

Wise Womb Medicine Path™ Apprenticeship Application

ARE YOU READY TO EVOLVE? _____

If you wrote HELL YES then keep going... If you aren't ready... then save this for another time...

Full Name _____

How did you hear about this program?

What is your experience around working with women?

What do you do for a living?

How comfortable are you in a group environment?

Do you know what resistance is?

How does it express itself in your life?

Do you have any issue with taking FULL responsibility for your experiences in the world?

Have you experienced any major traumas in your life? If so, please elaborate.

Do you have tools to manage the emotional repercussions of those traumas? If they arise in the class environment will you be able to take care of your needs, or ask for help if needed?

Do you find your mind sometimes gets in the way of understanding or interpreting information?

What are your greatest perceived gifts?

What are your greatest perceived weaknesses?

Have you been held in a sacred circle of women devoted to doing their work and sharing their hearts?

Does that bring up anything for you?

Share with me, relevant to the healing arts, some of your education and experience working with clients, personal growth and working with women.

Is there anything in your life preventing you from being able to fully engage in this program?

Sometimes in this work, we are shown ourselves, especially parts we don't love like or even acknowledge. Can you remember reading this when those edges show themselves to you? And remember that in this space together, we meet those edges with curiosity... rather than projection... And if those areas are met with resistance or projection... you may be challenged to take a deeper look... Are you ok with that?

Something important to me is that students understand this is an apprenticeship yes with me, but mostly a commitment to themselves, and spirit. I am just the space holder, the facilitator. Spirit moves through me to support you on your path in your own personal healing journey and through this journey your skill set as a healer is revealed.

The process of apprenticeship is more about your embodiment and personal healing and less about becoming trained... That is just the side note. Rather the most important part of this work is that you are here for YOU, that you desire to be held in this field that we co-create together. And yes, I offer levels throughout the years to deepen and be held, and yet, it is still more about your journey and supporting you than being a training. (although it is)

The apprenticeship is an experience to support you in dropping in fully, to learn ancient practices to support your embodiment and personal evolution. We go deep together, we build a collective, a community... Are you ready?

Are you still a HELL YES?

Then keep reading... Here is a list of basic guidelines we as a sisterhood and collective follow.

Consecration. I offer up my efforts in this group to the Highest Consciousness. I ask the higher forces to guide and support me.

To be in Service. I am committed to be in service to Highest Consciousness, Personal Growth and Love. This includes being in service to the group process, and honoring my own needs.

Personal Practice. I choose a path of consciousness. I am committed to applying what I learn on myself by practicing self-care and self-love throughout the program.

Direct Communication. I use clear and honest communication with open listening, heart-felt responses, loving acceptance and straightforwardness. I talk to people rather than about them. In public and in private I do not malign or demean others. If I have a problem or issue I understand it is my responsibility to speak directly to an assistant or teacher and I agree to look at my stuff, my projections and my resistances as learning opportunities.

Cooperation. I clearly communicate my decisions to others who may be affected by them, and consider their views respectfully. I recognize that others may make decisions, which affect me, and I respect the care and integrity they have put into their decision-making process.

Group Commitment. I recognize that I am part of a group, that each person is a reflection and a teacher and that we are all here to learn and grow. I honor each individual role in this constellation. I understand that any decision or action I make can affect the whole group.

Self-Empowerment. I take responsibility for my own journey of empowerment and transformation. If I wish to ask for support in my empowerment process or healing, I do so: asking the teachers or assistants clearly for support. I also remember to ask Spirit to support my empowerment and transformation.

Making Boundaries. I take responsibility for knowing my own needs and boundaries at all times. I am able to express my needs and boundaries when appropriate, and will so do. I will choose if any activity is not appropriate for me to join in, and find a way to sit out without disrupting the group process.

Confidentiality. I understand that some of the content of such a program can be very sensitive, and I agree to hold full confidentiality of anything that happens.

Asking for help. I acknowledge my own humanity and limitations, and thus if I find I am struggling in any way, I ask immediately for help.

Reflection. I recognize that anything I see outside myself – any criticisms, irritations or appreciations – may also be reflections of what is inside me.
