/last mile mobility and reduce the number of cars on the road.
