an Obie Award winning theater that’s been a creative home for exciting performing artists, ground-breaking new work, and engaging community programs since 2007
A CULTURAL LANDMARK
Bushwick's only nonprofit theater dedicated to new performance, contributing acclaimed new works to the contemporary canon

A COMMUNITY ARTS CENTER
teaching 120 learners aged 9 to 90 through free arts education programs in public schools and senior centers

AN ARTISTIC INCUBATOR
engaging 500+ emerging artists and technicians each year and advancing their artistic and professional success

A JOB CREATOR
providing fairly paid and meaningful jobs on and offstage, and training Bushwick youth for professional arts and production careers

AN ECONOMIC DRIVER
drawing annual audiences of 6000+ from Brooklyn and beyond to support local businesses and culture

A FORCE FOR JUSTICE
serving and uplifting the voices of Bushwick residents and stakeholders
SUE KESSLER
CREATIVE DIRECTOR

Sue is devoted to supporting innovative artists and ground-breaking performance work within the vibrant community of Bushwick, Brooklyn. After attending Skidmore College, she became a member of the experimental theater company, Fovea Floods, where she performed, directed, composed music, and served as Company Manager throughout the company’s ten year career. In 2007, Sue helped to transform The Bushwick Starr from a humble rehearsal space (acquired in 2001) into a full-scale black box theater. In addition to her work at the Starr, Sue is currently the director of the Theater Management program at Skidmore College and Chair of the Saratoga Springs Arts Commission for the Mayor’s Office. Sue has been a guest speaker at Bard College, Carnegie Mellon’s MFA directing program, The Orchard Project, and Henry Street Settlement, and served on various arts panels for organizations such as New York Foundation for the Arts, The Brooklyn Arts Council and The Public Theater’s Under the Radar Festival.

---

NOEL ALLAIN
ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

Noel is a graduate of Skidmore College and the Juilliard School’s Drama Division. As an actor, he has performed in various theater, television, and film productions in and out of New York City. At the Starr, he has programmed artists and companies such as Heather Christian, Jeremy O. Harris, Dave Malloy, Half Straddle, Daniel Fish, Clare Barron, Ayesha Jordan, The Mad Ones, Phillip Howze, Erin Markey, David Greenspan, Haruna Lee, Diana Oh, and Jillian Walker. He has helped develop the Starr’s workshop, Creating Performance, at El Puente Bushwick and the after-school program, Big Green Theater. He has served as a panelist for NYSCA, LMCC, The Shed, Sundance Theater Lab, and HERE’s HARP Residency, appeared as a guest artist for the University of Iowa’s New Play Festival, and as a guest speaker at Colombia, NYU, Hunter, Bard, Skidmore, and for the Prelude Festival.
ANNUAL PROGRAMS

MAIN STAGE SEASON
annual series of 5 world premiere performances by some of New York’s most innovative artists

YOUTH + COMMUNITY
free workshops through Big Green Theater, Shake on the Block, Creating Performance, and the Silver Linings Radio Hour

ARTISTIC DEVELOPMENT
year-round residencies and readings of 10-20 new works-in-progress

ARTS ACCESS + ENGAGEMENT
free and discounted events on the Main Stage and local public parks
“The work they program is boldly experimental. It’s also a lot of fun... a bright spot on the Off Off Broadway map”
- The New York Times

“There are only a handful of venues dedicated to showcasing risky, vividly in-flux work on a regular basis... the immensely valuable Bushwick Starr is one of them.”
- Vulture

“It’s hard to understate the joy of seeing a show at The Bushwick Starr, theater’s answer to the rock club where you caught your favorite band before it got big.”
- The Village Voice

“You don’t need a crystal ball to see the artists who are going to light up the theater of tomorrow; you just need to hop on the L train.”
- Theatermania
PHOTO CREDITS:
Page 1 - Diana Oh’s The Infinite Love Party, photo by Maria Baranova
Page 2 - Heather Christian’s Animal Wisdom, photo by Maria Baranova
Page 3 - photo by Todd Heisler for the New York Times
Page 4 - The HawtPlate’s Waterboy and the Mighty World, photo by Maria Baranova
Page 5 - Jeremy O. Harris’ Black Exhibition, photo by Maria Baranova