On Friday, January 8, the Department of Interior’s Bureau of Indian Affairs officially designated tribal lands in Mashpee and Taunton as a reservation for the Mashpee Wampanoag Tribe. Citizens of the Tribe celebrated the U.S. government’s final recognition of the tribe’s sovereign lands at the Tribe’s Community and Government Center on Monday, January 11.

The designation is a final step in a long journey to become a sovereign nation.

Chief Vernon “Silent Drum” Lopez, who fought in the Battle of Normandy during World War II, says he has been working to get federal recognition since he joined the Tribe’s first tribal council in the 1970s.

“This Land is our Mother. As is always the case with Creation and Creator’s plan; our Mother came first before us. Our Mother was created after the stars and Grandmother Moon had been set in the heavens and the Waters shaped the curves of our Mother’s body. She was created to provide all we need to live and serve one another. The first People were taken from her Sacred body and the Waters that helped to give her shape. Hence the People were named Wôpanâak, First People. Thus, naturally, we are our Mother as with

Dear Tribal Family,

As we write a new chapter in our history, January 11, 2016 will go down as the most significant day in our struggle to re-establish sovereignty.

On that day, our nation was literally born-again and for the first time we raised the flag of our Tribal Nation over our Sovereign Land!

We marked the occasion days after we were notified that the United States government had fulfilled its obligation and declared our land in Mashpee & Taunton our “initial reservation.”

As I noted before our own veterans raised our Tribal flag, we didn’t get to that moment by our own efforts alone. We have arrived not just due to the work of this current administration but also because of the strength and sacrifice of many who have passed on.

Our flag now flies over land as a symbol of our sovereignty. It declares that the People of the First Light are not merely tribe “members.” We are all tribal Citizens - of the Mashpee Wampanoag Nation!

It says: “We are here. And here we shall remain.”

Yet, even as we celebrate this historic milestone, we cannot stop here. Now, that we’ve been recognized as a modern-state, it requires that we exercise our sovereignty and establish our own essential emergency services under our very own Homeland Security Department.

It is with great pride I can report that the vigorous efforts of the Tribal Council have seen to it that we have entered into Mutual Aid Agreements with the City of Taunton and

On January 8 the U.S. Department of Interior officially designated Mashpee Wampanoag tribal lands as a reservation. Under the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, gaming on the Tribe’s first acquired trust lands cannot commence until those lands are declared to be a reservation under the Indian Reorganization Act. The declaration was published in the federal register on January 8 - less than two months after the Tribe transferred formal ownership of approximately 321 acres of tribal lands in the Town of Mashpee and the City of Taunton to the federal government to be held in trust on behalf of the Tribe.

The reservation proclamation is the final step in several federal processes for the Tribe in re-establishing a sovereign land base for tribal self-government and economic development for all purposes under

Letter from Wampanoag Ball Committee

The Mashpee Wampanoag Ball Committee is working on planning our 20th Annual Mashpee Wampanoag Ball! We are very excited and look forward to another wonderful event filled with Tradition, Recognition and Celebration.

As we look back at the unfortunate events that took place at the Sea Crest Resort Hotel last year, after one of the most positive Tribal Ball events in the 19 year history, there are specific issues we must address to assure this year will not be blemished by the same activities. Unruly behavior will not be tolerated.

The challenge the committee has faced this year has been finding a venue that will comfortably accommodate the growing number of Tribal members and guests who regularly attend and enjoy our Ball.

This year we will host the 20th Annual Mashpee Wampanoag Ball on Saturday, April 16, 2016 at the White’s of Westport in Westport, MA located about 50 minutes from Mashpee, near Fall River.

In an effort to accommodate Tribal citizens as best we can, the Ball Committee is working on transportation from the Tribal building to the venue for Tribal Elder’s that evening.

While the Ball Committee is not offering hotel accommodation discounts or “block rooms”, there are area hotels that we can list for any guests who would like to consider reserving a room.

- Quality Inn ~ 1878 Wilbur Avenue, Swansea, MA 02777 - (508) 678-4545
- Westport Hampton Inn Hotel ~ 53 Old Bedford Road, Westport, MA 02790 - (508) 675-8500
- New Bedford Fairfield Inn & Suites Hotel ~ 185 MacArthur Drive, New Bedford, MA 02740 - 774) 634-2000

We are committed to planning a fantastic evening filled with Good Medicine and take time to celebrate all that we have to be Thankful for as a strong and self-determined Tribal Community.

Respectfully,
Suzette Spinola
MWT Ball Committee Chairwoman

the Town of Mashpee. Both of these agreements ensure two things crucial to exercising our sovereign authority.

1 Anyone who may need Fire or EMS services need only dial 911, and emergency services will be dispatched.

2 We now have a police force that will enforce tribal law and order. We’re talking about a professional tribal police force with an extensive background in law enforcement. Make no mistake - our officers will be trained alongside federal law enforcement agents in New Mexico that will put our officers on par with any other professional police force.

Thanks to the vision of our Tribal Council, and the hard work of our legal team, I can also report that we were able to establish these Mutual Aid Agreements with the City of Taunton and the Town of Mashpee while preserving our sovereignty.

Plans are in the works to host a community forum to educate Tribal Citizens and non-Tribal Citizens alike in how this all works on a federal, state and local level.

It’s been an enormous task but as Tribal Council Vice-Chairwoman Jessie “Little Doe” Baird correctly points out, we’ve done this before. Government services in the Town of Mashpee were originated and maintained by our forebears for years.

Of course, even as we establish certain basic services on our newly declared reservation land, we must walk and chew gum at the same time and continue to press forward with our casino project in Taunton to establish a major spoke in the wheel of economic development for our people.

We have our challenges ahead, but, we can rest assured that we will face them standing on our own reservation land.

Yes, I realize the word “reservation” has become a loaded-term. But, as we head into 2016, what our reservation proclamation is loaded with is potential - and the power of self-determination for our people.

Today, we reserve the right to control our own destiny.

Seeing the tribal flag raised over the sovereign land of the Mashpee Wampanoag Tribe is a powerful message to its 3,000 citizens. It’s also renew a discussion on the message depicted on the Massachusetts state seal that flies opposite the tribal flag. It serves as a stark reminder of the historic relationship between the tribe’s and the colonizers of the Commonwealth.

“As was expressed by a insightful Elder the State Seal is an accurate symbolization of the fate of the indigenous people of Turtle Island. The motto “By the Sword we seek Peace, but Peace under Liberty” translates to we are going to liberate your land and possessions and the sword will make it peaceful” speaks for itself when considering the current social and economic status of the indigenous people of Massachusetts, USA for that matter the hemisphere.

So, what’s on the seal? At first glance the state seal seems safe. There’s a blue shield on a white field with a white five-point star, signifying Massachusetts’ status as one of the first states.

However, as you look closer at the seal you’ll see where it gets weird. On the shield stands a Native American drawn in gold, a bow in one hand, an arrow in the other – its point turned down. The portrait was drawn from a photograph of an Ojibwa Indian named Little Shell from the Little Shell Band of Chippewa Indians, which is based in Montana. The portrait was selected because “he was a fine specimen of an Indian.”

And here’s where it really starts to get real. Above the native is an arm brandishing Myles Standish’s sword – appearing to be in position to strike down the native at any moment. Beneath the entire image is a Latin phrase, which translates to: “By the sword we seek peace, but peace under liberty.” It’s hard to see this as anything but an attempt to justify the European settlers’ violence against the Commonwealth’s original residents.

So, what can we do to get the Commonwealth to revise the state seal? You can start by showing your support for a bill proposed by Representative Byron Rushing that would create a special commission charged with creating a new seal and a new motto. For more information about the bill or to send a letter of support contact Dave VanderWoude in Representative Byron Rushing’s office at (617) 722-2783 or at david.vanderwoude@mahouse.gov.

WITH Valentine’s Day right around the corner Aunt Joan Avant Tavares opened her archives to share a few creative pieces from our tribal citizens when they were kids in her Indian Education Class. The two pieces below are from Nakia Hendricks when he was in third grade and Jennifer Blake when she was in second grade. Both pieces are on the topic of love. We hope you enjoy it and have a wonderful Valentine’s Day.

Love is...
Love is a day of love, friendship, even laughter! Everyone has a great time on a holiday called Valentine’s Day. It is very important to remember, don’t you think? You should love everyone. I do.
Jennifer Blake, Grade 2

Love is Ageless
I love to see my grandparents because they spoil me. When my parents aren’t home, I eat supper over their house. And I get any toy I want. One whole side of my family lives right next door. I love my grandparents.

federal law. No lawsuits have been filed to challenge any of these federal processes or decisions to date.

“This cements our right to self-determination now and for future generations,” said Mashpee Wampanoag Tribal Council Chairman Cedric Cromwell. He also reaffirmed the Tribe’s intention to begin construction of a world-class destination resort casino in Taunton this spring.

Yet, even as the Taunton casino project moves forward, Tribal leaders have also been busy dealing with more immediate infrastructure needs, such as the establishment of emergency services on Tribal lands. To that end, the Mashpee Tribe has entered into a Mutual Aid Agreement (MAA) with the Commonwealth of Massachusetts (as detailed in the state Compact), as well as the City of Taunton and the town of Mashpee.

Tribal leaders are in the final steps of signing a Mutual Aid Agreement with the Barnstable County Sheriff’s Department that would provide the Tribe with a booking room, a holding cell and dispatch services.

“Re-establishing sovereignty and building a modern nation is no small task,” Cromwell said. “In addition to establishing formal relationships with state and municipal agencies in relation to emergency services, we’ve also adopted a body of criminal law that essentially mirrors state law. Working in conjunction with our Tribal court system, tribal law will be enforced by recently deputized tribal police officers, each of whom has extensive law enforcement experience.”

“After decades of painstaking work, we are overjoyed the government of the United States has officially issued this reservation proclamation, as we are witnessing the re-birth of our nation,” Cromwell said.

Purpose of Peacemaking

there is a speaking with others who hold an opposite view that includes humility, bridge building, and speaking in a humane way. Often we consider justice a voice speaking the perceived injustices inflicted by others. In facing these opposite views listening might serve to avoid alienation of others. If a speaker enters with judgement, one will make a point but lose the relationship. Listening hears people into being, gives them a place to stand, and builds trust and relationship. In listening to opposition, there is a valid truth to be heard. When speaking grievances there must be some tactful way so that one may separate the issues from the person, so that one may stand with them and explore the conflict together instead of shaming each other. There is a fine line between naming and defining issues, and standing in contrast to the other and deeply despising or distrusting the other side. If this happens one becomes part of the problem. Practicing inspired speaking and listening one can face cloudy issues instead of seeing in black and white, good and evil and by thinking through the conflict together with each other.

Emergency Prep. Ready for Winter Storms or over 70 elders within a 5-mile radius of the Mashpee Wampanoag Tribe Community and Government Center, the Emergency Preparedness Department’s winter storm initiatives are at a minimum welcome help and potentially life saving. Support from the department includes a wide range of services from emergency supplies, and snow removal to backup generators.

“We have support services for the entire Tribe, but are particularly focused on the needs of our elders,” said Emergency Preparedness Planner Nelson Andrews Jr. “Winter storms can be especially difficult on elders that don’t have family support in their home. Our program ensures they have emergency supplies for a 72-hour period, snow and ice removal and in homes where medical needs require power we provide backup generators.”

Winter storm services kick into gear after 3 inches of snow accumulate on the ground. At that time snow removal contractors are deployed to start clearing the snow and ice from walkways and driveways. Tribal Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) members are on standby to assist as well. In the event of power loss backup generators are delivered to elders and vulnerable tribal member’s that require power and after 24-hours of power loss within the Mashpee area, The Community and Government Center is opened up to all tribal citizens and their families as an overnight warming station. The overnight warming station includes cots, food and other emergency supplies to help tribal citizens ride out the storm safely.

The basic 72-hour emergency kits have already been delivered to the 72+ elders’ homes. If you or a family member are over 72 years of age and have not yet received a kit, contact Ann Marie Askew the Emergency Preparedness Outreach Coordinator at (508) 477-5800 x 13 or annmarie.askew@mwtribe.com.

All of this information along with other important updates will be pushed out through the HHANS Emergency Alert System in the near future, and is readily available on MWT E-Prep social media. Tribal Citizens that have registered their contact information into the system receive notices via phone calls, texts and email. To register please send your name, email address and phone number to either nelson.andrews@mwtribe.com or annmarie.askew@mwtribe.com.

Taking a Moment to Thank Housing

We wanted to share a truly heartwarming letter the Housing Department received from one of the tribal citizens that was selected for housing assistance in the most recent housing lottery. Below is a draft of the letter and we’re so happy this family will be staying warm.

Dear Ms. Deirdre Lopes,

I wanted to take the time to write you a letter of appreciation. There are not enough words to tell you how grateful I am for the Mashpee Wampanoag Housing Department’s generosity. The fact that I was selected and chosen among so many eligible contestants is truly an act of God. I know and acknowledge that I am truly blessed.

My very gratitude is beyond measure. It takes away from the very degree of my thankfulness to express and put into words how I feel about this whole experience. It literally brings me to tears. And I have been crying over this whole process. This very process humbles my heart knowing what is being done for me. I am humbled. I am very thankful and with sheer gratitude.

Your department has been very professional with the implementation of this process. From the inception to the completion of the documentation route, never was I made to feel inept nor judged for having received such favor, help, support and kindness. Your staff was very warm and friendly with such an act of kindness and generosity and the goodwill shown to me...during this Christmas season has touched my heart in such a way to be given preferentiality because of my need. I still am overwhelmed and filled up with the love that only God can give...has been shown down on me from the Mashpee Wampanoag Housing Department.

I am eternally grateful...and truly blessed! Thank you for all the good work your department is doing for our Wampanoag community.
Preparing for the 2016 Budget

We’re in the process of drafting the proposed budget and will be getting a copy out to all Tribal Citizens in the near future. Like past years, we’ll hold a budget information session to give Tribal Citizens an opportunity to gain a stronger understanding of the proposed budget and ask questions. Then, at our General Membership meeting we’ll hold an up-or-down vote. While dates have not been set for the information session or the vote, it’s important to understand the process.

It’s also important to note that because we don’t impose taxes on individual tribal citizens, our tribal government does not run on taxpayer dollars, as other governments rely on to provide services to citizens. Instead, we have access to a limited amount of grant funding, federal aid, and investor contributions.

Of course, a budget is not simply an accounting statement filled with numbers. A budget, first and foremost, is a statement of priorities. It’s a document that lays out how limited resources get divvied up in the face of diverse needs in a way that gives us the biggest bang for our buck. It’s important to keep this in mind as you review the document.

It’s not just about the dollars. It’s also about common sense. So let me say this: like past years the proposed budget will be balanced and will not project spending more than we bring in.

While the road to complete economic independence may be filled with potholes, traffic, and other temporary detours, the 2016 proposed budget will keep us cruising forward on the freeway to our future. We’ve made amazing strides towards our economic goals in 2015 and we’re literally at the finish line. When you receive the budget remember we’re putting our money where our mouths and hearts are - a future financed, not by outside investors or government grants, but one that is paved and paid for from the bounty of our own prosperity.

Kutaputunumuw,
Cedric Cromwell
