

FRANCHISE ALERT #9: AUTOMOTIVE FRANCHISES

OWNER'S ROLE: Can be owner/operator or executive management or manage managers (multiple units) depending on the business model of the franchise involved.

SKILLS REQUIRED: NO AUTOMOTIVE EXPERIENCE REQUIRED!

Franchises provide initial and ongoing training specific to the business.

Business owner mindset; positive, can-do attitude; leadership skills; business management; people skills; supervisory skills for blue-collar workers; ability to execute a business and a marketing plan; previous profit and loss responsibility is ideal.

NOTE: Automotive business owners DO NOT WORK ON THE VEHICLES. They hire technicians with the appropriate training and expertise.

Exception: Owner/Operator home-based service franchises with only one territory

UNIQUE CHARACTERISTICS:

Automotive vehicles, like all things mechanical, need regular maintenance. They will also get damaged and deteriorate with age and usage, requiring repair.

The automotive after-market is MASSIVE. This is a secondary market of the automotive industry that provides parts, equipment, accessories, and services for vehicles after the original sale. The U.S. after-market industry is projected to reach $372 billion by 2024.

Over 284 million vehicles on are U.S. roads. This includes passenger cars, motorcycles, trucks, buses, and other vehicles. In 2021, 282 million vehicles were registered in the United States. About 14 million new vehicles are expected to be registered in the U.S. in 2022, while the same number of vehicles will be scrapped and taken off the road. What about electric vehicles? They comprise just 1% of the automotive market share.
