A BRIEF GUIDE FOR PASTORS TO THE UPSTATE NEW YORK SYNOD DEACON PROGRAM

MISSION STATEMENT
The mission of the Deacon Program of the Upstate NY Synod is to identify, train, authorize, and supervise lay persons who assist pastors and other rostered leaders of their congregation in worship, educational ministries, and/or ministries of care, service and outreach beyond the congregation.

The following information may be helpful as you acquaint yourself with the Synod Deacon Program. More in depth information is found in the Upstate New York Synod Deacon Handbook which is found online at www.upstatenysynod.org

Presiding at Sacraments: Presiding at sacraments shall follow ELCA and Upstate New York Synod Guidelines. A deacon may only preside with approval of the Bishop of the UNYS Synod following a letter requesting permission by the Pastor overseeing the ministry. In order to comply with current ecumenical agreements, the Bishop cannot authorize Upstate New York Deacons to preside at sacraments in the congregations of full communion partners.

TRANSITION

Ministry Between Pastors: Congregation Deacons are often an important part of the transition process when there is a pastoral transition. The recognized transition pastor shall develop a covenant with deacons outlining responsibilities and boundaries.

When a new pastor arrives: Deacons are to submit a letter of resignation when a new pastor arrives in the local congregation. Some new pastors prefer to hold these resignations for a period of time until service can be clearly defined and understood by all parties.

Questions may be addressed to any of the following persons who serve on the Synod Deacon Committee and they can connect you to the conference trainers.
