Reaching Higher

We'll step up, receive our parchment, turn, give a smile, then stride off stage — in the height of style.

It's been a while since first we strode through the Jamaica Plain door. Now we step up again — but in single file. Now we must reach up, stretching out our hands for what the future holds in store. Let the purple and gold still inspire — as we reach up higher.

The Bilingual Program at Jamaica Plain High School has eighty students and three full-time teachers—Placida Galdi (Department Chairman), Roberto Martinez, Jeff Elman, Sheila Cochran.

Courses parallel the normal curriculum for sophomores and juniors. In addition to basic courses, Mary Jane Lubahn teaches a course in music and Miss Alice Buckley, librarian, conducts classes in the enjoyment of books and the use of the library.
