d. Review of Text Amendment for Discussion Concerning Ingress/Egress.
Planning Director Levister stated he and Matt Hines put together example text to see if this is what Council would like to do. On the example text change and after looking at other counties the text could read “one (1) access road for every 200 lots in a subdivision and would require additional access if the increased traffic and noise would create a safety hazard or otherwise be detrimental to residents of the existing subdivision.” Council Member Wilson stated he was comfortable with the number of 200 but asked the Director to make sure it would not be a bottleneck. Director Levister recommended having a workshop with Council on the ingress/egress along with RS1 Special Exception next on the agenda.

e. Review of Text Amendment for Discussion Concerning RS1 Single Family Residential District Special Exception # 2. Council Member Jordan stated when the Board of Zoning Appeals approved the special exception for the subdivision that went in, the density was calculated with the total acerage that included the common areas and roadways for three dwellings per acre. He stated you actually have about eight units per acre but if it was spread out it calculated to three, so the houses would be on top of each other. Planning Director Levister stated on the example he took the square footage of the lot size of 14,520 and divided by three so Council could give him feedback of what they thought. Council Member Jordan agreed a workshop is needed.

f. Mobile GIS update-Carlton Segars
Carlton Segars, Tax Assessor for Chester County stated the current website contract with Beacon has issues and are on a short cycle with them. Currently the cost with Beacon is $15,600 dollars a year but stated if the County went with Sidwell who does smaller county websites the cost would be $22,770 dollars for year one. The first five-year contract period the County would pay $6300.00 dollars which results in savings of $30,030. Sidwell would merge the current information onto the ESRI ArcGIS Online Platform which would enable various departments to produce custom maps based on their individual needs. Rob Jackson, GIS from Catawba Regional of Governments stated he had not used the Sidwell but can say it is built on a ESRI platform, if you are familiar with ARC GIS or ESRI they can have a hold on the market for mapping in general, but he can state they are not going anywhere no time soon. Chairman Stuart stated they have asked Beacon for two years for updates to the site, but it hasn’t happened.
