- Important article: https://www.vox.com/the-big-idea/2017/2/21/14664568/lose-constitutional-democracy-authoritarian

This 9/30/22 sobering NY Times article reports on the decline of peaceful uprisings succeeding in recent years. It points to a weakness in social media-only organizing. “Social media, which enables protests to organize and gather in once-unthinkable numbers, often with little or no formal leadership, may also paradoxically undermine those movements, according to a theory advanced by Zeynep Tufekci, a Columbia University sociologist.” In earlier eras, activists might spend months or years building the organizational structures and real-world ties necessary to launch a mass protest. This also made movements durable, instilling discipline and chains of command…”

- To be plotted out in Actions
