YEARBOOK

JAMAICA PLAIN
HIGH SCHOOL
"Our Miss Morrissey"

When first we came to Jamaica Plain High School, you were here — always pleasant and cheerful, always efficient and capable, and always ready to help in the wisest way possible.

You were a familiar sight, smiling over your desk or hustling about the school doing errands which would make tasks easier for all of us.

We were sorry to learn of your retirement, but we are pleased that you now have time to enjoy your home and your pets.

This dedication is but a humble appreciation of that fine person who has gained a place in our hearts and whom we shall always remember affectionately.

"Ad multos felicem annos."

ML. F.
To the members of the Class of 1953 I extend my heartiest congratulations. Graduation from senior high school is an important achievement in your lives. As you move on to higher levels of education, or take your place in the business affairs of the community, I urge you to take with you the virtues of honesty, prudence, perseverance, and industry inculcated into you by the teachers of the school. The opportunities for employment are greater today than at any time in the nation's history provided you can meet the standards which industry requires.

I wish to thank Miss Donlan and the members of her committee for this excellent Yearbook. To produce a book of this kind means many hours of labor. My thanks, therefore, to the teachers and pupils who worked so diligently on this book. It pleases me that the committee has dedicated the Yearbook to Miss Morrissey whose many years of service to Jamaica Plain High School are greatly appreciated.

Judging contests and F. F. A. activities are very important parts of every vocational agricultural department. At our school, excellent work has been done, also, in public speaking. Stephen O'Flanagan won second place in the district finals. At the various fairs and flower shows where judging contests are held, we have achieved an enviable number of prizes in competition with schools throughout Massachusetts.

Specialized or Not

The merchandising co-operative pupils, trained in school, put that knowledge to direct use in the stores where they work. The class arranges displays — we have the only retail room in Boston schools — learns about merchandise, and how to become acceptable employees.

You need?

TEAM WORK

We are extremely proud of the boys and girls in competitive sports the past year and, in particular, those seniors who wore the Jamaica Plain colors. School sports complement book learning by teaching pupils to cooperate, to take hard knocks without complaint, and to subject their own desires to the greater good of their team-mates. Our athletes, giving their best, have received, in return, the appreciation of the students and the satisfaction that goes with a job well done.
