

Amanda Moore Price

March 24 at 10:44 AM · 🌐

In yet another example highlighting that public safety (and the lives of Alaskans) is NOT a priority of this governor, DPS experts provided strong caution on moving forward with this plan, citing research that this could lead to additional road fatalities and citing the myriad reasons why. DPS provided mitigating steps in how to safely achieve this, since it was clearly the governors priority. The response? Don't care, make it happen. All documented of course.

