GOOD NEWS!
- Two strict abortion bills failed in Nebraska and South Carolina.

UPCOMING ACTIONS
Thursday, May 4 - Two actions
- 11 AM: Santos "Office Hours" Action in Farmingdale, Long Island. To take train to L.I., meet at precisely 9:12 AM at the ticket booth in Penn Station. Here is the Facebook link.
- 5 PM: Immigration vigil at the Staten Island Ferry Terminal, Manhattan side.
  - There’s been confusing news this week, including word that people might be able to apply for asylum in the countries they’re trying to flee. However, the administration doesn’t want people presenting themselves at the southern border so if you have money and can fly in, you can apply. If you walk, you can’t.
  - There are still questions about what happens when Title 42 expires this month.
  - Active-duty service people are being sent to the border – unarmed – supposedly to help with processing.

Thursday May 11 - Three actions
- 10 AM: HALT Solitary demo at Hochul's Manhattan office at 633 3rd Ave.
  - The legislation to reduce solitary confinement passed two years ago and has not been put into practice.
- 11:45 AM - 1:30 PM: Citibank climate action at Citibank HQ at 388 Greenwich St. It will be kid-friendly with music and a Mother’s Day theme. Sign up here. Endorsed by the group via vote.
- All-day (or most of day) event: The State Democratic Committee is having one of its rare meetings in Albany. The Replace Jay Jacobs movement will have a press conference. More information at the Elections meeting tomorrow at 5 PM. People who can’t afford to pay for travel will be subsidized, and $400 budget was approved for signage etc.
Monday, May 15, FOX “upfront” advertisers day

- Julie is coordinating morning and evening activities. Jonathan is making a video for an advertising truck while Media Matters is considering its own video truck.

Wednesday, May 24

- 5 PM: March to support people’s budget – keeping current level of funding for public schools, CUNY etc – while reducing NYPD and Corrections budgets. Make the Road, JFREJ, WFP, NY 4 Change, Alliance for Quality Education and other organizations participating.
- RAR voted to endorse.

- Monday, May 1: A final disruption blocking celebrities leaving Mark Hotel for Met Gala. Paris Hilton was caught in our web. About an hour and a half disruption. Lock boxes were used and some people were sawed free. 15 were arrested. Unfortunately, six phones were stolen from jail support during the action.
